

Indigenous Breastfeeding Counselor Training

Odanah, WI

September 17-21, 2018, 9:00am-5:00pm

FREE!

The Indigenous Breastfeeding Counselor training is a 5 day, 45 hour foundational breastfeeding course for those that identify as Indigenous. At the end you will have the clinical skills to begin serving breastfeeding moms in your community and help families provide their babies with the first food- Breastmilk! Topics covered are:

- Historical Trauma and Parenting Practices
- How to Breastfeed
- Telling our Breastfeeding Stories
- Alternative Feeding Methods
- How Birth Impacts Breastfeeding
- Maternal Mood Disorders
- Medication and other Substances in Mother's Milk
- Water Rights and how it relates to breastfeeding
- Food Sovereignty and so much more!

Join the Bad River tribal community, and the IBC instructors Camie Jae Goldhammer, MSW, LICSW, IBCLC (Sisseton-Wahpeton) and Kimberly Moore-Salas, IBCLC (Navajo) for 5 full days of Native centered lactation education.
