Director's Notes

Reaching Out and Engaging With You

Submitted by Toniann Leavitt, Program Director

Note: All underlined blue words or phrases are clickable links.

Happy Summer!

I am thrilled to share that, thanks to the generosity and enthusiasm of our incredible members, friends, and volunteers, OLLI at UNH raised over $12,000 during this year's (603) Challenge! Your support—combined with the leadership and match gifts from our dedicated Leadership Council—truly demonstrates the power of our learning community. Every dollar raised will help us continue to offer vibrant, accessible programming across our four learning regions and online.

If you didn't have a chance to participate during the Challenge, it's not too late to support OLLI. You can still make a gift online at <https://www.unh.edu/olli/donations>.

From February through June, we've offered more than 150 courses and filled nearly 2,600 seats—a remarkable achievement made possible by the incredible dedication of our volunteer presenters,

Thank you again for being part of our dynamic community of lifelong learners. Whether you're giving, engaging, or simply staying curious, you make OLLI at UNH a special place to learn and belong.

Class Assistants, Zoom moderators, and so many others behind the scenes. Your time, energy, and talent brought our spring semester to life and created countless meaningful moments for our members. Thank you!

I'd also like to thank those of you who joined me and members of the Leadership Council for our recent virtual town halls. Your questions, insights, and suggestions made each session both thoughtful and energizing. These conversations are so important to shaping the future of OLLI, and I'm pleased to announce that we plan to offer town halls twice a year going forward. They'll be an ongoing opportunity for us to gather, connect, and hear your voices.

Finally, I'm excited to announce that OLLI at UNH will have a new official phone number starting July 1: (603) 862-6554 (OLLI). Having an official UNH phone number whose last four digits spell OLLI is another step forward in strengthening our identity and making it easier for members, prospective learners, and community partners to connect with us.

Warmly,
Toniann Leavitt, Director, OLLI at UNH

Important Reminders

- You will be asked to change your password when you log into the registration system; this will be required every 90 days.
- The OLLI office will have a new telephone number effective July 1. It is (603) 862-OLLI (6554).
- The new fee schedule is effective July 1 and will apply to the summer courses offered in July and August.

May Meanderings

A visit to Mocha Miniature Horse Farm had members grooming and frolicking with perfect 39" high horses.

Pam Langley's (below, center) Women Composers at the Piano offered history and musical treats on the piano by Joe Bullock (below left), by vocalists Chris Sand and Joe Murphy (right). Also performing were Wendy Williams Keys on viola, Louise Randle on violin and Brady Santin on oboe and English horn.

Women Composers (cont.) Pam shared the rich histories and accomplishments of twelve extremely talented women, offering marvelous revelations about women who had been composing since the early 1800's up to current Grammy Award winners. Early composers were often hidden away, relegated to pursue their art as a "pastime" and not as serious musicians. However, some broke the rules and gained world-wide recognition.

Also on the Seacoast, John Russell guided a tour of Odiorne Park.

Presenter Suzanne Petersen (below) took members on a "Virtual Road Trip to Nova Scotia" on the Seacoast.

More May Meanderings

Isabel Burley of Black Forest Nursery explained “Thrillers,” tall plants designed to make a splash, “Spillers,” flowers that spill over the side of the pot to expand the composition and “Fillers,” the flowers that take up the empty space in the planter. Below are sample class projects.

Fly angling on the lawn in Mt. Washington Valley got several fishermen ready for the season.

Munch Bunch at Cheese Louise in “The Valley” (above).

Seacoast Lunch Tour at Fogarty’s Restaurant in South Berwick, Maine (below) where attendee, Dan Fogarty, regaled the group with stories from his mother’s founding of the restaurant in 1960 as a take-out ice cream stand to his father’s addition of take-out hot dogs and fried seafood to the ultimate ownership of the popular family restaurant by nephew Larry Fogarty.

The OLLI table at the UNH Age of Champions event, manned by Sandy O’Neill and Janet Glazier, (above) was a popular stop.

Alnoba Art Tour

Alnoba has a renowned art collection which was created to inspire, delight, challenge and provoke. The art collection at Alnoba, part of the private collection of the Lewis Family, was designed as a place for everyone to approach art, be outdoors and enjoy the beauty and majesty of nature.

Submitted by Mary Davies

Meetings are usually held the last Monday of the month at 1:30 p.m. via Zoom. To receive the Zoom link contact Donna Frost at dfrost49@hotmail.com.

