Director's Notes

Reaching Out and Engaging With You

Submitted by Toniann Leavitt, Program Director

Note: All underlined blue words or phrases are clickable links.

Autumn has arrived! As I celebrate my third year with all of you at OLLI and continue to explore the beauty of our state with my family, I am filled with gratitude for the wonderful activities we share. It's incredible to see how far we've come in just three years. Back in 2022, we had 920 members, and today, we've grown to 1,008! I am thrilled to see our lifelong learning community expand and welcome new members.

September was an incredibly busy month for us! We offered 60 courses, and our four curriculum committees have been hard at work gathering course proposals for the Spring 2025 semester. Proposals are due by October 4 at 12:00 p.m. If you'd like to submit a course proposal, you can do so by clicking here. For any questions or help with the forms, please reach out to our Program Manager, Tori Berube, at tori.berube@unh.edu.

You've likely seen my emails celebrating OLLI's 20th anniversary, and I hope you're enjoying them! We're sharing 20 fun facts and tidbits about the Osher Network and our learning community—perfect for learning something new, as we always do at OLLI! Be sure to keep an eye on those emails, because at the end, there will be a quiz. Everyone who answers all the questions correctly will be entered into a drawing for a free course in the Spring 2025 semester! I know, I know . . . quizzes aren't very "OLLI-like," but it will be fun!

Last month, I mentioned we'd be releasing a special 20th Anniversary edition of Outlook, which we initially thought would replace our October newsletter.

However, after reviewing your responses to the communications survey, we learned just how much you value the information in Outlook—especially the course updates, calendar details, and the Director's Notes (thank you for that!). So, we've decided to publish our regular Outlook in addition to the special anniversary edition. Keep an eye on your mailbox for the 20th Anniversary in which our volunteers have worked very hard to share the wonderful history of our learning community and how we got to where we are today!

I'd like to take a moment to once again emphasize the importance of volunteerism within our learning community. Our Leadership Council and regional committees are hard at work creating meaningful opportunities — both one-time and ongoing — that allow all members to give back to OLLI at UNH. Our program truly "Runs on Volunteer Power," and we are dedicated to upholding Mr. Osher's vision of OLLI being shaped by the wants and needs of its members. By sharing your time and talents with the OLLI community, you not only connect with like-minded individuals but also enrich the lives of others in our lifelong learning community — and perhaps even transform your own. To learn more about how you can get involved today, please reach out at OLLI.office@unh.edu or (603) 255-3553!

Wishing you all a wonderful holiday season with your loved ones. I look forward to seeing you all in the Spring semester!

Warm regards,
Toniann

Tour the Seacoast Region

Submitted by Pat Nicolino, Class of 2015

Wednesday, October 16 – Noon

The Rail at La Stazione

400 High Street, Somersworth

This new restaurant is the dream-come-to-life of a man who grew up in the family construction business but always wanted to create what he considered the best kind of place: serving good food, the joy of trying new things, friendly and knowledgeable service and a room just the right size. Choose your entree and then sit back and relax as appetizers are brought to each table and the owner joins us to talk about the adventure – and reality – of creating your dream when you know more about carpentry than cooking ten different things at the same time. Joe Pelich took the gamble and he created something very good indeed. He is offering OLLI the whole 48-seat restaurant so come and enjoy this unique opportunity! We will block out tables based on RSVPs so please put this one on your calendar and book it!

Magic in the Classroom

Submitted by Iris Altilio, Class of 2015

OLLI classes started 44 days ago and September has come to an end. The first class, Zoom 101 Introduction to Zoom: Personal Computers (PC), Laptops, Notebooks, ran on August 21. Since then, 62 classes, with a total of over 1000 registrations, have started meeting with classes held on 24 separate days. And the evaluations are pouring in with favorable reviews.

We almost always seem to wait until the end of the term to say thank you to everyone who makes the OLLI term such a great success. Why wait? Let's do it now!

Whom to thank and in what order? What a dilemma? Everyone plays an important role.

