Director's Notes

Reaching Out and Engaging With You

Submitted by Toniann Leavitt, Program Director

Note: Underlined blue words or phrases are clickable links.

As we turn the calendar to June, it's hard to believe another OLLI semester is coming to a close. What a wonderful spring it has been. Together, we filled nearly 2,500 course seats, welcomed new members, explored fascinating topics and strengthened the friendships that make OLLI at UNH such a special community.

While our spring courses are wrapping up, OLLI is far from slowing down. Summer brings opportunities to stay connected through shared interest groups, special events, outings and our growing lineup of summer learning opportunities. I encourage you to take advantage of the warmer weather and join fellow members for an outdoor course, social gathering or community event. Some of the best OLLI memories are made during the summer months.

Before looking ahead, I want to extend my sincere gratitude to our Leadership Council members, committee chairs and committee members who have worked tirelessly throughout the year to help shape OLLI's programming and member experience. Their countless volunteer hours, thoughtful ideas and dedication to lifelong learning are the driving force behind so much of what we accomplish. From developing courses and recruiting presenters to planning events and supporting members, their commitment helps ensure OLLI remains a vibrant and welcoming community for all. Thank you for everything you do.

Behind the scenes, our team and volunteers are hard at work preparing for Fall 2026. I'm excited to share that our fall catalog will be heading to the printer later this month with more than 150 engaging courses and programs planned. From history and current events to arts, science, wellness, travel and lifelong learning favorites, there will be something for every curious mind. We can't wait to share the full lineup with you soon.

As we approach the end of the fiscal year on June 30, there is still time to support OLLI through a tax-deductible gift. Thanks to the generosity of our members and friends, we recently raised more than $9,000 during the (603) Challenge. These contributions help support classroom space, technology, scholarships and the many experiences that make OLLI possible. To make a gift, visit: <https://www.unh.edu/olli/donations>.

This spring also marked an exciting year of growth and transition. From expanding learning opportunities and strengthening member connections to continuing improvements in our programs and operations, OLLI remains focused on providing meaningful experiences that keep us learning, engaged and connected.

Whether you joined us for one course or many this spring, thank you for being part of our learning community. Your curiosity, engagement and willingness to connect with others are what make OLLI at UNH thrive.

I wish you a wonderful start to summer and look forward to seeing many of you at upcoming programs and in the pages of our Fall 2026 catalog.

Toniann Leavitt
Director, OLLI at UNH

Have You Checked Out the OLLI Website Lately?

Many OLLI members only access the OLLI website when registering for courses.

BUT ...

Check it out. The site is still under development, so more will be added. But, for now, check out such gems as the Member Handbook! Click here to read and download a copy.

MAY We Share OLLI's May Activities?

Classes, Lunch & Learns and Social Events dominated OLLI members' May activities as seen below in pictures.

Pictured at left, All Aboard the Orphan Train, a class presented by Peg Fargo (seated) also featured Beverly Perry, the granddaughter of one of the Orphan Train children. One attendee summed up the course experience: "I was only a bit dissatisfied with the amount of time because I didn't want it to end." And another described it: "[Peg] covered the subject from every angle, added humor, took questions at any time and always had the answers, used a mike so no trouble hearing her, had great pictures, included special info on NH foster kids and orphans and finished with a lady in attendance who was the granddaughter of a woman who was one of the foster kids."

At right, OLLI was honored to host the state's chief election official, NH Secretary of State David Scanlan, the featured speaker in our Midterms Don't Just Happen in Schools: 2026 Election Midterms in New Hampshire! course. Mr. Scanlan is responsible for making sure elections are conducted smoothly and in full compliance with New Hampshire election law.

More May

Two walking tours and a course in how to photograph them dominated the Mt. Washington Valley activities in May. At right and immediately below are two stops on the Walk Through North Conway Village.

Below, some artifacts of the “good old days” of medicine were seen at the Remick Country Doctor Museum & Farm with presenter Jim Cruickshank.

Below, Em Donnelly offered general gardening tips and inspiration to help Mt. Washington Valley members create their most beautiful garden masterpieces.

Above, a Manchester beginner Mah Jongg course was treated to a look at a vintage ivory Mah Jongg set and 45-year old league card.

Even More May

The Seacoast sponsored a course, Watch the Stage Come to Life, during which members learned how a show is selected by a theatre, how the show is built, how staging comes together and more. The course explored The Children, a magnificent play by Lucy Kirkland and many followed up by attending the theatre production of the play. The experience culminated with a special backstage event speaking with the three actors, the director, the set manager and the theatre's Executive Director, Margherita Giocobbi after the show. Finally, members attended a reception hosted by OLLI members Carl and Pat Nicolino.

Below and below right, ServiceLink, a service providing resources to the senior population, has changed its name to the Aging and Disability Resource Center. Center Manager April Steffensmeier and a colleague specializing in all things Medicare provided important information about the variety of services available. Noting that the transition is a work in progress, April distributed a variety of materials, some still bearing the ServiceLink brand.

