

Money Conference for Women 2017

YWCA's Money Conference for Women will be held on Saturday October 28th at the Connecticut Convention Center from 7:30 AM - 2:30 PM. This FREE conference focuses on money management, investment strategies and retirement planning for women of all ages, economic backgrounds, and levels of financial knowledge. The Money Conference is designed to address the financial challenges women face in their work and personal lives. It will feature honorary chair Connecticut State Treasurer Denise L. Nappier along with financial expert and author Michelle Singletary as the keynote speaker. A financial expert and author, Michelle's topic will be: Wonder Woman: How to Become a Wealth Warrior. Discover within you your power to be rich. You can be a fierce money manager by tapping into your strength. Michelle will focus on the 5 strongholds that keep women from being wealthy.

Conference attendees are also able to attend two financial focused workshops on a variety of topics such as managing debt and credit, retirement planning, home ownership and investment, entrepreneurship and gaining general financial independence for younger women. Participants are encouraged to explore the different financial resources available at the Financial Expo. Don't miss out on this incredible opportunity to empower yourself with financial literacy! You can register online as of August 14, 2017 at www.ctmoneyconferenceforwomen.com and save the date in your calendar today!