The June 30 book for Chapter Chats is The Only Woman in the Room by Marie Benedict. Based on the true story of movie star Hedy Lamar, it traces her life from being the wife of a powerful Austrian arms dealer to her escape from this controlling husband to her Hollywood career. Not well known is Lamar's part in a ground-breaking invention of a radio guidance system for torpedoes.

The July selection is The Frozen River by Ariel Lawthorn.

There's no requirement to finish or even read the book before the meetings. Readers residing anywhere are welcome to join us by Zoom on Monday, June 30 starting at 1:30 p.m. Try us out!

Manchester Book Club

Fresh Reads - Seacoast

Submitted by John Russell

The June Fresh Reads selection is The Showman: Inside the Invasion That Shook the World and Made a Leader of Volodymyr Zelensky by Simon Shuster. It chronicles Zelensky's life and leadership from the dressing rooms of his variety shows to the muddy trenches of Ukraine's war with Russia. Based on four years of reporting, extensive travels with President Zelensky to the front, and dozens of interviews with him, his wife, friends, enemies, advisers, ministers and military commanders, Shuster tells the intimate and revealing story of the president's evolution from a slapstick actor to a symbol of resilience.

In their most candid accounts of the war so far, members of Zelensky's inner circle show how the president's character changed under the strains of leadership and the horrors he witnessed each day. Reflecting on their own regrets and critical decisions, Zelensky and his senior aides open up about the causes of the Russian invasion and how it may have been avoided. They describe with astonishing frankness how their peace talks with Vladimir Putin fell apart and how their faith in the U.S. faltered, both under Donald Trump and Joe Biden.

The Showman provides an inside account of Zelensky's life amid the invasion, offering a clear-eyed view of his failures to prepare for it and his willingness to silence dissent under martial law. What emerges is a complex picture of a man struggling to break what he sees as a historical cycle of oppression that began generations before he was born. Even as the war drags on, Zelensky lays out his vision for its future course and, through his actions, demonstrates his strategy for countering the Russians and keeping the West on his side.

We will meet Tuesday, June 17 (note this is a different day than usual) at 1:30 via Zoom. Contact John Russell at russelljohnt@comcast.net to receive a Zoom invitation.

SIG-Bits*

*These are tidbits your SIG (Shared Interest Group) leaders want you to know.

(contact information on the following pages)

You know our SIGs as "Special Interest Groups."

While they do cover our special interests, OLLI has chosen a name change, "Shared Interest Groups." We continue to explore and enjoy interests that are special to us, but the new terminology should help our members feel welcome and included.

OLLI members share so many interests, from hiking to artificial intelligence, from creative writing to ice cream. Find yours and try out any of the Shared Interest Groups outlined on the next pages.

SIG News

Running Screaming into Summer

I-Screaming, that is . . . Ice Creaming, that is!

Three learning regions are running into summer fueled by ice cream.

Capital Region (CR) Ice Cream SIG

Capital Region's most devoted ice cream fans have volunteered to cochair CR's newest SIG. Alexandria Arnold and Jacki Fogarty called an initial meeting to test member interest and it attracted 18 to Beech Hill Farm for licks and kicks.

With the blessing of those in attendance, a flexible nearly-weekly schedule is under development beginning on Tuesday, June 3, 1:30 p.m. at Chucksters in Chichester and the following week on Thursday, June 12, 1:30 p.m. at the Social Club Creamery in Concord. For the rest of June, we will meet on Friday, June 20 and Monday, June 23 with locations to be determined.

The icing on the cake or cherry on the sundae is that all members in attendance at any meeting of the SIG can complete a short form with their name and ice cream flavor for the day. All the attendance forms will be gathered and, at the last meeting of the season, drawings will be held for prizes including (what else?!?) ice cream gift certificates and passes to Bedford Gardens. The more you attend, the better your chances at winning!

And why the ice cream flavor? Why, to crown the MVF (Most Valued Flavor) of course!

Members interested in participating should email Jacki Fogarty at JGFogarty228@aol.com to be added to the mailing list.

Tour the Seacoast Invites You to "Tour" Three Yummy Ice Cream Spots

- First up is beloved Lago's in Rye, 71 Lafayette Road in Rye, 2:00 p.m., Tuesday, June 17.
- Our second stop is Hodgies Too of Stratham, 95 Portsmouth Avenue in Stratham, 2:00 p.m. Wednesday, July 16.
- Last is Cowlicks in Dover, 4 Dover Point Road, Dover, 2:00 p.m. Thursday, August 14.

