10/13-10/14 Newport Seafood Festival at Bowen's Wharf. Historic Bowen's Wharf in downtown Newport, RI, will host the 28th annual Bowen's Wharf Seafood Festival, on October 13th and 14th. Named one of the "10 Fabulous Fall Festivals on the Coast," by Coastal Living Magazine, this event is an open invitation to come back to the waterfront after the rush of the summer season! Honoring the "Harvest of the Sea," the Bowen's Wharf Seafood Festival offers fresh, local seafood. Fish tacos, lobster rolls, fried calamari, oysters, signature cocktails and cold Whaler's Brewing beer accompany continuous live music, and family fun, all beneath the Wharf's colorful tents. Other neighboring restaurants and fisherman's associations serve up their most celebrated seafood dishes (lobster dinners, clam chowder, stuffed quahogs, clam cakes, shrimp, scallops, raw oysters and clams, as well as a few dishes for landlubbers and kids). <http://www.bowenswharf.com/events-1/28th-annual-seafood-festival>

10/20 Haunted Hike! Explore the Monastery Grounds in Cumberland, RI with LL Bean - We will be visiting the Monastery Quarry, local sites and the "Nine Men's Misery" veterans' memorial which dates to the 1600's. The Monastery site is thought by many to be haunted. The Science Fictions Channel's "Ghost Hunters" show examined this site in 2014. ACTIVITY LEVEL: Moderate. WHERE TO MEET: Behind the Cumberland library next to the senior Center at 1464 Diamond Hill Road, Cumberland

10/20 Fall Festival and Haunted Woods in Norton. "Bring your little ghosts and goblins to the Norton Outdoor Center for hayrides, pony rides, carnival games, face painting, pumpkin painting, and more fall family fun through the day. Once the sun goes down, venture through our haunted trail through the woods (if you dare) or enjoy a some less-scary fun in our not-so-haunted lodge. <http://attleboroymca.org/fallfestival/>

10/20-10/21 Head of the Charles Regatta. Since its inception in 1965, The Head of the Charles Regatta has attracted hundreds of thousands of rowers to the banks of the Charles river. Watch 9,000 athletes from around the world compete in the Head of the Charles Regatta (HOCR), and visit vendors at the Rowing & Fitness Expo at the finish line. Recommended viewing area is along the Charles River between the Anderson and Weeks bridges. <https://www.hocr.org/the-regatta/>

10/26 Zoo Boo Spectacular at Capron Park Zoo in Attleboro - Bring your ghouls and goblins for a night of not-too-scary Halloween fun! Activities and games can be found throughout the zoo! WEAR YOUR COSTUMES IF YOU DARE and let your Halloween spirit come alive. Enjoy a train ride, test yourself on the inflatable obstacle course, and wander the zoo at leisure. <http://capronparkzoo.com/index.html>

10/27 Fall Harvest Celebration. Just a short drive away – The Norwood Commerce center, Home of the Winsmith Mill Market - Tucked away in a former mill building off Route 1A, the sight of the 18th century Winsmith Mill Market in four imposing former tannery buildings (bomber jackets were made here during World War II) seems nearly improbable given its hidden jewel status and astonishing selection of merchandise. Antique and shabby chic shoppers who thought they had seen it all most likely immediately say on first impression, "How could I have not known about this place?" Open weekly Friday through Sunday, the Winsmith Mill Market is one of those places where one never knows where to start first. With seven vintage shops and more than 100 vendors – often with connected shops through the virtual maze – the Winsmith Mill Market comes across as a close-knit community with businesses that bridge the look of an antique store, vintage shop, country store and bargain discount center. It's all hard to fully describe, but the Winsmith folks like to refer to the complex as an "Antique to Shabby Chic, to Victorian Boho Artisan Market." The old mill appearance provides the perfect setting for shopping and getting a good walk in during the process. Shops are open Friday, Saturdays and Sundays at 61 Endicott Street in Norwood, MA.
