

Summer programs in Israel:

Roots Israel is a three week Israel experience where teens will be seeing the country through the lens of Tikkun Olam and how the history of Israel has shaped the country and has been at the forefront of many important environmental, agricultural and social sustainability initiatives.

This is a true hands-on experience. Each day of the program will include a service component along with something educational and fun! Teens will earn a minimum of 40 hours of community service.

This program is for teens entering grades 9-12. The cost is $2,560 plus $1,650 airfare. The Jewish Federation of New York is offering a $1500 non need based grant towards this program. This grant is on a first come first serve basis.

Chetz V'Keshet has been bringing teenagers ages 15-18 from all over the world to Israel for a 4-week summer program. Our teens experience Israel's culture, heritage, language, and society as they tour the beautiful country.

We hike, bike, swim and travel all across Israel while learning about its people and rich history. Each participant engages in several volunteer activities and completes 65+ hours of community service during the program. During Gadna week our participants will get to experience hands-on army training and educational activities with Israel Defense Forces (IDF) commanders. What makes Chetz V'Keshet truly unique is our Israeli participants--25% of our participants are Israelis who are members of the Israeli Tzofim youth movement and are chosen based on their personality and ability to communicate in both English and Hebrew. Our counselors are all Israeli's who are fluent in English, have completed their army services and mastered our intensive training course. CVK is the only teen summer program that works with the IDF, which guarantees our participants top level security and safety at all times. This summer the program is running from June 28, 2017 to July 26, 2017.
