

Student Success Story

Sandra Torres
Sanger Adult School

Sandra and her family moved from Mexico to Los Angeles when she was 12 years old. School in the United States was difficult because English was new to her, and she ended up leaving high school when she was in the 10th grade.

Sandra is raising her own family now and lives in Parlier. Since Sandra's children are getting older, she decided it was time to return to school. She likes to tell everyone, "It's never too late to return to school!" Sandra started in the ESL Program at Sanger Adult School and also took ESL classes in the morning at Reedley College. She tries her best in all her classes and never misses a day of school. Last month, she won the Persister Award at Sanger Adult School!

One of her challenges has been completing her online classes on her cell phone. Once she entered the High School Diploma Program, she was able to check out a laptop from Sanger Adult's new Laptop Lending Library. Now she is learning to use a computer, which will add to the skill set needed in the workforce or higher education.

Sandra is currently working on earning her High School Diploma at Sanger Adult School. Her goal is to set a good example for her two teenage children and to prepare herself for the workforce.

You're doing great, Sandra! Keep moving forward with your goals!
