

Forever Awake

No
Bees buzz,
No leaves rustle.
All my friends have gone to Sleep. The first frost comes but I lay awake. I watch over them till spring.
I stay strong, unshaken by the harsh winds.
Snowflakes dance past my needles on their way to the ground. I am forever awake. Snow melts, birds sing - the first signs of spring. As my friends awake I tell them my tales from this past winter and I remind them I'll always watch over Them while They rest because I'm forever awake.