Director's Notes

Reaching Out and Engaging With You

Submitted by Toniann Leavitt, Program Director

Note: All underlined blue words or phrases are clickable links.

Welcome back! There is nothing quite like the energy of a new semester at OLLI at UNH. Classrooms are buzzing, Zoom rooms are filling, friendships are reconnecting, and new conversations are beginning. It truly is one of my favorite times of the year.

We are proud to share that we currently have over 850 active members in our learning community — and that number continues to grow. To our returning members: thank you for your continued curiosity and engagement. To our new members: welcome! We are so glad you are here. You are now part of a vibrant, statewide community built on lifelong learning, connection, and shared discovery.

Our first week of registration was nothing short of remarkable. Together, you filled nearly 2,600 seats in courses offered both in person and online. That momentum speaks volumes about the strength of this community and the value you place on learning.

I want to extend a heartfelt thank you to our presenters. Many have graciously offered additional sections or expanded their course capacities to ensure more members could participate. Their generosity of time and talent is what makes OLLI so special. Our volunteer presenters are at the heart of our success, and we are deeply grateful for their flexibility and dedication.

While many courses filled quickly, we still have space in some classes. If you know someone who might enjoy OLLI, consider inviting them as a guest to try a course. It's a wonderful way to introduce friends to our community. Just be sure to call the OLLI office in advance so we can assist you with the details.

Looking ahead, we are preparing for the 603 Challenge in early April — the University of New Hampshire's annual giving event. This is an exciting opportunity to come together and support the future of OLLI at UNH. Gifts of all sizes make an impact, helping us sustain programming, expand access, and continue building a thriving learning community across the state. Keep an eye out for more information on how you can participate and help amplify OLLI's impact.

As we begin this semester, I am reminded of our shared spirit. Thank you for being part of this extraordinary community. Your enthusiasm, generosity, and commitment to lifelong learning are what make OLLI at UNH such a vibrant place.

Here's to a wonderful semester ahead — full of ideas, connection, and continued curiosity.

Warmly,
Toniann Leavitt
Director, OLLI at UNH

If you need to make changes in an enrollment or to contact the OLLI office for any other reason, please note the office number does not accept texts. Please communicate with the office only by calling or emailing.

Theater Makes Magic Happen . . . In Class and In Real Life

Submitted by Pat Nicolino

As too many snowstorms capture our attention, let's focus on Spring and engaging opportunities to get out and enjoy our great state. We have an exciting two-part offering for OLLI members across the region in May.

For the "in class" part of the offering, on May 7 in Portsmouth, we have the course, Watch the Stage Come to Life, a two-hour class with Margherita Giacobbi, Executive Director of Players Ring Theater in Portsmouth.

Registered participants will get the script before the course for The Children, a fascinating play that features characters our age forced into a very real moral/ethical dilemma. The script can be used in any theater anywhere in the world - and the experience can be quite different for each audience. How will The Players Ring infuse it with their special brand of insight? How does the cast, director and stage crew create a unique version for us here in New England? Register for class today and discuss how that will happen right here in New Hampshire this spring.

For the "real life" part of the offering, we have reserved a block of tickets for OLLI members to see The Children together on Sunday, May 17 at the 2:30 p.m. matinee. OLLI members do not have to take the course to take advantage of this special "Tour the Seacoast" event, and it is open to OLLI members statewide!

As part of this special event, we will meet with the play's director, actors and crew afterwards to discuss what we saw, ask how the main characters developed their own roles, maybe talk about the dilemma itself. "What would you do?" is a question that lingers. A special champagne and high tea service will add to the afternoon's enjoyment!

OLLI members may purchase a discounted ticket for $25 here or by calling (603) 862-6554. We welcome you to purchase tickets for your friends and family also by calling (603) 862-6554 (online registration for friends and family is not available at this time).

Blood Drive!

The University of New Hampshire at Manchester and the American Red Cross are hosting an upcoming blood drive on campus on March 12.

Give blood for a $15 Amazon gift card PLUS successful donations will receive free A1C testing. The drive is open to the public as well, so please forward to those who might be interested!

NOTE: There are two appointment types available: regular blood donation or a power red donation Learn more about Power Red donations. Click here for donation eligibility for each (there is no upper age limit).

