The Biblical Month of Shevat 5786, 2026

Dr. Wade K. Butler

I'm sending you this overview of an attack that happened at midnight on New Year's to understand where we are on the timeline of heaven. I went to bed early after watching fireworks on TV and was out cold in minutes. Within the hour war broke out at my home in a manner that shocked me awake and had me reaching for meds. I wrote it down because I believe the body needs to read it.

(Veronika West came out with a word that ties in so it's not just me.)

Every Wednesday at 2:30 a group of us pray. Due to the Holiday, it was only two of us, Terry Freisen from Canada and me. If you have read my book or the prayer calendar you know who Terry is. I consider him one of the key people in my life for fresh revelation. He had a strong word on taking back the manipulated ground from the enemy and Angelic intervention in the financial markets. We have talked for some time about who has a seat at the table. It's the sons and daughters who take their place.

The attack came with a force that caused my body to go into near cardiac difficulties. I keep meds close at night just in case, but it has been since 2016 since the last heart issue. The LORD has sustained me, Glory.

The enemy has been stirred up because of the advance of the KINGDOM. It is time we advance together. We can no longer be in the trenches; we have to take our seats at the table of the LORD! It is time to advance and go up higher. HE is waiting on us to give decrees, declarations and commands.

FROM: Wade Butler

Dear Prayer Warriors,

At midnight on the transition into January 1, 2026, I experienced one of the most vicious attacks I have yet to be a part of. As I was in bed asleep, I was awakened by what I would say was an assault by hordes of wasps and fire-ants. I have hunted from the southern boarders of the United States into Canada and have come across some nasty creatures over the years. If you ever have the misfortune of stepping on a fire-ant mound in the south or a ground wasp mound in Canada you understand. All of the mound will empty to repel the attacker and it's you. Their bite and sting is like fire and can be lethal to the unsuspecting traveler.

I was being overcome from all sides, in the air and on the land. My heart went into a pre-heart attack mode. My left arm contracted, my lungs screamed as if on fire, and I was in trouble. It was so real I got up and found an old bottle of Nitroglycerin and took a dose. Immediately I started praying, within fifteen minutes I took a second dose of Nitro to steady my heart and thought of calling 911. I went into the living room hoping not to wake up Frances.

At that point I was taken into the Spirit and shown it was an attack from below. The enemy was swarming in waves to overcome not just me but the sons and daughters of GOD. It was an attack to wear down the saints. This went on with such intensity I could actually feel the bites and stings. My adrenaline was at a high. It was a Battle Royal and I wasn't winning! I cried out, 'Lord I need help, I need you. At that point my eyes were opened to Angels around me and Frances came into the living room and wanted to know what was going on.

I explained the vision and told her that it was so real that I had all the symptoms of an actual heart attack. Some might ask, how would I know? I have had eleven actual heart attacks with the twelfth resulting in a three-way bypass. At the same time, I knew it was spiritual, but I was exhausted from the warfare. What a way to welcome in the new year.

As we battled, the hordes of the enemy even tried to resist the blood of Yeshua as wave after wave emerged from below. Death was everywhere around me as they piled up as high as my knees. It took Frances joining me in prayer, pleading the Blood, quoting scripture and calling on the Host to turn the battle. I needed the help of the Host, Angels and the sons and daughters.

After about an hour, we were both exhausted from the Fray. When I got up on Thursday morning, I called out to Yeshua, 'What was that about?" He responded; "What did Terry say in prayer mid-day?" I checked my notes and said that he saw the earth's tectonic plates shift and the enemy was coming to the surface. Everything that was done in darkness shall be brought into the light, and the enemy is not happy.

Yeshua said; "Judgement is coming into the enemy's camps, and they are going to stir up to the surface as I shake the earth. They are coming like waves of attackers, like hordes whose mounds were tipped over. Their sting can kill the weak and disable the unsuspecting. Fire and destruction they will leave in their path. Press into the Blood and overcome their fury."

Veronika West came out with this.

And Quote;
"Mamdani is set to be sworn in as New York Mayor on New Year's Eve - not in City Hall, and not in a Public square, but rather in an abandoned Gilded Age subway station beneath City Hall. The unusual choice of venue for the ceremony, Mamdani said, is symbolically resonant of the "inauguration of a New Era." Now, When I saw this headline, the Holy Spirit immediately opened my eyes, and suddenly, I saw two Altars Rising and One coming out of New York City - the Altar of Baal vs the Altar of Elijah.

"I saw a Fierce and Powerful Battle begin to Unfold in the HEAVENIES; God's Desire for The Birthing of a New Golden Age for America vs Satan's Desire for the Birthing of a New Era of Anti-Christ Rule over America!

"I saw in the realm of the Spirit a powerful demonic Portal/s being opened during the swearing-in ceremony. I saw that the Location is not random. It is not coincidental, and it is not merely historic symbolism. This site was chosen, and this Mayor was strategically Positioned in Power. And what may appear in the natural, and what is being presented underground as theatrical and even nostalgic, is certainly only the tip of the iceberg, for beneath the surface and looking into the Spirit realm, this is powerfully Prophetic and Authoritative. The enemy always moves, operates and advances his demonic Agendas underground and behind closed doors and under the cover of darkness.!

"Mark my words, this is not about Transit History; certainly this is not about aesthetics. And most vitally to note, this is NOT harmless symbolism! Listen, Satan has HIS APPOINTED TIMES HIS DEMONIC KIAROS MOMENTS; the Enemy understands the importance of Timing, Placement, and Threshold moments!

"New Year's Eve? (Timing: 'Crossing over a Threshold Moment')
A Transfer of Authority Power and Position at a powerfully strategic time!
An Oath being spoken and taken below the City!"

WATCHMEN, YOU NEED TO BE PAYING ATTENTION;

Certainly, this is just one strategic Prayer point and a call for Shields to be Raised over the Subways and Underground Transportation Systems in the USA but also Globally in the coming days. Satan is not only devising and developing his secret plans underground, but he will seek to bring into manifestation even greater and more deadly destructive attacks UNDERGROUND in the coming days! What was done before in the open, shall now be done in underground settings, hidden from sight and shielded from immediate detection; Demonic Operations taking place beneath systems that are meant to Move and keep people safe, not endanger and take innocent lives!
We must Pay attention to what is beneath in the days ahead and not just what is above. We must be Watching the places that are often ignored or even dismissed or taken for granted on a daily basis!

We have Crossed a threshold in the realm of the Spirit. Satan has declared War. Battle of Altar vs Altar and WE MUST NOT GO BACK TO BUSINESS AS USUAL!
WATCH AND PRAY. "The Shift has already begun!"

P.S. Let me add this for Prayer consideration. As I was finishing writing the above Word, I heard these Words: "2026: THE YEAR OF ALTAR vs ALTAR, PRIEST vs PRIEST, FIRE vs FIRE. Watch, for Satan will use FIRE - FIRE and MORE FIRE, even STRANGE FIRE AS A WEAPON OF MASS DESTRUCTION. FOR DEMONIC ARSONISTS WILL ARISE TO BURN, BURN, BURN. BUT I SAY, WATCH AS MY FIERY REMNANT SHALL ARISE TO FIGHT FIRE WITH FIRE. FOR 2026, MY FIRE SHALL FALL ON THE REBUILT AND RESTORED ALTARS AND EVERYTHING WILL BURN AND HEARTS WILL TURN!"

