Digital Commerce Solutions

With constantly changing buying behavior, economic and environmental fluctuations, digital commerce has become a preferred method for businesses to reach B2B and B2C customers in an incredibly efficient way more than ever before. eCommerce sales are projected to reach $4.9 trillion in 2021, offering massive opportunity for businesses to increase sales by focusing on online selling.

There are many tools and platforms used to launch digital commerce business and manage fulfillment, eCommerce storefronts such as Shopify and third-party marketplaces like Amazon are popular platforms for selling online but require additional solutions to streamline order-to-fulfillment operations properly. These solutions include your back-office ERP and an EDI solution, for error-free invoicing, accounting and business communications with your trading partners. Getting all these tools to work together is another issue entirely, one which is solved by using one hub to integrate all your eCommerce solutions. 1 EDI Source offers an eCommerce Integration Hub that quickly connects to your ERP solution to automate your order and fulfillment processes and deliver a better online buying experience for your customers.
