

Step Into Their Shoes

A POVERTY SIMULATION EXPERIENCE

This powerful, interactive simulation challenges participants to step into the shoes of individuals and families facing economic hardship. Unlike a traditional seminar, you will navigate authentic, real-world scenarios, making critical decisions related to housing and utilities, employment, healthcare, childcare and public assistance.

Why Schedule a Simulation?

- Gain a trauma-informed perspective: understand the deep-seated systemic challenges and difficult choices faced by those living in poverty.
- Engage in critical dialogue: participate in facilitated reflection and discussion to spark community-wide solutions.
- Professional growth: experience a program backed by the expertise of the Georgia State University School of Social Work.
