

Volunteer Opportunity Is Now

Back in October we talked about how you could get involved with the success at West Middle School. If you'll recall it was all about the new Volunteer Resource Center being lead by Nicole Rodriguez.

Right now they have a special limited time opportunity for anyone willing to invest a little time, for a lot of children.

Requirements: know the alphabet; carry books and put them on shelves.

It seems that the WMS Library and the Mark Twain Library will be occupying the same space. The problem is that neither WMS nor neighborhood children will be allowed to read any of the books until they have all been properly placed on shelves and then scanned into the new computer system. While the books were at MLK they got a bit out of order. It really isn't that hard, and many hands make light the labor. Any time school is open, you'll be warmly welcomed and you will bring the day the students can use the library that much closer to now.

For more details or to schedule your time, call Nicole at (860) 695-5562 or better yet, email her at nrodriguez@bgchartford.org Hope to see you there.