Let's start with the 62 presenters who have already started their classes, and all the other presenters scheduled for the rest of the term. You may not be aware that all of our presenters are volunteers. They give their time to prepare and deliver OLLI at UNH classes. Do we even realize the effort they put into preparation? And they keep coming back because you so appreciate them. They deserve a huge Thank You.

We wouldn't have presenters without the hard work of our four curriculum committees who are already at work recruiting presenters for the Spring 2025 term. Our curriculum committees can use help. If you enjoy OLLI classes, and looking at the names that keep appearing on rosters, you certainly do, consider joining your curriculum committee. Thanks, curriculum committee members!

Where do the class assistants get the information to contact the presenter and send you reminders? We have a two person "Roster Team" that is busy every day of the OLLI term preparing rosters and attendance sheets. Thank you, Roster Team.

Did you know that each region has volunteer class assistant coordinators? They work to find class assistants for courses, answer questions and support class assistants and often step in to fill the gap. Most have been doing this for several years, and it's not an easy job. Thank you, Class Assistant Coordinators.

Your class assistants play a very important role in your classroom experience. They are the liaison between you and the presenter, the friendly face in the classroom. Members rely upon the reminders and the additional information sent by the class assistant so they show up at the right time, wear the right clothing (don't show up at a factory in sandals instead of closed-toe shoes) and, who knows, avoid forgetting about a class. Class assistants are class members; they enroll in the class just like you do, but they take on responsibility to ensure the best possible class experience.

How about you? You're going to be in the class anyway. Please consider signing up to volunteer as a class assistant.

Let's give a big thank you to the 44 class assistants who supported the first 62 classes, to those signed up for the rest of the term and to those we hope will sign up. And, by the way, Zoom classes don't have class assistants; they have moderators with similar responsibilities; thank you to the moderators too.

None of this could happen though without our OLLI staff. I can't possibly list everything they do, but think about this. While OLLI at UNH is a volunteer-driven organization, we couldn't have OLLI at UNH without staff. There'd be no catalog, no registration system, no classrooms, no one to answer our myriad of questions and no classes. Thank you OLLI staff!

There are so many other volunteers that contribute to assure you have a great OLLI experience, Leadership committees, fundraisers, Special Interest Group Leaders, trip planners, but that's for another time. So today, let's say THANK YOU to OLLI at UNH volunteers and staff who make the magic in the classroom happen.

What Do Quilters Do With Their Summer Vacation?

Below, Eileen Kelly

A New SIG Comes to the Capital Region and YOU Have an Opportunity to Craft It

A survey last Spring informed us that you want a crafts SIG and Iris Altilio has volunteered to lead it. What will it look like? How will it run?

- Group work on one project (e.g., knitting/crocheting an afghan) or come together while working on your own individual projects?
- Group work on a single skill (e.g., origami, watercolor painting) with guidance from a group member?
- Pick a theme (e.g., turtles) and everybody work on a single project or individual projects on that theme?
- Pick something different at each meeting to work on the following meeting.

If you're interested in being a part of the formation of a crafting SIG please email Iris Altilio at itandeitnick@gmail.com. If there's enough interest we'll select a date, meet at the City Wide Community Center in Concord, brainstorm and come up with what we want to do.

Seacoast Hiking/Walking SIG Returns this Month

After a hiatus from walks, the Seacoast Hiking/Walking SIG is back in business! The leader might be walking a little slower, but she's glad to be getting out in the woods!

The first hike is a return to Stonehouse Pond in Barrington on Wednesday, October 16 at 10:00 a.m. Any interested hikers will meet at the Stonehouse Pond parking lot on the SELT property in Barrington. stonehouseforest-trail-guide-mobile.pdf\(seltnh.org\)) This parking lot is well marked as the Stonehouse Pond lot off Route 9 in Barrington. If you are coming from the southern end of Route 9 the parking lot is the second SELT parking lot on the left and it is marked Stonehouse Pond.

If you are not on the email list, please contact Sandy O'Neill at sandy_oneill@comcast.net to be added. An email always goes out before the hikes to let you know about trail conditions and any other pertinent information. That email will also request an RSVP for those who will be attending the hike. Future hikes will take place on the third Wednesday of the month at 10:00 a.m. (November 20 and December 18).

