Who's Who in OLLI?

If you have a question, comment or idea, do you know whom you should contact? We often tell you that OLLI runs on volunteer power – do you know the volunteer leaders who power the OLLI engine?

As you probably DO know, OLLI has a statewide leadership structure and regional leaders.

The following are new or returning leaders of the primary committees for Fiscal Year 2027. Their email contact information is found in the Addendum on the last page of Outlook. Every one of them would be thrilled to hear from you.

Leadership Council

Cochairs: Linda Anderson and Su Bennett
Secretary: John Russell

Capital Region

Central Committee Chair: Jean Russell
Curriculum Committee Chair: Donna Frost

Greater Manchester

Central Committee Chair: Steve Spain
Curriculum Committee Chair: Jim Higgins

Mt. Washington Valley

Central Committee Chair: Cindy Graham
Curriculum Committee Cochairs: Bob Muzerall and Diane Rozek

Seacoast

Central Committee Cochairs: Lynne Brosch and Martha Walsh
Curriculum Committee Chair: John Russell

Volunteer leaders work alongside the OLLI Admin Team for the benefit of OLLI members and presenters. Each of these committees includes active volunteers and, of course, OLLI volunteers work in many capacities in addition to committee work.

Director's Notes

Reaching Out and Engaging With You

Submitted by Toniann Leavitt, Program Director

Note: Underlined blue words or phrases are clickable links.

Summer is in full swing, and I hope you've been enjoying the wonderful courses, special events and opportunities to connect with fellow members over the past few weeks. Whether you've joined us online or in person, thank you for making OLLI at UNH such a vibrant community throughout the year. While you're enjoying summer, our staff and volunteers have been hard at work preparing for an exciting fall semester.

Our Fall 2026 Course Catalog is officially at the printer and is expected to be mailed shortly after the Fourth of July holiday. Be sure to keep an eye on your mailbox! This semester, you'll notice that courses are organized by location, making it even easier to find offerings in your preferred learning region while exploring opportunities across the state.

August also marks the beginning of membership renewals for many of our members. If your membership is due for renewal before fall registration, you'll receive a reminder notice in advance. If you're ever unsure about your renewal date, simply give our office a call—we're always happy to help.

You'll also notice one important change this year. We now have one unified OLLI at UNH membership serving our entire statewide community. During renewal, you'll be asked which learning region you'd like to affiliate with so we can keep you informed about local courses, events and opportunities that are most relevant to you. Of course, your membership continues to give you access to courses and activities across all of our regions.

I also hope you'll join us during the week of July 20 for our annual Course Preview and Open House events. These gatherings are a wonderful opportunity to meet presenters, get a preview of many of this fall's courses, reconnect with friends you may not have seen since spring and enjoy some light refreshments. If you need to renew your membership, we'll be happy to help you there—and if you know someone who has been thinking about joining OLLI, this is the perfect event to bring a friend and introduce them to our community.

Thank you for being part of OLLI at UNH. I look forward to seeing many of you at our summer events and welcoming everyone back for another semester filled with curiosity, connection and lifelong learning. Enjoy the rest of your summer!

Toniann Leavitt
Director, OLLI at UNH

Fall Term Catalog Updates

The first update is look for your Fall catalog to be in your mailbox in the second or third week of July.

The second update is, believe it or not, we already have a date change! So, when you get your catalog and start planning your semester, please note that Becoming Wolf: Eastern Coyotes in New England and Coexistence is rescheduled to 11/4.

Summer Term Updates

Aren't we happy that winter's over and we don't have to worry about weather cancellations? And then that pesky New England weather controller said, "Ha! Plan away, fools!"

So our first Summer Term date change is for the Historic Strawberry Banke Landscape Tour, scheduled for July 2, is now rescheduled to July 9.

A Resounding Finish to OLLI's Spring Term

A hallmark of OLLI's learning philosophy is variety. To be sure, history, politics and current events programs dominate the curriculum at 39 courses accounting for 40% of the enrollments in the Spring Term. The other 100+ courses touch on topics lighthearted to deep, topics to make you laugh or cry, topics about which you didn't even know you were curious. Here are the short . . . and long stories of some of the last classes of the term.

Below, the room was dark, but the spirits bright as John Peterman brought "Joni Mitchell: Observer of Friends, Lovers & Us" first to Manchester and then to the Seacoast.

Above and right, two sections of the popular tour of Alnoba, the renowned outdoor art collection which inspires, challenges and connects visitors with the natural world. Curated by the Lewis family, the Kingston collection features powerful sculptures exploring themes of sustainability, social justice and transformation.

