Breakthroughs Treasures Opportunities

Friday 7th, Gemini Moon trines Pluto, sextiles Neptune/Saturn on one side and Jupiter on her other side, and conjunct Uranus. The Moon emphasizes the helpful mini-grand trine which Disruptive-Uranus is hosting. Things have a chance to change for the better. Jupiter and Neptune are the base for this luck where breakthroughs are possible. Venus quincunx Chiron can stand in the way of understanding another's point of view. Mercury finally leaves its retrograde shadow. This was a tough retrograde for most. All Mercury retrogrades this year will yank our feelings as they are taking place in emotional water signs.

Saturday 8th, Gemini Moon sextile Sun in the morning, and conjunct Mars/Ceres in late afternoon. Social situations roll out easier in the morning. People may get testy this evening. Leave your finger pointing out of conversations. Mars/Ceres bi-quintile Pluto can be helpful if you're digging through your storage locker. You could rediscover a forgotten treasure. Today is 8/8 Lions Gate when our Sun's close friend, Star-Sirius, shines as the brightest star in our skies. See what possibilities present themselves to you. Mercury semi-sextile Mars/Ceres so hold your tongue. If something is worth saying, it will still be worth saying later. Mars conjunct Ceres. People might be extra protective for friends and family.

Sunday 9th, Cancer Moon trines North Node, sextile Chiron, and square Venus on one side and Neptune on her other side. This increases the focus on our close relationships. Try not to step on toes as you try to smooth relationships out. Sensitivities will be already on high alert. Mercury quincunx North Node can bring about situations of not understanding others. Mercury and the Nodes are currently changing signs so they bring hyper-self consciousness. Sun quintile Uranus for a bit of luck if you are trying something new. Mercury square Chiron so learning something could be a bit more challenging than usual. Mercury makes a dramatic entrance into Leo where he enjoys himself. He can go to summer festivals and dance his fool head off while loving every second.

Monday 10th, Cancer Moon square Saturn. Serious day in the office. Try not to step on toes. Venus trine Pluto can dig up treasures. Oftentimes the metals markets do well with this digging-up-wealth aspect, but I'm not a financial advisor. Anthony Fauci, Elizabeth II, and Justin Trudeau had this wealth aspect in their charts. Venus opposes Neptune so make sure you don't wear rose colored glasses if starting a new relationship. Mia Farrow, Venus Williams, and Tammy Wynette all have this only seeing the best traits of their mates. Mars trine North Node can assist you with beginning projects you have been putting off.

Tuesday 11th, Leo Moon squares Chiron, conjunct Mercury/Jupiter, opposite Pluto, trine Neptune, and sextile Venus on one side and Uranus on her other side. Feels like so much occurring at once. It could feel like you're balancing spinning plates on poles without breaking them. Sun quintile Neptune can help shine a light on a hidden mystery. Mercury opposes Pluto and can explore occult stories. Richard Nixon, Kurt Cobain, and Machine-Gun-Kelly had this exploring-the-dark in their charts. Mercury trine Neptune can offer a beautiful voice and the ability to dance. Vanessa Williams, Nicole Kidman, and Pamela Anderson have this party-girl in their charts. Venus trine Uranus can bring unusual people in your inner circle. Robert Redford, Lauren Hutton, and Maria Shriver have this ability to enjoy unique people in their charts. Mars enters Cancer. Complaining can increase. People want to protect their family tribe during the six weeks Mars is in Cancer.

Wednesday 12th, Leo Solar Eclipse with South Node in Virgo. Things and people from your past may pop up over the next month. If you have applied to act in a play, but have been turned down in the past, this could change your luck. This eclipse will hit Greenland directly. So expect lots of changes in Greenland over the next couple of years. Moon trines Saturn, and conjunct Sun. These are fortunate aspects for this total eclipse. It will blend the thoughtfulness of Virgo and the statesman quality of Leo. Mars sextiles Chiron so any hurt feelings have a chance of getting worked out with effort. Venus bi-quintile North Node for sweet opportunities. Mercury sextile Uranus so be open to new prospects. Void Moon after 10:37 am Pacific Time so if there is an important paper which needs to be signed and sent, do it before that time. Ceres enters Cancer which suits Ceres well. Ceres "mothers" others, and the sign of Cancer holds a similar protection for folks in your immediate circle. Sweet time to enjoy family gatherings though May 21, 2027.

Thursday 13th, Virgo Moon conjunct South Node, trine Chiron, sextile Mars/Ceres, and square Uranus which creates a busy morning. Good energy to go through your paperwork and files. Make sure you have not missed something which has arrived in the mail this last month. Void Moon after 12:24 pm Pacific Time. Mercury sextile Venus offers lucky breaks. Tom Cruise, Jim Morrison, and Peter O'Toole enjoyed this getting ahead in their charts.

My heartfelt blessings to all my readers.
