Who am I?

Mercury Enters Shadow

“When the Going...”

Friday 12th, Taurus Moon sextile Mercury, and conjunct Mars. Good day to ask for what you want. Be well prepared if you do present your documents or your request. Nothing off-the-cuff will sway the person you are presenting to. Jupiter bi-quintile North Node assists you further if you are submitting your manuscript or applying for a loan. Venus square Chiron. So be careful with sweets. Great energy for exploring old emotional wounds from your childhood. Venus has just come in from being out of bounds from the Sun where she explored what it was like to just be herself without the Sun's tutoring. Now, she wants to stare into the mirror to ask “just who am I now?” What do I wish to drop off from my past; so I don't carry problems into my future?

Saturday 13th, Gemini Moon sextile Jupiter and Neptune on her other side, conjunct Uranus, trine Pluto; while squaring the Nodes. People may want to have gatherings. Be ready for an extremely robust day. If you are planning for things to go smoothly, this is not your day. Be ready for anything and everything. Mars semi-square Neptune, so be careful on the drugs or alcohol. Mercury sesqui-square North Node, so remember it's easier not to blurt out what you're thinking, than to attempt to take your words back afterwards.

Mercury enters his pre-retrograde-shadow. This is the area where he will stop and go forward again on July 23rd. He begins this back sliding motion on June 29th. This optical illusion is caused by Mercury coming close to Earth which occurs three times a year. Whenever Mercury comes so close to us, machinery and communications malfunction. This becomes more pronounced during his backtracking phase, but can occur during the shadows as well. He finally leaves his post-retrograde-shadow on August 7th. All the retrogrades he has this year are in emotional water signs which sets the tone of 2026. Plan your summer vacations with extra caution. Buy travel insurance if available.

Sunday 14th, Flag Day. Happy Birthday to my oldest sister who was told that everyone had to put their flags up on her birthday every year. Being the oldest of us eight children, that only seemed the right thing to do. She became the Psychologist President of the World which was televised on French T.V. Full Gemini Moon sextile Saturn, and conjunct the Sun. Plan out your upcoming schedules. Writers can be prolific. Have serious conversations with your inner circle. Mercury semi-square Uranus so enjoy a movie with a surprise twist. Especially good energy to solve a puzzle. Drive cautiously.

Monday 15th, Cancer Moon sextile Chiron, trine North Node, and square Neptune. Feelings which erupted over this past week have a chance to settle where they need to. Give yourself space for some quiet contemplation. Venus quincunx North Node so you could feel a bit antsy. Venus quintile Mars for potentially romantic rendezvous. Venus sextile Uranus so enjoy something outside of your normal. Robin Williams, George Harrison, and Jane Goodall have this quirkiness in their charts.

Tuesday 16th, Cancer Moon square Saturn, conjunct Mercury, and sextile Mars. In the morning, you could recall old hurts from your past, but that clears up by the afternoon especially if you do a walk-and-talk with a good friend. Give them a chance to also use you as their sounding board as well. The Sun quintiles Saturn which helps put things in proper perspective. Venus will trine Neptune which is lovely energy to communicate with the people you love about how much they mean to you. Hans Christian Anderson and Burt Reynolds had this personal appeal in their charts.

Wednesday 17th, Leo Moon conjunct Jupiter/Venus, square Eris/Chiron, sextile Uranus, trine Neptune, and opposite Pluto. All we are missing is the Barnum and Bailey Show to come to town and pitch a circus tent. If your summer doesn't feel like it has been kicked off, then these aspects will totally do it. Venus opposite Pluto builds up intensity. Don't fall for guilt trips. Great energy to give away clothes from your closet which you haven't worn in a year.

Thursday 18th, Leo Moon trine Saturn, and square Mars. This reminds me of the statement, "When the going gets tough, the tough gets going." Sun semi-sextile Jupiter. Careful with people who you are bending backwards for. Are they appreciating you dropping everything for them?

My heartfelt blessings to all my readers.
