Insight Human Services to Open Adolescent Residential Substance Use Treatment Program in Marion

Ribbon Cutting and Community Open House | November 4 at 12:00 PM

MARION, N.C. - Insight Human Services will celebrate the opening of its new adolescent residential substance use treatment program with a ribbon-cutting ceremony on Wednesday, November 4, 2026, at 12:00 PM at 200 Little Acres Drive in Marion, North Carolina.

For more than 55 years, Insight Human Services has served communities across North Carolina, offering hope, help, and healing to people and families facing substance use and mental health challenges. As a 501(c)(3) nonprofit behavioral health organization founded in Winston-Salem, NC, Insight brings decades of clinical expertise in the prevention, intervention, and treatment of substance use disorders in community, outpatient, and residential settings.

The new program will provide clinically managed, 24-hour residential substance use treatment for adolescents ages 12–17 who need a structured level of care to support recovery. The program will combine intensive clinical treatment with family involvement, academics, recovery skill development, and comprehensive planning to support each adolescent's successful transition back home and into the community.

"Substance use disorder is a chronic, treatable disease, and for many people, substance use begins during adolescence. This program gives us an opportunity to intervene earlier in the course of the disease, providing young people with intensive clinical treatment, stability, and recovery skills at a critical point in their development. Our goal is to give adolescents and their families the support and tools to change the trajectory of their lives," said James Harner, CEO of Insight Human Services.

Insight Human Services' adolescent residential program has been developed in partnership with the North Carolina Department of Health and Human Services, Division of Mental Health, Developmental Disabilities, and Substance Use Services (DMH/DD/SUS), and Vaya Partners. The program will help address a critical gap in North Carolina's behavioral health system by expanding access to intensive, clinically focused residential substance use treatment specifically designed for adolescents.

The ribbon cutting will provide an opportunity for community members and partners to learn more about the program, meet members of the Insight team, and tour the home.
