Terri Hase, PCC, IAC-MC:

Terri Hase is a grounded, realistic individual, with a talent for making the seemingly impossible possible. She has been called an ‘iron first in a velvet glove’, as her no-nonsense, cut-to-the-chase style makes short work of what stands between her clients and the success they desire. She brings this valuable skill to every client, presentation, training and class. She is funny, light hearted, sincere, and LOVES helping people find their true path, and walk it with style!

Terri has been coaching since 2002 and emerged as a top-rated Coach Educator starting in 2005. Over the last decade, she has earned several certifications. Among those are the "Professional Certified Coach" (PCC) with the International Coaching Federation, and "Master Coach” (IAC-MC) through the International Association of Coaching. Terri served two years on the Executive Committee and Board of Governors for the International Association of Coaching. Emerging as a 'coaches-coach' was quite an unexpected surprise, but it has blossomed to become some of the most successful and rewarding work Terri does. She is Co-Principle and Lead Instructor at Impact Coaching Academy, and Co-Founder of the Global Coach Coalition.
