

RISE UP

In fields where plants grow,
Plant America, strong and known.

Roots that reach a hundred years,
and sprout with water and tears.

Then, from city to city,
Green leaves reach to the sky.

For ours is a world with no time to waste.
Plant America and watch it rise.