

New Year Domino

You can blow this thing and a "horrible" sound will come out.

Something you inflate and use for decorations. They come in many colours.

They are what you call "confetti".

People like to put them on their heads on New Year's Eve.

This device shows that time is running out.

A suit worn by men. It is all black and underneath they have a white shirt.

This is something you write and post if you want people to come to a party at your house.

A drink you drink to celebrate the arrival of the new year.

Fireworks! They come in all colours and styles. They light up the dark sky.

This is Father Time. He carries a scythe and sometimes an hour glass.

Every new year people like to write this: a list of resolutions.

It is midnight and thereby a new year is about to begin.