The need for blood is constant and only volunteer donors can fulfill that need for patients in our community. Nationwide, someone needs a unit of blood every 2 to 3 seconds and most of us will need blood in our lifetime.

Capital Region Chapter Chats

Submitted by Donna Frost

On March 30 we will discuss The Berry Pickers by Amanda Peters, a moving debut novel about a 4-year-old Mi'kmaq girl named Ruthie who disappears from a Maine blueberry field. The story explores the devastating, lifelong impact on her family—particularly her brother Joe—and the mystery of her new life as Norma, a girl raised by a wealthy white family in Maine.

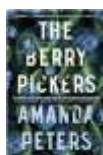

Book selections for the next three months are:

April 27 - The Backyard Bird Chronicles by Amy Tan.

June 1 (May meeting rescheduled due to Memorial Day) - Moloka'i by Alan Brennert. (Carol Barleon, discussion leader)

June 29 - Horse by Geraldine Brooks. (Sally Embly, discussion leader)

Chapter Chats generally meets on the last Monday of the month at 1:30 p.m. on Zoom. There's never a requirement to finish or even read the book before the meetings; you can simply enjoy the discussion. OLLI members everywhere are welcome to join us by Zoom. Contact Donna Frost at dfrost49@hotmail.com for a Zoom link.

The March Fresh Reads selection is Seven Brief Lessons on Physics by Carlo Rovelli. This playful, entertaining and mind-bending introduction to modern physics briskly explains Einstein's general relativity, quantum mechanics, elementary particles, gravity, black holes, the complex architecture of the universe, and the role humans play in this weird and wonderful world. Carlo Rovelli, a renowned theoretical physicist, is a delightfully poetic and philosophical scientific guide. He takes us to the frontiers of our knowledge – to the most minute reaches of the fabric of space, back to the origins of the cosmos and into the workings of our minds. The book celebrates the joy of discovery. “Here, on the edge of what we know, in contact with the ocean of the unknown, shines the mystery and the beauty of the world,” Rovelli writes. “And it’s breathtaking.”

Please join us on Monday, March 16 at 1:30 p.m. via Zoom to discuss this highly-recommended book. To receive an invitation, contact John Russell at russelljohnt@comcast.net.

Chair's Chat

Submitted by Su Bennett, Chair, Leadership Council

I'm sitting at my computer writing this Chat on Monday, February 23. Do you remember what was happening on that day?? ANOTHER snowstorm!!!!!!

So this month's fun questions are:

Who was the snowman's favorite relative?
and
Where do snowmen keep their money?

And seriously, where will 2026 take you?

To OLLI classes, of course! There are so many to choose from AND, also, you can enjoy an OLLI social event. All over the state, there are members who love to help put on Lunch & Learns, Mug & Muffins, Game Days and so much more.

These are member benefits in a couple of different ways. Members who attend learn about something new or share our experiences, and those who have volunteered to help feel good about volunteering their time, skills and even their specialty baked goods.

A couple of events coming up are

- Puzzle Mania offered at the Mt. Washington Observatory Office - how fast can you (or a team) put a puzzle together??
- At UNH-Manchester a Lunch & Learn with Carol Robideaux, publisher of the Manchester Ink Link, which is an online space for news, meeting coverage, happenings, events and more.

You'll find many more upcoming social events listed in Outlook or receive emails inviting you, so please check them out and sign up. BONUS: It's fun getting to know each other.

Fun answers:

Aunt Arctica and In a snow bank

Leadership Council meetings are generally held on the Zoom platform on the fourth Monday of the month from 10:00 a.m. to noon, giving members the opportunity to observe our governance structure firsthand.

The next meeting will be Monday, March 23. All members are welcome.

This month, contact Su Bennett, at subennett74@gmail.com for information or a Zoom link.

A Few Final Words

You Spoke . . . We Heard . . . We Listened

Your evaluation comments often speak to more than just the quality of the course and presenter. Sometimes you identify something else that could enhance your classroom experience.

Clear communication and thoughtful classroom practices create an environment where learning can thrive. You must be able to hear your presenter well.

Beginning this term, we are asking all in-classroom presenters to use a wireless, handheld microphone. New portable microphone systems, complete with a speaker, have been distributed to each learning region.

And all presenters have been notified of this request. Thank you for raising this issue.

March Calendar

Meetings are by Zoom unless otherwise noted.
