

Chuck Place brings 35 years of experience working for such clients as National Geographic Traveler, Smithsonian, Time, Islands, and Sunset Magazines, Chuck Place teaches photography with an emphasis on creating images that contain a storyline. Drawing on 17 years of teaching photography at the college level, Place's classes make technology easy to understand while stressing the creative aspects of the medium. Chuck Place's classes are both fun and interactive as he shares his great love of photographic image with his students.