Take Note of Date;

And Quote: "I understood that The LORD was allowing me to see into the plans of the enemy, so that His people could rise in prayer and intercept and disarm what the kingdom of darkness was attempting to begin to establish in this hour.

Conclusion from Wade

The ending of this story is yet to be seen. It is time for the sons and daughters to stand up and stop the advancement of the kingdom of darkness. They must stand in their GOD-GIVEN AUTHORITY AND TAKE BACK THE KIGNDOM OF THE EARTH. How will we, some ask? By the BLOOD OF THE LAMB AND THE TESTIMONY OF HIS WORD! What everyone needs to know is that the KINGDOM of LIGHT overcomes the darkness every time. Heaven is waiting for us to take action and declare the VICTORY of the BLOOD of YESHUA! The Angel Armies are ready; Christ is at the helm. All of heaven is waiting on us. Chuck Pierce talked about this nearly a year ago. I wrote about it in September of last year.

It does not depend on the President of the United States or the Government or the Military. It depends on the children of the KING! The table is set, the KING is coming, and HE expects the Kingdom to advance as the sons and daughters take their places and the world rejoices.

SEEK YE FIRST THE KINGDOM OF GOD (LIGHT), YAHUDA'S KINGDOM, AND WATCH WHAT WILL HAPPEN AS YESHUA AND THE ARMIES OF GOD ENTER BATTLE!

Many Blessings,

The Jewish New Year for Trees!

This month you are going to hear a lot about Trees.

Scripture talks about this month as a time of planting. Well, everywhere you look or you go, it's about what President Trump is doing or has done. In actuality, you should be saying, "Look what the LORD has done and is doing." He definitely is planting new trees

- some as provision, some as food producers, and some as signs of new life of HIS creation.

"When you come to the land and you plant any tree, you shall treat its fruit as forbidden; for three years it will be forbidden and not eaten. In the fourth year, all of its fruit shall be sanctified to praise the LORD. In the fifth year, you may eat its fruit." (Leviticus 19:23-25)

In the Hebrew calendar, there are four New Years. The first of Shevat is the New Year for trees according to the ruling of Beit Shammai. Beit Hillel, however, places it on the fifteenth of that month. (Mishnah Rosh Hashanah 1:1)

Tu B'Shevat, the 15th day of the Jewish month of Shevat, is a holiday known as the New Year for Trees. The word "Tu" is not really a word; it is the number 15 in Hebrew, as if you were to call the Fourth of July "IV July" (IV being 4 in Roman numerals). See Hebrew Alphabet for more information about using letters as numbers and why the number 15 is written this way.

This is the day when the sap begins to rise in the fruit trees in Israel—the start of a new growing season. We mark the day by eating fruit, particularly from the "Seven Kinds" with which Israel is blessed (wheat, barley, grapes, figs, pomegranates, olives and dates). The "New Year of Trees" is the day from which the new year is reckoned for the fruit of the trees with regard to the mitzvot of ma'aser ("tithes"; fruit that blossoms after this date may not be taken as a tithe.

Judaism having several different New Years is not as strange a concept as it sounds at first blush; in America, we have the calendar year (January-December), the school year (September-June), and many businesses have fiscal years. It's basically the same idea with the various Jewish New Years.

Tu B'Shevat is the New Year for the purpose of calculating the age of trees for tithing. See Lev. 19:23-25, which states that fruit from trees may not be eaten during the first three years; the fourth year's fruit is for God, and after that, you can eat the fruit. Each tree is considered to have aged one year as of Tu B'Shevat, so if you planted a tree on Shevat 14, it begins its second year the next day, but if you plant a tree two days later, on Shevat 16, it does not reach its second year until the next Tu B'Shevat.

Customs

There are few customs or observances related to this holiday. One custom is to eat a new fruit on this day, or to eat from the Seven Species (shivat haminim) described in the Bible as being abundant in the land of Israel. The Shivat Haminim are: wheat, barley, grapes (vines), figs, pomegranates, olives and dates (honey) (Deut. 8:8). You can make a nice vegetarian pilaf from the shivat haminim: a bed of cooked bulgar wheat or wheat berries and barley, topped with figs, dates, raisins (grapes), and pomegranate seeds, served with a dressing of olive oil, balsamic vinegar (grapes) and pomegranate juice.

Shevat is the fifth month of the Spiritual New Year and the eleventh month of the twelve months of the Hebrew physical calendar. It begins on the evening of Shevat 1, (Sunday) January 18, 2026, and ends at nightfall on Shevat 30, (Monday) February 19, 2026.

Biblical Months fall under the Law Form of YHWH (Yahweh), Father-Son-Holy Spirit, through the revelation of His Word.

In developing this calendar prayer guide, prophets are used to bring current words from the LORD*. Many members of the Republic do not have access to publications such as the Elijah List, Judaism 101, teachings from Chuck Pierce, Robert Heider and many other contributing authors which are included. 1 Thessalonians 5:20, "Do not spurn the gifts and utterances of the prophets (do not depreciate prophetic revelations) nor despise inspired instruction or exhortation or warning. Keep your spiritual eyes open, much is about to be revealed."

Shevat is the 11th month of the Biblical Calendar, which dates from 3761 BC.

It is presumed that the date is the Beginning of Creation. It is the month of dreams, bringing warfare strategies for the next few months; it is GOD'S month of revelation!

This is the month that Righteousness becomes your foundation. Alphabetically, the word symbolizes the "Righteous One."

Shevat (Hebrew: שְׁבָט) is the fifth month of the civil year starting in Tishre (or Tishri) and the eleventh month of the ecclesiastical year on the Hebrew calendar starting in Nisan. It is a winter month of 30 days. Shevat usually occurs in January–February on the Gregorian calendar. The name of the month was taken from the Akkadian language during the Babylonian Captivity. The assumed Akkadian origin of the month is Šabātu meaning strike, that refers to the heavy rains of the season. In Jewish sources, the month is first mentioned by this name in Zechariah 1.

The Month of Shevat – According to Hebrew tradition, not scripture (Sefer Yetzirah)

Each month of the Jewish year has a corresponding color, a letter of the Hebrew alphabet, a zodiac sign, one of the twelve tribes of Israel, a sense, and a controlling organ/limb of the body.

Tu Beeshvat, the 15th day of the 11th month alludes to the secret of God's essential Name, Havayah (יהוה). The value of the first two letters of Havayah, (the yud and hei, which represent the higher, concealed level of unification) is 15. Its last two letters (vav and hei, which represent the lower, revealed level of unification), equal to 11. Indeed, as explained elsewhere, the full secret of the Havayah is the secret of the "Tree of Life," the tree of the month of Shevat.

In an ascension unto the LORD, He said to me, "There is something you wanted to see." Suddenly, I was taken before a tree in the Garden. There was no other tree in all of the forest as large or beautiful as the tree of Life. Its fruit was the size of nerf footballs and dripped with an oil that looked like honey. There was like a forcefield or dome over the tree, and on four corners, representing North, South, East, and West, massive Angels with impressive swords stood at attention. I immediately asked Yeshua, "Why are the Angels guarding the tree? Nothing can enter heaven to touch it or take its fruit."

