

UCSF Education Showcase

April 30, 2026

Call for Abstracts & Save the Date

The Center for Faculty Educators presents UCSF's 25th Annual Education Showcase, an event that highlights and celebrates the scholarly work of UCSF faculty, fellows, residents, students and staff. The showcase will be filled with opportunities for faculty development and to see the variety and quality of innovative educational work produced by our UCSF colleagues throughout the year.

The program will feature peer-reviewed oral presentations, topics tables, and more. All members of the UCSF community are invited to participate. We encourage those involved in health professions education, especially those new to education scholarship, to review the abstract guidelines and consider submitting an abstract.

All submissions to Education Showcase are eligible to receive the Cooke Award for the Scholarship of Teaching & Learning, which recognizes one or more outstanding projects presented at the event. UCSF does not use race, gender, sex, or other protected categories or proxies for protected categories in the selection process.
