

At Amerisure, we are deeply saddened by the death of George Floyd, and by similar events in the recent and not-so-recent past. Like many of you, we are struggling to make sense of these tragedies.

We are committed to sharing our voice and support for racial equality. Racism and intolerance have no place in our society.

We remain steadfast in fostering an environment where everyone is free to be their authentic selves, without fear of judgment or bias. Together, we can change the world for the better.
