

AH Then & Now 800 Asylum Ave

This Photo from the Hartford History Center of the Hartford Public Library's Mahoney Collection shows one of the beautiful homes that existed on Asylum Avenue in the early 1900's. According to the address it would have been located in what is now the parking area somewhere between 814 Asylum, which is Asylum Hill Congregational Church and the Condominiums at 782-788 Asylum. It's hard to know how many of these stately mansions once existed, but there are currently four remaining on Asylum Avenue.
