SU Tropical Storm Nate update, event changes

The Southern University (SU) System and the Governor's Office of Homeland Security and Emergency Preparedness continue to monitor forecasts and weather announcements related to Tropical Storm Nate. An extended forecast track includes possible Louisiana impact.

The SU System will continue to closely monitor conditions and has activated Emergency Preparedness Teams and initiated preparations to ensure the safety of our students, staff, and the SU community.

The SU Athletic Department announced that kickoff for Saturday's football game against Alabama A&M has been moved up to 1 p.m. at A.W. Mumford Stadium. As a result, the annual homecoming parade and the homecoming day party have been postponed until further notice.

SU Athletics has also postponed Sunday's Southwestern Athletic Conference home soccer match against Alcorn State and home SWAC volleyball contest against Grambling State. Both games will be postponed until a possible makeup date can be determined by the conference office.

All students, faculty, and staff are asked to monitor their University email accounts, the University's social media sites, and local news to get updates and announcements.

Updates and announcements regarding any developments related to weather conditions will be provided via e-mail, on our website (www.sus.edu), and via social, and local media.