A packed house listened with rapt attention to Sarah Finlayson share her transgender journey.

Left and below, it may not look like they're having fun, concentrating as hard as they are, but members from several learning regions were learning how to turn long skinny pieces of colored paper into flowers and turn them into more intricate projects coming up in the second session. Presenter Iris Altilio brought out all the fun and creativity quilling has to offer.

Touching History

Childhood memories -- we were all glued to our television sets from Alan Shepard's first manned space flight to the tense hours wondering if the Apollo 13 astronauts were coming home safely . . . and beyond on both sides of that timeline (remember the first dog in space?).

Television brought us so close to those space adventures that we sometimes felt like we were there. But in June OLLI members were treated to an even closer look as Patrick Mullen and Florence Reed shared their firsthand knowledge and experiences as part of the Apollo Mission Control family.

Florence, married for 50 years to David Reed, told of him at age 12 taking his allowance to the store to buy potassium nitrate, charcoal and sulfur (i.e. components of gunpowder) and using it to launch the rocket he built. Ever precocious, at age 27 he was the Flight Dynamics Officer for the first moon walk, the person responsible for trajectory planning and adjustments for the Apollo missions.

His youth was part of the strategy as NASA geared up to propel the moon program. Chris Kraft, the first NASA flight director chose to hire "newbies" resulting in the average age of the Mission Control staff at 28 years old. That team eventually received the Presidential Medal of Freedom for their critical role in bringing Apollo 13 safely home.

Larger than life to us, the astronauts were simply human beings – husbands and fathers. Florence related this example. Astronauts were often called away from their daily work to meet dignitaries and celebrities who visited NASA. During an Apollo 9 crew simulator exercise a celebrity visited the simulation console to say hello to the astronauts. Rusty Schweickart (below right) returned his attention to work and suddenly ran out of the console after the departing celebrity. Why? "Well, I forgot to get his autograph, and my kids will never forgive me!" Whose autograph? Captain Kirk! (below left)

Course evaluations documented OLLI members' enjoyment of the course with one saying about the presenters, "Both were down-to-earth storytellers of amazing American history. Being there felt like sitting at the Thanksgiving Day dinner table listening to a favorite aunt and uncle regaling the family with stories of their younger days."

On display were numerous artifacts from Apollo missions and Mission Control. Also, front page coverage of Apollo moon missions on display courtesy of OLLI member Neil Valentino.

Class Assistant Training

OLLI runs on volunteer power! One opportunity is being a Class Assistant (CA). The CA helps in-person presenters and participants feel comfortable during OLLI classes. The CA is the friendly face of OLLI.

Often, the CA is the first person new members identify with to help them feel welcome in our learning community. Training is provided before classes begin, including information about facilities, and contact information for our support network.

We will offer online training for volunteers on July 29, at 1:00 p.m. Want to learn more? Come and see what the CA role is all about. An email invitation for the training, on Zoom, will be sent to everyone interested. Contact Tessa McDonnell (tessa.mcdonnell@unh.edu) Can't make the training? Contact Tessa and she will follow up with you.

Above, the Manchester Curriculum Committee gathered at the home of outgoing chair, Jim Mahoney, to celebrate the committee retirement of long-time member, Jane Van Zandt.

At right, Jim Mahoney raised a glass to toast Jane's service and many contributions.

Then this happened.

Jane said, "No thanks!"

"It's easy to see why a person would be reluctant to leave this group. In about 70 of my 84 years I have been part of all kinds of committees - church, diocesan, university, political, social, community, choral, travel, by-laws revision, seniors, immigration, peace, and more.

Unlike others, we listen respectfully to one another, never argue, and learn from each other if we do have a difference of opinion. We get the work done without wasting time.

Looking around the room yesterday, I realized how much you all really mean to me. Not knowing we were about to celebrate my retirement, I changed my mind!"

You saw it too, right?

Walking it Off!

Seacoast Hiking SIG

Looking back, June's hike at Vaughn Woods:

Looking forward to July's hike at the Powder Major Trails in Madbury on July 8 at 9:00 a.m. Note the time change. We are starting earlier to avoid the heat. There is no rain date for this hike.

The trails are wooded and the access is in the Tibbets Field parking area off Route 155 in Madbury. The trails and land have been conserved jointly by the towns of Durham, Lee and Madbury and the NH Forest Society. There is a view of the Oyster River on this walk, but this is a walk in the woods. It will be a 2.4 mile loop that is mostly flat with some narrow trails.