The Lord responded, "The Angels would be like an Honor Guard on earth. It is considered an honor for them to serve." "How long does each one stay on guard?" I asked. "Only a day here; a thousand earth years."

We were about fifty yards from the tree, which had a path all the way around its perimeter. There were beautiful paths leading to the tree from all directions. Those in Heaven and those in the Spirit were on the paths, being led by Angels who were teaching them the wonders of Heaven.

Tribe: Asher

The name "Asher" (אָשֵׁר) means "pleasure" and "happiness." Our father Jacob blessed his son Asher: "from Asher comes delicious [lit. fat] bread, and he shall provide the delicacies of the king" (Genesis 49:20). From this it is evident that Asher represents the sense of taste and eating.

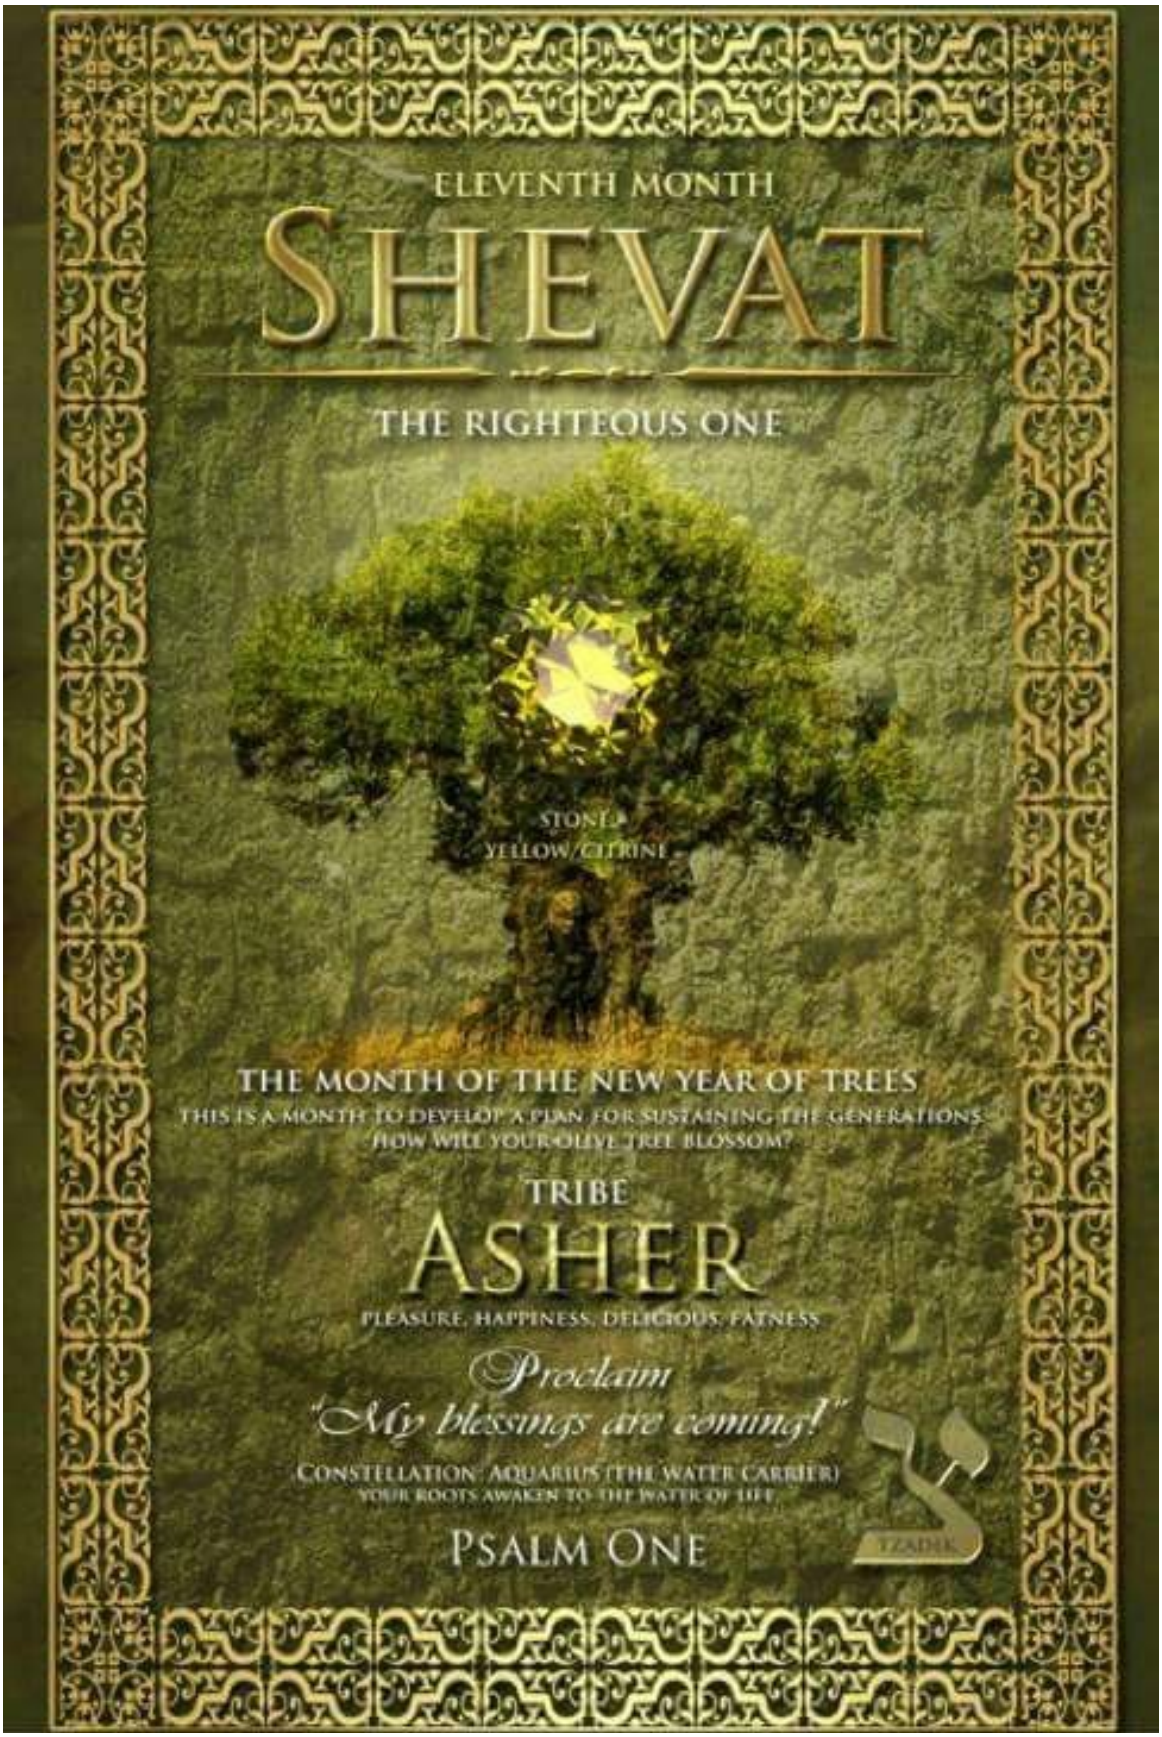

The special tree which Asher personifies is the olive tree, which gives the goodly oil with which Asher's portion in the land of Israel was blessed. Of the seven species of the land of Israel, the olive is the sixth, which, in Kabbalah, (Kabbalah קבלה, sometimes spelled qabalah or cabala) means "received." In common use today, Kabbalah refers to the received wisdom of theology of Jewish practice built upon teachings handed down through the generations from Sinai). It is sometimes described as Jewish mysticism. Once studied by elite scholars (known as mekubalim), it has since been popularized, particularly as it is seen through the lens of Chasidic teachings. corresponds to the sefirah of foundation, and to the tzadik who is described in the Bible as, "tzadik, foundation of the world" (Proverbs 10:25). Olive oil represents the potent seed of the tzadik to bear and sustain blessed generations of Jewish souls.

