Reaching Out and Engaging With You

Submitted by Toniann Leavitt, Program Director

Note: All underlined blue words or phrases are clickable links.

Although there is snow falling outside my window as I write this, spring has arrived, and with it, another exciting semester at OLLI at UNH is in full swing! We are thrilled to welcome all our new members who have joined our lifelong learning community. If you see a fresh face in one of your classes, take a moment to say hello—one of the greatest joys of OLLI is the friendships and connections we build along the way.

Our volunteers have once again delivered an outstanding lineup of courses, fueling our passion for learning and discovery. Thanks to their dedication and cultivation of a robust curriculum, we have already seen an incredible 2,500 enrollments this semester! Your enthusiasm for lifelong learning is what makes this program so special, and we hope you enjoy every course you take.

Looking ahead, we are now accepting course proposals for the Fall 2025 term through April. If you or someone you know has a topic to share, we encourage you to submit a proposal. Our courses are successful because of the diverse experiences and knowledge our members and instructors bring.

Beyond the classroom, OLLI offers even more ways to stay engaged. Whether you're interested in joining a Special Interest Group (SIG), attending a social event or meeting up with fellow members outside of class, there are plenty of opportunities to connect and stay active in our community.

We're also excited to announce that OLLI at UNH will once again be participating in the 603 Challenge this year! This annual fundraising event helps support our program and ensures we continue to offer enriching experiences for our members. Stay tuned for more details on how you can be part of this impactful initiative.

Thank you for being a part of our vibrant lifelong learning community. Enjoy your courses, embrace new friendships and have another fantastic semester with OLLI at UNH!

With Appreciation,
Toniann

Life is Sweeter With OLLI

Friday, March 21 – 1:00 to 3:00 p.m.

UNH-Manchester -- Multi-Purpose Room -- 88 Commercial Street, Manchester

Celebrate "Life is Sweeter With OLLI" with your fellow Greater Manchester members on the first day of Spring! Celebrate with lots of "sweet" things - including a fun chocolate tasting (and lesson!), a wonderful musical performance, and the joy of connecting with your OLLI friends.

We'll provide decadent and beautifully prepared desserts and afternoon tea while you relax and enjoy the afternoon's program.

About the chocolate tasting:

With a theme of "Live Free & Eat Great Chocolate!," Manchester's Loon Chocolate uses simple ingredients to create complex flavors. We'll sample a few of the shop's chocolates while owner Rachel Mack describes the ingredients and flavors you are enjoying! After this short presentation, you may purchase some of these delightful chocolates to share with family and friends (or to keep all for yourself!).

About the musical performance:

David Polansky will share his music, which is frequently humorous, sometimes serious, and always clever and engaging. Loved by everyone from preschoolers to grandparents, his songs have been compared to those of Stephen Sondheim and Tom Lehrer and have won numerous awards including the coveted Artists' Foundation Fellowship, Music City Song Festival, Sheet Music Magazine Grand Prize, and others. Bedford Montessori School generously sponsored this performance.

All OLLI members are welcome to celebrate just how much "sweeter" life is with OLLI at UNH at this free event!

Fresh Reads - Seacoast

Submitted by John Russell

The March Fresh Reads selection is Mayflower – Voyage, Community and War by Nathaniel Philbrick. The question "How did America begin?" launched Philbrick, also the author of In the Hurricane's Eye and Valiant Ambition, on an extraordinary journey to understand the truth behind one of our most sacred national myths: the voyage of the Mayflower and the settlement of Plymouth Colony.

As Philbrick reveals in this electrifying history of the Pilgrims, the story of Plymouth Colony was a fifty-five year epic that began in peril and ended in war. New England erupted into a bloody conflict that nearly wiped out the English colonists and natives alike. These events shaped the existing communities and the country that would grow from them.

Then join us via Zoom on Monday, March 17 at 1:30 p.m. to discuss our roots. To request a Zoom link, contact John Russell at russelljohnnt@comcast.net.

Co-Chair's Chat

Submitted by Bob Muzerall, Co-Chair

This last month has been an interesting one for New Hampshire. First, we had little snow and a lot of rain. Recently, we've shifted to a lot of snow and very cold weather with high winds. I'm sure the rest of the state is suffering like the Mount Washington Valley, my home area.

While the weather has been a bit iffy, that's not the case with OLLI at UNH. We've been busy providing our members with a wide variety of top-notch learning opportunities.

When I talk to friends, I invariably bring up OLLI. I love it and want to share the good news with them. They ask about our courses or events. How do I answer this? How do I encapsulate the breadth of our opportunities? I usually begin with sharing our craft, travel, local visits, history, science, and outdoor opportunities. I try to hit all the bases, hoping to generate interest. Do I succeed? Not as well as I'd like.

How do you explain OLLI? Do you focus on just one or two areas that interest you? That might work if you are speaking to someone who has your same interests. However you do respond, I hope it's comprehensive. We offer great variety. We offer friendship. We offer a welcoming environment. We offer a way to share our skills with others. We offer a way to share our lives with others.

As far as the Spring 2025 schedule, I have once again signed up for too many courses. I initially selected 22. I then worked it down to six. But, with my schedule, I will likely only attend four, and donate the money I paid for those I can't attend. I'll do this shortly to make sure what I can't attend will be open to a member who may have signed up too late.

My selection for this semester is mostly local. I'll be visiting the Remik Museum, I'll try Bocce, I'll do some soul searching at Socrates Café, and hopefully learn much about our local Mud Bowl, I'll learn about famous NH people through their gravesites, and finish up learning about some of the major players who made our area a place to love. I'll also be presenting a class on Ernest Hemingway. I've done this one before, but several people have asked me to do it again. A thank you to them.

Regardless of your interests, I urge you to keep up on our many learning opportunities. It will keep you young and involved with others.

Leadership Council meetings are generally held on the Zoom platform on the fourth Monday of the month from 10:00 a.m. to noon, giving members the opportunity to observe our governance structure firsthand. The next meeting will be Monday, March 24. All members are welcome.

Contact John Russell, at russelljohn@comcast.net for information or a Zoom link.

Course Evaluations – Who Are You?

Found in the “ideas for future classes” section of our Fall 2024 course evaluations: “I could give a Genealogy course,” and “How about a course on science fiction. I'm a published and Hugo award winning science fiction writer. Give me a buzz!” – Thanks to both of you for offering, but our evaluations are anonymous. If either of you read this, please call the OLLI office or submit a course proposal.

A change to evaluations this term is the addition of a question that will be separate from the rest of the evaluation responses. It allows you to enter your contact information if you wish to speak to a member of the Admin team or curriculum volunteer about any aspect of the course or to make offers such as these.