Seacoast Hiking SIG

Our June 10, 2026 walk will take place at Vaughn Woods Memorial State Park at 28 Oldfields Road, South Berwick, ME. The park is 165 acres of old growth pine and hemlock along the Salmon Falls River and next to Hamilton House. State Parks and Public Lands: Maine ACF There are picnic tables for those in the group who might like to stay for lunch after the hike.

If you are a Maine resident over 65, entrance is free. If you are a non-resident over 65, your entrance fee will be $1.00 (cash only). The fee for those under age 65 is $1.00 for Maine residents and $4.00 for others. Proof of age and residency may be required. There are boxes for the entrance fees.

Hamilton House is open for tours Thursday through Sundays. Hamilton House | Historic New England Unfortunately, we won't be hiking then, but the grounds are open to walk through. That is something to do after our hike. It is a stunning setting.

Unfortunately, there is no rain date for this hike since hike leader Sandy will be out of town. If you are interested in attending or being added to the email list to receive more detailed information, contact Sandy O'Neill at sandy_oneill@comcast.net.

Capital Region Chapter Chats

Submitted by Donna Frost

On June 29 Chapter Chats will discuss Horse by Geraldine Brooks. (Sally Embly, discussion leader)

Horse is a historical fiction novel that intertwines the true story of a legendary 19th-century racehorse, Lexington, with modern-day characters, exploring themes of race, art, science, and America's reckoning with slavery.

The narrative spans three time periods: 1850s Kentucky, focusing on an enslaved groom and the horse; 1950s New York City, centered on a gallery owner obsessed with a painting of the horse, and 2019 Washington, D.C., where a scientist and an art historian connect through the horse's skeleton and its forgotten history.

Chapter Chats meets on the last Monday of the month at 1:30 p.m. on Zoom. There's never a requirement to finish or even read the book before the meetings; you can simply enjoy the discussion. OLLI members everywhere are welcome to join us by Zoom. Contact Donna Frost at dfrost49@hotmail.com for a Zoom link.

Manchester Book Club

Submitted by Mike Baker

The Manchester Book Group will hold its last meeting of the season on Tuesday evening, June 16 at 7:00pm to discuss Pearl Buck's The Good Earth.

Contact Mike Baker at mbmikebaker0@gmail.com for a Zoom link.

Fresh Reads - Seacoast

Submitted by John Russell

Most often Fresh Reads discusses a book selected by the participants. In June we will be doing something different. Six of us will each read one of six books and present a summary of the book, a recommendation regarding whether or not the rest of us should read it, and why. The books are:

- Sins Against Science: How Misinformation Affects Our Lives and Laws by Judi Nath discusses how misinformation leads to distrust, conflict, and conspiracies and how science can be used to combat them.
- How to Be Hopeful: Empowering Practices to Overcome Despair and Act for Climate Justice by Elin Kelsey is a "beautiful" explanation of why hope is so needed in the environmental space.
- Replaceable You by Mary Roach explores the remarkable advances and difficult questions prompted by the human body's failings and efforts to replace body parts.
- The First Eight by James Clyburn. South Carolina Representative James E. Clyburn, a Democratic kingmaker and august black political leader, introduces us to South Carolina's first eight black congressmen who came to office after the Civil War and before Jim Crow laws.
- Soldiers and Kings: Survival and Hope in the World of Human Smuggling by Jason De Leon is an in-depth, character-driven look at human smuggling written by an anthropologist who was embedded in a group of smugglers over the course of seven years.
- Life After Power: Seven Presidents and Their Search for Purpose Beyond the White House by Jared Cohen looks at what happened to John Quincy Adams, William Howard Taft, George W. Bush, and four others to see how life can be more rewarding after the White House.

Please join us on Monday, June 22 at 1:30 p.m. on Zoom to discuss ways we can move forward. Contact John Russell (russelljohnt@comcast.net) to receive the Zoom link.

Chair's Chat

Submitted by Su Bennett, Chair, Leadership Council

Q. Why did the teacher wear sunglasses to class?
(as usual, answer later on)

This term I co-presented an OLLI course for the very first time - Beginner's Mah Jongg with Kathy Gray. We met and planned and prepped and planned some more and hoped that we would be able to teach the basics of the game in four sessions.

We all had fun and they were such quick learners! As for me, I have a new-found respect for and deep gratitude to ALL of our OLLI presenters. They give us their time, knowledge and talents and I, for one, am truly grateful. So, make sure to thank your presenter, they deserve it.

Over the years I've taken a variety of classes and each semester I try to take at least one class that is "out of my wheelhouse." I've learned so much and met many OLLI members that I never would have met before. I hope you, too, try to take a class on a topic you are unfamiliar with.

As this term comes to an end and the summer J-term begins (June 22-August 12), I would like to give a huge shout out and thank you to all of our OLLI presenters and the Curriculum Committee members that make it all happen. Kudos to each and every one of you!

A. Her students were so bright!

Su
