Hi Bruce,

Please go to frbservices.org here under the Currency section.

The Department of Homeland Security identified the Financial Services sector as Essential Critical Infrastructure Workforce. Treasury Secretary Mnuchin has also issued a memo \(PDF\) that further states the Essential Critical Infrastructure Workforce “...includes workers who are needed to process and maintain systems for processing financial transactions and services, such as payment, clearing and settlement services, wholesale funding, insurance services, and capital markets activities; to provide consumer access to banking and lending services, including ATMs, movement of currency (e.g. armored cash carriers); support financial operations, such as those staffing data and security operations centers; and, key third party providers who deliver core services. These individuals are critical to maintaining safe and efficient financial services and ensuring citizens have access to these services that are necessary to conduct their daily lives.”

The Treasury memo and Department of Homeland Security guidance may be used in lieu of the letter previously issued to armored carriers by the Federal Reserve.
