

HOPE

for the Journey

CONFERENCE

Eight
Training
Hours

Parenting is hard—no questions asked. But amidst the challenges, there is beauty, hope, and the opportunity to build lasting connections with the children and teens in our care. Join us for Hope for the Journey, an in-person simulcast designed to equip parents, caregivers, church leaders, and professionals with research-based tools to promote attachment and connection within families. This event features Trust-Based Relational Intervention® (TBRI®) methods, a proven care model designed to meet the relational and developmental needs of children and youth impacted by trauma. View the conference trailer here.

This conference is open to caregivers and professionals that serve children & families. Lunch will be provided, childcare will NOT be provided.

If you're unable to attend this viewing due to childcare, date conflict, etc., please email adrienne.reeves@dhs.ga.gov to determine additional viewing opportunities.
