

AH Then & Now - 115 Sigourney St

115 Sigourney St was originally the home of a member of the Plimpton family, but by the mid-seventies when Aetna bought it, it was no longer being used as a family residence. The photo above is a small polaroid that was taken by the Hartford Tax Assessor at about that same time.. Most of the time since then it was owned by Saint Francis Hospital, but did not get a lot of use. In 2015 it was sold to NINA, and will be ready soon to be put on the market for another homeowner in Asylum Hill. It is the first NINA project on this busy thoroughfare but will subsequently be joined by 117 Sigourney which will be a three family home with one owner-occupant
