

be snowed under	to have so much to do that you are having trouble doing it all break the ice	to say or do something to make someone feel relaxed or at ease in a social setting chase rainbows	when someone tries to do something that they will not achieve have your head in the clouds	to be out of touch of reality; your ideas may not be sensible or practical steal someone's thunder	when someone takes attention away from someone else storm in a teacup	when someone makes a small problem larger than it really is storm is brewing	indication that something is about to become bad or explode throw caution to the wind	to go crazy and forget all responsibilities or commitments on cloud nine	to be extremely happy be a breeze	to be very easy to do put on ice	to postpone for another day save for a rainy day	to save for the future when it might suddenly be needed (unexpectedly)
