

Luz Borjon is an adjunct faculty at Santa Barbara City College in the Career Skills Institute teaching Professional Development courses. Previously she served at Cal State LA for over 20 years as an EOP Counselor, Director of Civic Engagement and Internships, and Director of the Dreamers Resource Center. Luz has dedicated her career to empowering all students and all types of learners. She believes that all students can be successful and reach their goals, but no one does it alone. In addition, she served 10 years as a steward for the union which represents the staff working in most student services at all 23 California State University Campuses.