Looking forward to catching up with past hikers and meeting some new ones!

Fresh Reads - Seacoast

Submitted by John Russell, Class of 2014

October's Fresh Reads selection is The Sixth Extinction: An Unnatural History by Elizabeth Kolbert. This major book about the future of the world blends intellectual and natural history and field reporting into a powerful account of the mass extinction unfolding before our eyes.

Over the last half-billion years, there have been five mass extinctions, when the diversity of life on earth suddenly and dramatically contracted. Scientists around the world are currently monitoring the sixth extinction, predicted to be the most devastating extinction event since the asteroid impact that wiped out the dinosaurs. This time around, the cataclysm is us.

In prose that is at once frank, entertaining and deeply informed, New Yorker writer Elizabeth Kolbert tells us why and how human beings have altered life on the planet in a way no species has before. Interweaving research in half a dozen disciplines, descriptions of the fascinating species that have already been lost, and the history of extinction as a concept, Kolbert provides a moving and comprehensive account of the disappearances occurring before our very eyes. She shows that the sixth extinction is likely to be mankind's most lasting legacy, compelling us to rethink the fundamental question of what it means to be human.

Join us on Monday, October 21 at 1:30 p.m. for what promises to be an interesting discussion. Contact John Russell at russelljohnt@comcast.net for a Zoom invitation.

Co-Chair's Chat

Submitted by Bob Muzerall, Class of 2018

The summer heat has given way to a cool fall. The leaves have begun to turn. To me, it's a sense of relief from the heat and a time to look forward to ski season. I'm not alone in loving this time of year.

For our OLLI, it's the kickoff for our Fall Semester. I've been to several courses and I have several more in the near future. Along with the courses, I'll continue with a few SIG groups. I bowl (candlepin), I go out to lunch (the Munch Bunch) and I snowshoe (Hiking and Snowshoe group).

I've noticed during my years as an OLLI volunteer that we gain proportionately to how much we participate. If we take one or two courses, we get pleasure. We learn; we meet new people. But, when we participate even more, we gain more. That's a secret that active volunteers need to share.

We volunteer because it brings us more connection, it makes us more aware of our area, it increases our sense of belonging. It just makes life a bit more interesting.

I urge you to take full advantage of our OLLI at UNH. Contact any volunteer and ask to help. There are many ways to participate. You will not be disappointed.

Leadership Council meetings are generally held on the Zoom platform on the fourth Monday of the month from 10:00 a.m. to noon, giving members the opportunity to observe our governance structure firsthand. The next meeting will be Monday, October 28. All members are welcome. Contact John Russell, at russelljohnnt@comcast.net for information or a Zoom link.

Capital Region Book Exchange

Submitted by Peg Fargo, Class of 2005

*Bring a book, take a book,
Join your friends to take a look.
Don't have to cook, you're not on the hook,
Just talk about your favorite book.*

*Take a book, you're not a crook,
Do you have a reading nook?
Leaving soon, what book you took?
Take a bunch, we won't be shook.*

Does anyone have Writing Poetry for Dummies? I might be interested – or for the good of humanity, I should just resist poetry completely. In the interest of full disclosure, I, the editor, am responsible for the rhymes. Peg Fargo is responsible for the following article.

Fall has fallen and by November we'll be thinking about the impending cold winter. Is there anything better than curling up with a mug of hot chocolate and a good book?

Capital Region Central Committee and Chapter Chats Book Club welcome all book lovers to a Book Exchange on Friday, November 8, 10:00 a.m. to 12:00 noon.

Trade in books you've read and pick up new titles. While you're there, talk about your favorites, what books had special meaning to you or even influenced some aspect of your life.

See what treasures you can find -- maybe a memoir, a graphic novel, fiction, fantasy, contemporary nonfiction or even a new cookbook. As we describe the books we loved, maybe you'll be tempted to try a different genre or an author you haven't yet discovered.

Don't have any books to spare right now? Come anyway and take some home; we always have more than we can use and, in fact, usually donate leftover books. Mark your calendar for Friday, November 8. Books, light refreshments, good discussions and it's all free. We'll be at City Wide Community Center, 14 Canterbury Road, Concord.