No RSVP is needed. All OLLI members are welcome, along with a guest, so just meet us for these self-pay gatherings.

SIG News – Hiking & Walking

Seacoast Walking/Hiking SIG

Submitted by Sandy O'Neill

The June hike will be at the Samuel A. Tamposi Water Supply Reserve (SATWaSR) in Barrington on Monday, June 16 at 10:00 a.m. This is a large conservation area of about 1500 acres with multiple trails of varying lengths. The aim for this group will be to hike a 2½ - 3 mile loop.

SATWaSR (click for more information) has an interesting history and contains a variety of flora and fauna. It also has wet areas so wearing appropriate footwear is essential. The highest elevation in the area is 321 feet so there isn't much climbing involved on this hike.

The area is wooded and contains some specimens that are featured in the Large Trees of NH book. There is also a habitat for rabbits that was created to bring back a particular species of rabbit.

If this sounds like a hike you would be interested in, contact Sandy O'Neill at sandy_oneill@comcast.net. Those hikers already on the hiking email list will receive an email with more details about the hike. The email list is important; last minute communication will go out to that list if there are any changes to the itinerary or trail conditions.

In May . . .

The May hike was at Northwood Meadows on one of the few sunny days in the month.

Mt. Washington Valley Hiking

MWV members chose not to get their snowshoes out of storage and, instead, enjoyed two hikes in May complete with canines.

Echo Lake State Park

and Saco River

Concord Area Healthy Walkers

The first May walk at the Jim Hill Riverwalk in Concord proved to be buggy, but sunny, pleasant and fun.

The second walk at Head's Pond in Hooksett featured the usual fun of getting out and enjoying nature, but Head's Pond offered some special nature.

Timing was perfect to enjoy the abundant lady slippers, the official state wildflower of NH. (Before you send me emails, the lilac is the official state flower, but in 1991, the state wildflower was anointed.)

For information about June walks contact Ray Mercier at mercier.raymond@gmail.com or call (603) 831-3083.

Co-Chair's Chat

Submitted by Bob Muzerall, Co-Chair

This is the last Co-chair's Chat I will author. I've been on the Leadership Council at OLLI for four years. I've been a region representative, the vice chair, the chair, and am finishing my time as co-chair. For this upcoming year I will be past chair. As such, I'd like to share some thoughts I have on my tenure as a volunteer.

I've always volunteered in some capacity, regardless of whatever I was doing for work. My volunteer experiences have been with the United Way, various Chambers of Commerce groups, Habitat for Humanity, several health-related groups, such as the Muscular Sclerosis Foundation and the Heart Association. And now, of course, OLLI. This begs the question. Why do I continue to be a volunteer? The work is often difficult. I don't get paid for it.

So, why do I do it?

To some extent it comes down to a bargain I make with myself. I do these things because they make me feel good. I love to interact with professional, dedicated people. I get energy from working with them. And I finish each day with the feeling that I've done something for others.

I think it comes down to a thirst for happiness. Life is about experiences. It's about learning new things and meeting new people, it's about challenging oneself to listen to others and perhaps change one's opinions. It's about throwing oneself into a

New experience. The more I volunteer, the more I love life. I am now 77 years old. I don't have 77 more years to figure this out. I want to live my life to the fullest for this last phase of my life.

We all have challenges. We all have duties. We all have unique situations we must accept. My approach to these is to throw myself into new things. I get more out of my volunteer work than I put into it. Yes, that's the key. To get more out of life.

As I close, I ask you, what are you doing to live a more interesting life? Are you pushing yourself to experience new things? I suggest you sit down and make a commitment to do more with your time. Live life to the fullest.

Leadership Council meetings are generally held on the Zoom platform on the fourth Monday of the month from 10:00 a.m. to noon, giving members the opportunity to observe our governance structure firsthand. The next meeting will be Monday, June 23. All members are welcome. Contact John Russell, at russelljohnnt@comcast.net for information or a Zoom link.

This year's focus will be on The Old Curiosity Shop by Charles Dickens, a novel full of interesting scenes, themes, and curiosities, its picaresque roots make it an adventure story as well as an allegory of moral journey; its interest in the urban landscape, its pleasure and dangers, suggest Dickens's social concerns.
