

FERAL SWINE WORKSHOP WITH FLINT RIVER SWCD

Nov. 19 Mitchell County Ag Center, 4590 Hwy. 37 E 9 a.m. – 12:45 p.m. Camilla

A group of agricultural and natural resource organizations are partnering to bring Georgia's top experts on feral swine together in a series of educational workshops for farmers and landowners. This free workshop is sponsored by the Flint River Conservation District. Topics will include disease issues, swine biology, economics, water quality issues, effective control techniques, transport issues, and regulations to be followed by a question-and-answer panel of experts. There will also include a feral swine trapping demonstration. Partnering agencies include the U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA) Natural Resources Conservation Service, USDA Wildlife Services, Georgia Association of Conservation Districts, Georgia Department of Natural Resources - Wildlife Resources Division, Georgia Department of Agriculture, and University of Georgia Warnell School of Forestry & Natural Resources. Space is limited and pre-registration is required. To register, click here.