Asher was born on 2 Shevat 2199 (1562 BCE). According to some accounts, 2nd of Shevat is also the date of his death.

Asher's descendants in more than one regard deserved their name ("Asher" meaning "happiness"). The tribe of Asher was the one most blessed with male children, and its women were so beautiful that priests and princes sought them in marriage. The abundance of oil in the land possessed by Asher so enriched the tribe that none of them needed to hire a habitation. The soil was so fertile that in times of scarcity, and especially in the Sabbatical year, Asher provided all Israel with olive oil. The Asherites were also renowned for wisdom.

Unfortunately, Asher often took the time of new beginnings and prosperity and compromised, many times falling from God's grace, but still was quick to repent and find God's mercy and would be restored. Deborah rebuked the tribe of Asher for its failures in Judges 5:17, and they repented and were restored. When Gideon and King David needed help, Asher stepped up and sent mighty men of war to aid them. (1 Chronicles 7:40)

Asher and his four sons and a daughter settled in Canaan. On his deathbed, Jacob blessed Asher by saying that "his bread shall be fat, and he shall yield royal dainties." (Gen. 49:20)

Moses said this of Asher: "May Asher be blessed above other sons; may he be esteemed by his brothers; may he bathe his feet in olive oil." (Deuteronomy 33:24)

Asher was the eighth son of the patriarch Jacob and the traditional progenitor of the tribe Asher.

Asher is represented as the younger brother of Gad; these two being the sons of Zillah, the handmaid of Leah (Genesis 35:26). The Biblical account shows Zillah's status as a handmaid change to an actual wife of Jacob (Genesis 30:9). Her handmaid status is regarded by some Biblical scholars as indicating that the authors saw the tribe of Asher as being not of entirely Israelite origin and never incorporated into the body politic.

1. Biblical Account of Asher:

According to the Biblical account, Asher was the eighth of Jacob's sons, the second borne to him by Zillah the handmaid of Leah. His uterine brother was Gad (Genesis 35:26). With four sons and one daughter he went down into Egypt (Genesis 46:17). At his birth Leah exclaimed, "Happy am I! For the daughters will call me happy: and she called his name Asher," i.e. Happy (Genesis 30:13). This foreshadowing of good fortune for him is repeated in the blessing of Jacob: "His bread shall be fat, and he shall yield royal dainties" (Genesis 49:20); and again in that of Moses: "Blessed be Asher with children; let him be acceptable unto his brethren, and let him dip his foot in oil" (Deuteronomy 33:24). His family prospered in Egypt, and at the Exodus the tribe of Asher is numbered at 41,500 adult males (Numbers 1:41). At the second census the number is given 53,400 (Numbers 26:47)

2. Territory of Asher:

The boundaries of the territory are given in considerable detail in Joshua 19:25 (compare Judges 1:31; Joshua 17:10). The lot of Asher formed a strip of land from 8 to 10 miles wide running northward along the shore to the neighborhood of Sidon, touching Issachar, Zebulun and Naphtali on the East. Asher seems to have taken possession of the territory by a process of peaceful penetration, not by conquest, and as we have seen, he never drove out the Phoenicians from their cities. The rich plain of Acre and the fertile flats between the mountain and the sea near Tyre and Sidon therefore remained in Phoenician hands. But the valleys breaking down westward and opening on the plains have always yielded fine crops of grain. Remains of an ancient oak forest still stand to the North of Carmel. The vine, the fig, the lemon, and the orange flourish. Olive trees abound, and the supplies of olive oil which to this day are exported from the district recall the word of the old-time blessing, "Let him dip his foot in oil." W. Ewing

Shevat in Jewish history and tradition

- 1 Shevat – Moses repeats the Torah (Deuteronomy 1:3)
- 2 Shevat (circa 1628 BC) – Asher is born.
- 24 Shevat (517 BC) – Zechariah's prophecy (Zechariah 1:7–16)
- 28 Shevat (circa 134 BC) – Antiochus V abandoned his siege of Jerusalem and his plans for the city's destruction.

Sense: eating, taste

The rectified sense of eating is the special sense of the tzadik, as is said: "The tzadik eats to satisfy his soul" (Proverbs 13:25). This verse continues: "but the stomach of the wicked is always lacking." The soul-oriented tzadik feels "full" and happy with a little; the body-oriented wicked person never feels content.

Eating from the Tree of Life, the tzadik derives great pleasure ("life" in Torah means "pleasure") from the Divine sparks of light and lifeforce present within the food he eats. In his rectified state of consciousness, he is continuously aware that "not on the [physical dimension of] bread alone does man live, but on each utterance of the mouth of God does man live."

It is the time of greatest pleasure in partaking of food on the day of Shabbat. The word for "to satisfy [his soul]" (שׂבַע) is cognate to the word for "seven" (שֶׁבַע), alluding to the seventh day of Shabbat. A true tzadik experiences the pleasure of Shabbat the entire week (in the Zohar, the tzadik is called Shabbat). The word Shevat itself transforms to Shabbat (since the two letters tet and tav, both letters of the tongue, are phonetically interchangeable).

A Hebrew Perspective

Does God really desire blood sacrifices?

By Reuven ben Joseph (Bob Koch) Edited by Rachel ben Joseph (Remy Koch)

Reprinted from 5785: Introduction

In our previous multi-part series, we answered the question: "Is a vicarious blood sacrifice the only biblical way to receive forgiveness for sins?" Numerous examples from Adam and Eve to Yochanan the Immerser's (John the Baptist) "baptism of repentance for remission of sins" offered evidence demonstrating that YeHoVaH (YHVH; the LORD) had originally provided a path to atonement and forgiveness for sin that did not include blood sacrifices. This was an early tradition that continued even after the Levitical code was enacted. Several examples of YHVH providing substitutes and alternatives to blood atonement is evident both within and outside the code itself.

It was demonstrated that the entire Torah-Pentateuch was not based on "the principle of blood atonement"[1] – regardless of the contention of prominent Messianic Jewish Christian (MJC) leaders. The entire Hebrew Scriptures (TNK) rest upon YHVH's covenants with all humanity. This began with Adam but were later specifically implemented through the Mosaic Covenant of YHVH with "Israel," the physical descendants of Abraham, Isaac and Jacob and includes those gentiles who have rejected their gods and attached themselves to YHVH.

