How should business owners prepare to apply?

- Calculate the maximum amount you can borrow—2.5x your average monthly payroll for up to $10 million.
- Estimate your expenses for payroll, interest on mortgage, rent, utilities, and existing debt obligations between now and June 30. That level of expenses is fully forgivable if you keep staff on payroll and don't reduce standard pay by more than 25%.
- If estimated forgivable expenses fall below the maximum amount you can borrow, apply for at least the amount that will be forgiven while considering any additional expense you might incur.
