

RECENT PHOTOS (Group 2):

July 6, 2017

In June, after serving the people of Sea Isle City for ten years, John Divney stepped down from the City Council dais and retired from public office. He is shown with family, colleagues and friends during a celebration at KIX-McNutleys held in John honor...

The City's Division of Tourism hosted their annual Sara the Turtle Festival at Excursion Park on June 28, featuring a wide variety of children's activities and entertainment. During the festival's "Diaper Derby" infants crawled to victory...

The first place winner of this year's Diaper Derby was Chloe Kilroy, of Ocean View, NJ ((shown with Dad, at left). Twins Julia and Marley Dickerson, of Sicklerville, NJ, were the second and third place winners respectively...

During the Sara the Turtle Festival, Boys and Girls, age 2-12, competed in “Turtle Races” on sand...

The first place winners of the Turtle Races were: (front from left) Gino Briamonte, 2, of Glenside, PA; Owen Steffanci, 3, of Seaville, NJ; Indiana Rogozinski, 4, of Lansdale, PA; Julie Chapracki, 5, of Downingtown, PA; Jake McKillop, 6, of West Chester, PA; (back, from left) Bryce, Huss, 7, of Harleysville, PA; Derek Lightbourne, 8, of Quakertown, PA; Jimmy Boland, 9, of West Chester, PA; Luke Armstrong, 10, of Pottstown, PA; Caitlin Boland, 11, of West Chester, PA; and Harrison Homack, 12, of Glenside, PA...

The Sara the Turtle festival was a fun and education event for the entire family..

###