Thank you to those of you who added Mark Fletcher to your positive thoughts and prayers some fifteen years ago.

You may remember that he recovered from his near-death experience and he came to this fellowship and expressed his belief that your positive support had saved his life and advanced his remarkable recovery.

On Friday the 13th last, Mark escaped this realm at sundown at his home in Port Alberni, British Columbia.

Our other two sons, Jack and Matthew, had traveled with me in January to visit, knowing Mark's event was not "if" but "when".

We had a joyous visit full of memories. Mark, like his father Jack, insisted that we not mourn but celebrate.

Please do just that, knowing you made a positive difference.

Thank you.
Pat Fletcher