In fact, in the time frame from Adam through all the Patriarchs, there are no commands in the Torah–Pentateuch to make blood atonement. Specific sacrifices for the removal of iniquity and sin were first initiated at the ceremonies anointing Aaron as Kohen Gadol (High Priest; HP) and his sons as priests (Ex 28:1-43; Lev 8:1-36, 9:1-24). Leviticus, chapters 1-7 describe the primary Levitical ceremonial rites. Yet, as previously stated, YHVH always provided alternatives to blood sacrifice for expiation of sin, especially in exile.

This final set of articles about vicarious blood sacrifices will focus on answering the fundamental question: Does God really desire blood sacrifices?

Many MJCs, Jews and Christians are surprised to discover that there are no verses in the TNK supporting the NT claim that " .without the shedding of blood, there is no forgiveness" (Heb 9:22b). The reader may correctly point out that there are numerous rabbinic statements supporting that NT assertion. However, there are also many rabbinic comments pointing out that confession of guilt, repentance (which includes works showing so such as restitution) and prayer can likewise bring forgiveness of sin. This position is supported by numerous TNK and even NT witnesses.

Regardless of rabbinic commentary or MJC and Graeco-Roman (GR) church dogma, the NT claim at Hebrews 9:22b is nonetheless not scripturally supported since it cannot be found anywhere in the TNK.[2] If the aforementioned assertion really was a foundational biblical principle, why weren't Adam, Noah, our three primary patriarchs and their descendants, the patriarchs of the twelve tribes, commanded to practice the rite?

1 Refuting Rabbinic Objections to Christianity and Messianic Prophecies, Chapter 22, "Can Prayer Replace Sacrifice?" Independently Published, Jan 3, 2019

The TNK reports that sacrifices and offerings did play a central role in the biblical narrative from the story of Cain and Abel to the destruction of the second Temple. As was typical in the Ancient Near East (ANE), a burnt offering was usually performed as validation for various covenants between God and man and between individuals.[3] The passages which comprise what many Jewish and Christian scholars refer to as "the priestly code," consist of commands, statutes and laws concerning ritual offerings mainly revolving around the temple cult. Detailed instructions are included about how to build proper altars, the correct attitude of the offerer or penitent, etc.

In this final series, we will address the seemingly contradictory fact that YHVH also spoke often of animal sacrifices as being something that he does not really desire – that they are not his ideal model. Through his prophet-agents, YHVH declared:

Ps 51:18 (TNK) For Thou desirest not sacrifice; or else I would give it: Thou delightest not in burnt offering. The sacrifices of God are a broken spirit: a broken and a contrite heart, O God, Thou wilt not despise.

Isa 1:11 To what purpose is the multitude of your sacrifices to me? says YHVH: I am sated with the burnt offerings of rams, and the fat of fed beasts; and I delight not in the blood of bullocks, or of lambs, or of the goats.

Ps 141:2 Let my prayer be set forth before Thee like incense; and the lifting up of my hands like the evening sacrifice.

Likewise, both Yochanan (John) and Yeshua performed an "immersion (baptism) of repentance for remission of sins" after one had confessed one's sin, repented, and paid any restitution, if required. There was no additional requirement of a blood sacrifice for atonement.

Mark 1:4 John did baptize in the wilderness, and preached the baptism of repentance for the remission of sins. (see also John 3:22)

John 3:22 After these things Yeshua and his disciples came into the land of Judea, and there he remained with them and baptized. (see also John 4:1)

2 The NT claim at Hebrews 9:22b is based upon a now well-proven out-of-context misapplication of Leviticus 17:11. See Prof. Rabbi Jacob Milgrom's seminal commentary, "Leviticus", on Lev 17:11 and Prof. Rabbi Baruch Levine's, "JPS Torah Commentary on Leviticus", on Lev 17:11. In light of the many alternatives to vicarious animal atonement evidence in previous articles, the assertion made at Hebrews 9:22b is too limiting to fit the facts. Purification by other than blood includes (but is not limited to) YHVH's holy spirit, fire, water, oil and the ashes of red heifer.

3 But not always; e.g. Jacob sealed his Covenant with YHVH by the ceremonial act of pouring oil over a rock (Gen 28:10-22).

Often referenced by the Church Fathers, the Ebionites, were descendants of the original members of the Jerusalem community led by Yeshua's brother Jacob (James).[4] They considered Yeshua to be the Anointed one, i.e. "Messiah," the promised "prophet like Moses." The Ebionites taught that the blood sacrifices had reluctantly been approved by Moses because the people had long been exposed to the formal, elaborate sacrificial system of Egypt. They also stated one of Yeshua's missions in bringing back the "higher Torah" was to end the sacrificial system once and for all.

According to Church Father Epiphanius, who had access to the complete document of the Ebionites' Gospel, Yeshua is quoted as saying, "I have come to abolish the sacrifices" (Panarion 30.16.5).

"In the Pseudo-Clementine Recognitions. Israel had learned to sacrifice to idols in Egypt (36.1). As a concession to Israel's weakness, Moses permitted sacrifices "to God alone" (36.1, Latin) until Israel should learn from the promised prophet like Moses (i.e., Jesus) that God desires mercy and not sacrifice (37.2)."[5]

Yehovah went so far as to send gentile armies to destroy the Temples and the sacrificial system along with it – In the first destruction, his k'vod (glory) and divine sh'khinah (presence) abandoned Solomon's Temple in Jerusalem, but he did not forsake them. Yehovah went into exile with his people becoming for them a Mikdash ma'at (little Sanctuary) in Babylon (Ezek 11:16). This covenantal faithfulness guaranteed that any Israelite or Judahite who would confess his sins and turn back to YHVH would be forgiven. His sins would be atoned for without having to offer the blood of bulls, goats, or sheep.

The dichotomy regarding animal sacrifices has created a kind of "cognitive dissonance" for many Jews and Christians over the past 2,000 years or so. Sometimes we tend to dismiss contradictory information and remain entrenched in our beliefs. But, as always, isn't "author intent" what matters most when seeking God's truth? An intellectually honest person will usually seek to resolve the conflict.

The Temple was finally destroyed by Rome in 70 CE. The entire sacrificial system that had grown into a bloated professional and commercial "industry" was destroyed. Was YHVH's destruction solely based on the merely performative attitude of the offerers and a corrupt priesthood, or was it because he really desires something more truly heart-felt than a pagan-originated system that required rivers of blood from innocent animals for the expiation of sins?

Part 1: Why did YHVH send Moses to bring Israel out of Egypt?

Renowned Messianic Jewish Christian (MJC) apologist, Michael Brown, PhD. teaches the following regarding YHVH's purpose for the exodus.

"Sacrifices were so important to Israelite religion that when the Lord sent Moses and Aaron to Pharaoh, he sent them with this message: 'The God of the Hebrews has met with us. Now let us take a three-day journey into the desert to offer sacrifices to the LORD our God, or he may strike us with plagues or with the sword' (Exod. 5:3). The very reason God gave for calling his people out of Egypt was to offer sacrifices to him." (Emphasis mine)[6]

For Brown, God's desire for animal blood sacrifices was so central to the "Israelite religion" at the time of the exodus, it was the "very reason" God sent Moses and Aaron as his agents to deliver them from Egyptian bondage.

When God first spoke to Moses on Mount Sinai of the purpose for his mission to Pharaoh, what did he have to say about sacrifices?

