Fuller Description of Services: The suffering of the mother of a wounded soldier is pain of its own sort. Ima Levia cares for these mothers. There are support groups, retreats, counseling, and caring. Mothers sharing the pain that only another mother can understand. A mother is a big part of her son's recovery; her resilience will impact his resilience. Knowing that someone cares for you, the mother, whether receiving a small gift, a note of support, sharing raw feelings in a group or being pampered on a retreat or even a brief trip abroad, can give the mothers of our wounded soldiers the support they need to support their wounded child.