Bug spray is a must since there is a lot of grass by the path and ticks have been tough this season. For more information about this hike and others, contact Sandy O'Neill at sandy.oneill@comcast.net to be added to the email list. A separate description and directions go out to the people on this list after Outlook comes out.

Capital Region Chapter Chats

Chapter Chats has a new SIG leader. Sally Embley will coordinate the activities of OLLI's oldest SIG.

On Monday, July 27 at 1:30 p.m., the Chapter Chat book club will meet at Joyce Prowse's summer home on Lake Winnesquam. This is the third year that Joyce has graciously hosted the group in person. A Zoom connection will also be available for those who wish to participate but can't be there in person.

The subject will be David McCollough's award-winning book, Mornings on Horseback. This is the story of an extraordinary family, a vanished way of life and the unique child who became Teddy Roosevelt. At 370 pages, this biography covers less than 30 years of Roosevelt's early life, but it details his struggles to overcome childhood illness and later his determination to carry on despite devastating family tragedies.

Please contact Donna Frost (dfrost@hotmail.com) if you would like to be part of our Zoom discussion at 1:30 on Monday, July 27, or for directions to Joyce's summer home.

Chapter Chats meets on the last Monday of the month at 1:30 p.m. on Zoom. There's never a requirement to finish or even read the book before the meetings; you can simply enjoy the discussion. OLLI members everywhere are welcome to join us by Zoom.

Chair's Chat

Submitted by Linda Anderson, Cochair, Leadership Council

Linda Anderson has joined Su Bennett as cochair of the OLLI at UNH Leadership Council (LC) effective July 1, 2026. Linda and Su will share the responsibility of keeping you informed through the Chair's Chat column this year.

Hello OLLI members, happy summer! I'm Linda Anderson from the Seacoast area. I've been a member of our OLLI for five years and have served on the Seacoast Curriculum and Central Committees for most of that time. I've also represented the Seacoast on the Leadership Council since January 2025. Besides our OLLI, I belonged to OLLIs at the University of Southern Maine, Dartmouth College, and the Berkshires during the pandemic. (All OLLIs are affiliated with a college or university, and you can belong to as many OLLIs as you'd like.)

Dozens of classes later, I'm honored to be cochairing the Leadership Council with the talented Su Bennett, who is serving her third year in a chair/cochair capacity. Over the next program year, we'll be working with OLLI staff and the Leadership Council to continue to improve the learning experience for our members and the volunteer experience for members who give their time.

The OLLI year has always started on July 1, and the Leadership Council met on June 22 for a "change-over" meeting. Director Toniann Leavitt thanked outgoing LC members for their service and welcomed the new and returning group of regional representatives. She also previewed some plans for making our OLLI stronger and more sustainable for the future.

You'll notice this straightaway with the fall catalog design. The design is bright and bold. There is less emphasis on learning location and more emphasis on the learning experience. If you have feedback about the new catalog, we'd love to hear it.

And if you haven't yet attended a preview, don't even think about it. Just go! I always end up adding classes to my list after hearing presenters talk about what they plan to cover. At the very least, you'll meet some interesting people and enjoy a treat or two. It's an enjoyable morning or afternoon out and well worth the time.

It's a conscious choice to keep learning and evolving. It takes loads of time and effort. You have to be committed. OLLI provides many seeds for growth in whatever stage of life you're in. We look forward to seeing you in class this fall.

Linda Anderson
llandrynh@gmail.com

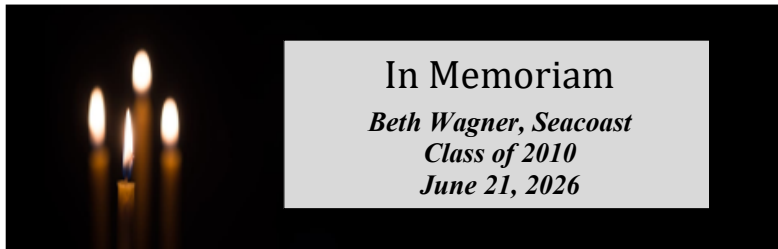

Leadership Council meetings are generally held on the Zoom platform every other month on the fourth Monday, 10:00 a.m. to noon, giving members the opportunity to observe our governance structure firsthand. The next meeting will be Monday, July 27. All members are welcome. Contact John Russell, at russelljohn@comcast.net for information or a Zoom link.

Comments from Spring Evaluations:

- The subject matter was extremely challenging to teach to simpletons like me in such a very short span of time, but somehow the presenter pulled it off.*
- Next time you teach the class, add a warning that states, "Although you will learn amazing new things in this course, when you are done, you may feel dumber."*
