The California Board for Professional Engineers, Land Surveyors, and Geologists (BPELSG) is undertaking a comprehensive research project of the land surveying profession referred to as an Occupational Analysis. California Licensed Professional Land Surveyors are invited to participate in an online survey that will validate the tasks and knowledge that are important to the work performed by land surveying professionals as it applies to the definition of land surveying and the authority to practice in California.

The results of the study will be used to update the California State-Specific Professional Land Surveyor examination and will also provide BPELSG with valuable information regarding the work performed by land surveying professionals. The Occupational Analysis is completed every five to seven years and is the source for determining the content of the licensing examinations. This analysis is an essential step in keeping the land surveying examination current and practice-related.

Your participation is critical to ensuring the success of the study. As part of this study, we need your assistance in completing an online survey. Please consider filling out the survey that takes approximately 45 minutes to complete and can be saved and completed in multiple sessions.
