Executive Director's Report: David reported that the AHNA Strategic Plan is now being reviewed by the City and the State. The AHNA Board identified the following goals to address in 2022: food composting, improving Farmington Ave, identifying blighted properties, assessing tree canopy, identifying human services, displaying art on Farmington Ave, installing cameras, and restoring the Comet Diner.

Financial Report:

January deposits:	$6,005
January expenses:	$3,283 Payroll
	$ 160 zoom
	$ 50 website
January 31 Balance	$24,046
Restricted Funds	$ 4,120 (for composters)
Available Funds	$19,926

Louisa noted that AHNA must prepare and approve a budget for 2022.

City Update: Andrene said residents can make appointments for Covid vaccinations by dialing 311. Residents seeking updates from the City can use www.hartfordct.gov/alertime or www.hartfordct.gov/emailme. Free assistance is available for families preparing tax forms. Participation in winter sports is free to residents. City Hall is closed Friday for President's Day.

Hartford Police Report: Officer Cid continues to work on trespassing, panhandling, homeless outreach and updating standing complaints. He noted that the Police academy has 13 new recruits. He is working with the Police Athletic League, recruiting 14-16 year olds for the travel baseball team.

Public Works Update: Grace Yi reported that the Open Streets event will be June through September. Farmington Ave. was selected to be closed for the event on June 26 and September 25 this year. There were no new AH applications to P&Z in January.

AHNA Committee Reports:

- Quality of Life: Janine reported that the Committee discussed the slow streets project, the need for cameras to help with crime investigations, public safety concerns, burglaries, and the reinvigoration of Friends of Sigourney Park
- Economic Development: Wayne reported meeting with WECA to discuss open streets events, and that he is still waiting for approval from the City to move ahead on the Comet renovations. The suggestion was made to provide an artist's rendering of the plan at the Open Streets event.
- Communications: Paul reminded AHNA that Bernie, who has been responsible for much of the newsletter (writing, editing and delivering) is retiring. He encouraged partners to write articles and folks to volunteer to help.
- Green: the committee planned the evening's focus on the Park River Watershed
- Fund Development: Sarah reported that they will be scheduling meetings with partners and sending renewal letters, as well as beginning to plan the fall community partners breakfast

EarthWatch Climate Change Master Class & Global Pollinator Program: Melanie Jortner, from The Hartford, described the on line classes beginning on March 16. The goal is to connect people with climate challenges. She urged adults to register. She also encouraged residents to collect data for the Global Pollinator Watch that begins in April.