Ex 3:7 And YHVH said, I have surely seen the affliction of my people who are in Miżrayim (Egypt), and have heard their cry by reason of their taskmasters; for I know their sorrows; 8 and I am come down to deliver them out of the hand of Miżrayim, and to bring them up out of that land to a good land and a large, to a land flowing with milk and honey; . 10 Come now therefore, and I will send thee to Par'o, that thou mayst bring my people the children of Yisra'el out of Miżrayim.

YHVH told Moses he was sending him to Pharaoh for two reasons: 1. "I am come down to deliver them out of the hand of Miżrayim" (Ex 3:8, 10); 2. .to bring them up out of that land to a good land and a large, to a land flowing with milk and honey (Ex 3:8). Please note that YHVH himself declared the primary reason for sending Moses to Pharaoh twice (vv.8 and 10); there were no mentions of sacrifices.

But Moses was hesitant; he didn't believe he was suitable for the job.

Ex 3:11 And Moshe said to God, Who am I, that I should go to Parʿo, and that I should bring the children of Yisraʾel out of Miżrayim?

In response to Moses' insecurity, God added a "token" (Heb. oth; sign, promise, evidence) of assurance for him that his efforts would be successful.

Ex 3:12 And he said, Because I will be with thee; and this shall be the token to thee, that I have sent thee. When thou hast brought the people out of Miżrayim you shall serve God upon this mountain.

First, God reassured Moses that he will be "with" him when he stands in front of Pharaoh and success ultimately did not depend on him. Secondly, YHVH promised Moses and the people a "token" of his faithfulness after he delivered the people to freedom: Moses and all Israel would "serve" YHVH at that same Mount Sinai where he had first appeared. The last "you" in that verse is plural indicating "you all," i.e. Moses and all Israel.

What was meant by "serving God" (Heb. avodah)? In the context of "the token" and the historical time period, it meant to worship him by acknowledging his divine authority and faithfulness through prayer, making voluntary burnt offerings (indicating devotion to God), peace offerings, feasting and praising his name: YeHoVaH.

The manifestation of this sign would be God's gift to Israel; a celebration of their freedom and the commencement of the fulfillment of YHVH's promises to the Patriarchs. Moses now had confidence he would be successful in his mission.

Key: YHVH did not say he sent Moses to free the Israelite slaves because he "desired" or "needed" animal sacrifices for anything. The reason Moses was sent was because YHVH was ready to bring about the physical fulfillment of the covenant promises he had made to their forefathers beginning with Abraham (Gen 15:13-16).

Then YHVH commanded Moses to say the following to Pharaoh.

Ex 4:22 And thou shalt say to Parʿo, Thus says YHVH, Yisraʾel is my son, my firstborn: 23 and I say to thee, Let my son go, that he may serve me: and if thou refuse to let him go, behold, I will slay thy son, thy firstborn.

YHVH told Moses to demand that Pharaoh, "Let my son go, that he may serve me." Moses was to speak to Pharaoh in a language he could understand that of a god commanding worship from his subjects. But the accompanying murderous threat to Pharaoh's son (including all the people) as the consequence for disobeying a superior god could incur the powerful wrath of Pharaoh against the Hebrews.

Contrast God's direct, alarming command to Moses with the actual words Moses and Aaron substituted during their first audience with Pharoah.

Ex 5:1 And afterwards Moshe and Aharon went in, and told Parʿo, Thus says YHVH God of Yisraʾel, Let my people go, that they may hold a feast to me in the wilderness. 2 And Parʿo said, "Who is YHVH, that I should obey his voice to let Yisraʾel go? I know not YHVH, nor will I let Yisraʾel go. 3 And they said, The God of the Hebrews has met with us: let us go, we pray thee, three days' journey into the desert, and sacrifice to YHVH our God; lest he fall upon us with pestilence, or with the sword.

Apparently, Moses and Aaron had a meeting before relaying YHVH's command to Pharaoh and warning him of the dire consequences for refusal. Obviously, they decided to "soften" God's message so it might go down easier – or perhaps prevent them from getting killed on the spot. So, they literally changed the words YHVH had given them, presenting it more like a less threatening and reasonable plea. Instead of relaying the death threat, they politely asked him to comply with the request; "we pray thee ." which in the Hebrew is na, meaning "please." They told Pharaoh YHVH would punish the Israelites severely by striking them down with a plague or allowing them to be hacked to death with swords if they didn't obey. They hoped that by representing themselves as supplicants to an unforgiving god, Pharaoh might realize that letting his slaves be murdered would severely reduce their work output!

However, the blustering Pharaoh said he did not "know" their god, and, not knowing about the direct threat to his heir and people for non-compliance, he had no incentive to submit to YHVH or obey him. Naturally, he flatly refused their polite request. To be fair, God had previously told Moses that Pharaoh would not listen, and he would ultimately have to "stretch out my hand" and strike Egypt" to get him to release the Israelites. (Ex 3:20). However, they did not deliver the message God had instructed them to give to Pharaoh.

The fact is, Moses and Aaron asking Pharoah for only a "three-day" leave instead of demanding a permanent departure was just a subterfuge. Since daily sacrifices to Egypt's "living" gods was central to the state religion, Pharoah may have understood the necessity to "feed" their god and given him the justification to let the people "temporarily" travel to the nearby desert region.[7] Of course, it didn't work; neither did nine of the ten plagues. God ended up taking Israel out of Egypt "with a mighty hand," just as he had foretold.

Moses and the people redeem "the token"

7 The Egyptians believed their gods were actually "living" beings so they had to care for them daily. The spirit of the god literally inhabited the idol they created to worship. It had to be fed a sacrifice in the morning and "put to bed" at night.

When Israel arrived at the wilderness of Sinai, they made camp at the foot of Mount Sinai (Ex 18:5, 19:1). The "three-day journey" ended up taking up about 2.5 months of hard testing until Israel finally arrived at the mountain and its surrounding wilderness.[8]

YHVH met with Moses on the mountain while the people waited below. YHVH told him to offer Israel the opportunity to make a covenant with him and the people immediately agreed.

Ex 19:4 You have seen what I did to Miżrayim, and how I bore you on eagles' wings, and brought you to myself. 5 Now therefore, if you will obey my voice indeed, and keep my covenant, then you shall be my own treasure from among all peoples: for all the earth is mine: 6 and you shall be to me a kingdom of priests, and a holy nation. These are the words which thou shalt speak to the children of Yisra'el. 7 And Moshe came and called for the elders of the people, and laid before them all these words which YHVH had commanded him, 8 and all the people answered together, and said, All that YHVH has spoken we will do. And Moshe reported the words of the people to YHVH. 9 And YHVH said to Moshe, Lo, I come to thee in a thick cloud, that the people may hear when I speak with thee, and believe thee forever . 10 And YHVH said to Moshe, Go to the people, and sanctify them today and tomorrow, and let them wash their clothes, 11 and be ready by the third day: for on the third day YHVH will come down in the sight of all the people upon mount Sinay.

God instructed Moses to "sanctify" the people (Heb. kodsh'tem; to consecrate, make holy) over the next two days. It's important to note that no repentance or blood sacrifices for atonement, ritual purification and forgiveness for sin were specifically required. Sanctification would occur even though they had exhibited faithlessness by doubts and complaints all along the way there. This is textual evidence that there was no sacrificial cult or "Israelite religion" at that time. The people were only to wash their clothes and abstain from sexual activity to become "holy" (Ex 19:10, 15).

On the third day, YHVH audibly spoke The Ten Sayings (Commandments) for all Israel to hear (Ex 20:1-14). This is more evidence: Would God have come into the presence of the people to speak the words of his covenant to them if they had been in a state of ritual defilement?

From Exodus 20:15 to 23:33, we read of ancillary instructions concerning judgments and ordinances as well as the commands to celebrate three annual pilgrimage festivals. According to the text, God spoke these to Moses alone on the mountain.

8 The Israelite families offered Pesakh (Passover) sacrifices before they left Egypt. Those did not fall within the parameters of offering sacrifices after they had left Egypt, which is the time frame within which we are concerned.

Finally, the next day, the book of the Covenant of YHVH that Moses wrote the night before was read before the people and the token was redeemed.

Ex 24:3 And Moshe came and told the people all the words of YHVH, and all the judgments: and all the people answered with one voice, and said, All the words which YHVH has said will we do. 4 And Moshe wrote all the words of YHVH, and rose up early in the morning, and built an altar under the hill, and twelve pillars, according to the twelve tribes of Yisra'el. 5 And he sent the young men of the children of Yisra'el, who offered burnt offerings, and sacrificed peace offerings of oxen to YHVH. 6 And Moshe took half of the blood, and put it in basins; and half of the blood he sprinkled on the altar. 7 And he took the book of the covenant, and read in the hearing of the people: and they said, All that YHVH has said will we do, and obey. 8 And Moshe took the blood, sprinkled it on the people, and said, Behold the blood of the covenant, which YHVH has made with you concerning all these words. (see also Ex 24:9-11)

There were no animal sacrifices from the time the Israelites left Egypt until the reading of Moses' book of the Covenant of YHVH. Only "burnt offerings" and "peace offerings" were performed at that time. The blood was used to seal the Covenant. Sin offerings had not yet been commanded. Besides, the people had already been sanctified for three days before this event.

The whole burnt offerings were a tribute denoting Israel's complete dedication to YHVH. The peace offerings were gifts symbolizing their communal reconciliation with him, gratitude for their deliverance from Egypt and praise for YHVH's covenant blessing. Moreover, there was no "Israelite religion," i.e. a formal creed and attendant ritual, at the time of the exodus. According to the TNK, the priesthood did not officially come into being until after the tabernacle was erected and sanctified – a full year after leaving Egypt (Ex 40:17; Lev chapters 8-10).

Conclusion

The foregoing refutation of Brown's assertion that the "very reason" God freed Israel from Egypt was "to offer sacrifices to him" because animal sacrifices were "so important to Israelite religion" is taken directly from biblical text. It is not conjecture or opinion.

The text informs us that YHVH told Moses he was sending him "to deliver them out of the hand of Miżrayim to bring them up from that land to a good and large land, to a land flowing with milk and honey" (Ex 3:8). And he told him a second time to make sure he got the point .that thou mayst bring my people the children of Yisraʾel out of Miżrayim" (Ex 3:10) Thereby, YHVH would fulfill the covenant promise he had made centuries earlier to the Patriarchs. In this original command to Moses, YHVH made no mention of sacrifices at all.

However, Moses lacked confidence in his ability to succeed. So, YHVH gave him and the people a "token" of his faithfulness – an assurance that they would serve him at the mountain – to indicate the successful completion of their mission. But the sign ended up being much more than rejoicing for their freedom, offering sacrifices and the activation of the fulfillment of the land covenant. It also signified the inception of a new covenant with all the people of Israel – the Mosaic Covenant of YHVH. This contract was represented by tangible evidence: the book of the Covenant written by Moses containing the Ten Sayings that was formally accepted by the people.[9] The sacrifices were simply an outward sign of that covenant's ratification just as they were for Abraham. They were not something God identified as "the very reason" for the exodus.

The simple fact is, the Hebrews (Israelites) had no specific tradition of sacrificing handed down from the Patriarchs. Abraham is recorded as being prepared to sacrifice Isaac as a "burnt offering," but God provided a ram instead. Among other things, this served as a refutation of human sacrifice (especially of children) practiced by the pagans. Neither Isaac nor Jacob is identified as making any animal sacrifices at all. It's possible, even probable, that the Patriarchs made the occasional voluntary burnt or peace offering as they were well-known in the ANE. But there are no biblical records that any such sacrifices were made to YHVH (or Elohim, El Shaddai or El Elyon) as part of a Hebrew tradition before or during their residency in Egypt. There was no known "Israelite religion" during those time frames. Moreover, had Israelites sacrificed even one lamb while in Egypt, it would likely have caused riots and many deaths at the hands of the Egyptians (Ex 8:22; v.26 Christian).[10]

The foregoing re the MJCs is important because it represents a fundamental inaccuracy in MJC theology. Due to this misunderstanding, many MJCs are wedded to the idea that the foundational principle of the Torah-Pentateuch is based "on the principle of blood atonement." While blood sacrifice was the primary, but certainly not exclusive means of making atonement after the Levitical code was enacted, the covenants from Adam to 9 Later the people received more tangible evidence in the form of the two tablets of stone written by the finger of God.

10 The Egyptians viewed certain animals as sacred and not to be sacrificed; a sheep was one of them (Ex 8:22; v.26 Christian). They were undoubtedly horrified by the Hebrew's slaughter of the pesakh*, the Israelite "Happy Meal" the night before YHVH delivered them from Egypt. The Hebrews must have at least known the basics about Egyptian sacrifices, especially since all of but 70 of them were born there. But, IMO, the traditions handed down from the 12 tribal patriarchs would likely have prevented the vast majority from imitating the Egyptians.*

Moses remain the foundation of the Torah-Pentateuch. The exodus culminated in the enactment of the Mosaic Covenant of YHVH with the descendants of the Patriarchs; the sacrifices were the "token" that sealed and confirmed it.

NATE & CHRISTY

This is so important to know going into this year. So much has happened this past year on a spiritual level that often takes longer to process in your heart and soul.

It's like the difference between the speed of light and sound. Your spirit man can receive and shift seasons instantly (speed of light), but your soul is more like the speed of sound. It just takes longer.

And if you don't give your soul space to ADJUST to the changes, you will inevitably crash.

This is why you feel like a walking contradiction right now, because your spirit man has crossed over a threshold, or is crossing over, but your soul still feels stuck back in the dark valley.

Your spirit man is leaping forward, but your soul is saying, "Give me a moment!" and you have to cater to both, which can feel difficult. Both obedience and wisdom, and knowing timing.

What I have felt is the rising up of a fresh anointing in a new area, but simultaneously feeling like I need to pause and detox my thought processes until they sync up. Make sense?

Also, our physical bodies need attention too. We have to think holistically going forward. A healthy body, soul, and spirit are vital going forward.

Why do you think the enemy has raged in all three areas? To bring in toxicity.

Against our bodies - toxic foods, atmospheres, and medicine, and the issues that arise from soul toxicity.

Against our souls - toxic cultural influences, toxic people, demonic assignments, strongholds, trauma, and toxic mindsets affecting our mental health.

Against our spirit - counterfeit spiritual influences that aren't the Holy Spirit.

So many of you are feeling SHELL-SHOCKED right now because you know the shift is here, but you are trying to play catch-up, and it can feel overwhelming.

My advice? Take the time to adjust. You can dream while also taking care of your soul and applying wisdom and discernment.

And lastly, for many of you, God is really convicting you to SEVER SOUL TIES to people that have been long overdue.

You won't feel that full release into your new chapter and new assignment if you are tethered somewhere or to someone you shouldn't be.

Let's get in sync.

"May God himself, the God of peace, sanctify you through and through. May your whole spirit, soul, and body be kept blameless at the coming of our Lord Jesus Christ." — (1 Thessalonians 5:23)

Proper Use of the Prophetic Gift

The practice in our household is to begin each day by spending time with the Lord in Holy Communion and the study of His Word as well as current prophetic words from various respected sources. In regard to the prophetic words, as we read each one, we are conscious to carefully balance each against the scriptures – does that word line up with clear Biblical teaching or does it not? Through continual practice, doing so allows us to become increasingly tuned in to the heart of God and to what He is saying to this generation and for this hour. Perfect practice makes perfect.

My ministry gifting is not that of a prophet; I am a teacher. However, over time and through study of the Word, I have gleaned what I believe to be much valuable truth regarding this subject. One essential truth is that the importance of prophecy and its proper use in the church must not be minimized. The gift of prophecy is among the nine gifts of the Spirit the Apostle Paul lists in 1 Corinthians 12, and its use and purpose are discussed in detail in chapter 14 of the same epistle.

Beyond Paul's writings, multiple other scriptures demonstrate God's emphasis on the importance of the office of the prophet and the gift of prophecy. 2 Chronicles 20:20b says, "Believe in the Lord your God, so shall ye be established; believe his prophets, so shall ye prosper." Amos 3:7 states, "Surely the Lord God will do nothing, but he revealeth his secret unto his servants the prophets." Since the Lord emphasizes the importance of prophecy, we need to attend to what the Bible says about its purpose, its importance, and its requisite qualifications.

In 1 Corinthians 14, the apostle sets forth a number of pronouncements, including the following, regarding the gift of prophecy:

1. All may prophesy. (v.5)
2. We should covet to prophesy. (v.39)
3. He that prophesies edifies the church. (v.4)
4. He that prophesies speaks unto men to edification, and exhortation, and comfort. (v.3)
5. The spirit of the prophets is subject to the prophets. (v.32)
6. Let the prophets speak two or three, and let the other judge. (v.29)
7. "Even so ye, forasmuch as ye are zealous of spiritual gifts, seek that ye may excel to the edifying of the church." (v. 12)

We will take up each of these in turn, but first, notice especially the repeated emphasis on the words, edify and edification. Edification means to bring urgent counsel, encouragement or caution. Prophecy is used to build up (edify) the church and individual believers in their faith, knowledge, and obedience to God through teaching, exhortation, and righteous living. Edification strengthens believers and equips them to serve God and resist sin and false teaching. Exhortation, on the other hand, is persuasive or encouraging communication used to encourage someone to take action or to continue doing something. Comfort could be defined as to encourage, calm, or console.

Now, consider any given prophetic word you might have heard or read. If a so-called prophetic word is "strong," "hard," or what might be termed "cold-blooded," it is not necessarily wrong so long as it also offers the redemptive side and compassion of Yeshua in order to bring the hearer to repentance. In my view, a hard word, being brought forth simply for the sake of bringing forth a hard word, is not a God word. The prophetic words brought forth by the prophets of old were oftentimes very strong, yet they invariably served to bring the nation of Israel to repentance and restoration back to God. Any present-day prophetic word lacking that same redemptive aspect, I would suggest, shows one of three possibilities: either the presenter did not receive the complete word from God before pronouncing "thus saith the Lord," or that he/she is unseasoned in the use of the gift, or ultimately, that the word is not from God. That is not meant to condemn any individual who, in fact, may be entirely well-meaning; rather, it is just discerning the prophetic word itself.

Years ago, we attended an Oral Roberts camp meeting at the Mabee Center at ORU in Tulsa, during which Buddy Harrison, Kenneth Hagin's son-in-law, gave a powerful prophetic word that was definitely from the Lord. It was most interesting, however, in that the word began with the blessings which the Lord desired to pour out upon His people. At that point, the crowd went wild with jubilation, literally hopping up and down and all. The word then continued with the conditions the Lord would require for the blessings, but the crowd didn't even hear them! They didn't even hear them! We went down to our knees in grief over the incident. So, it is equally possible to "miss it" on either end of a prophecy. Many hundreds of spiritually hungry individuals at that meeting, mostly pastors and five-fold ministry types, totally missed it because they were focused on the blessings. At other times, we can miss it because we are focused on the grief of God to the exclusion of the redemptive aspect of the message He desires to bring forth.

For clarity, the following Bible passages provide two examples among countless others.

"If ye will not hear, and if ye will not lay it to heart, to give glory unto my name, saith the LORD of hosts, I will even send a curse upon you, and I will curse your blessings: yea, I have cursed them already, because ye do not lay it to heart." (Malachi 2:2)

"If my people, which are called by my name, shall humble themselves, and pray, and seek my face, and turn from their wicked ways; then will I hear from heaven, and will forgive their sin, and will heal their land." (2 Chronicles 7:14)

In each case, the threat of a curse being upon you or that your sins will not be forgiven and your land will not be healed is conditional. It is contingent upon a positive direction change on the part of the hearers. If … then, or If not, … then.

The Book of Daniel shows the proper functioning of prophets (and prophecy). In Chapter 9, Daniel is studying the books of Jeremiah the prophet, and he comes to realize in verse 5, "We have sinned and have committed iniquity and have done wickedly and have rebelled, even by departing from thy precepts and from thy judgments." Again, in verse 10 he states, "Neither have we obeyed the voice of the Lord our God, to walk in his laws, which he set before us by his servants the prophets." Daniel, in searching the words of Jeremiah, realizes how the people have missed God and refused to walk in His Word and His ways. Daniel's response is to repent for his sin and the sins of the people and to intercede for the people before the Lord. Jeremiah and other prophets declared the Word of the Lord before the people and the nation in order to restore them to proper service of the Lord.

Now, let us consider the Apostle Paul's statements in 1 Corinthians 14.

1. All may prophesy. Yes, but not all are prophets, just as nor are all apostles, or teachers (see 1 Corinthians 12:27-31). The ministry gift of Prophet is conferred by Yeshua upon certain individuals as their primary calling to edify and establish the body of Christ. "Prophet" is not a title; rather, it is a calling from the Lord, as are the other ministry gifts. Prophets function in that capacity fluidly, frequently, and with unrivalled accuracy. Any individual may bring forth a word of prophecy at a given point in time, and all should desire to do so, but that does not make them a prophet.

2. We should all covet to prophesy. 1 Corinthians 13 reminds us that God's greatest gift to mankind is love. However, the spiritual gifts, especially the gift of prophecy, are used to edify the church, and though it ministers to believers, it ministers especially to unbelievers. In other words, God's Word, spoken through the power of the Holy Spirit, encourages and counsels believers while at the same time convicting the unbelievers, causing them to acknowledge that God is truly among the believers. This should be the desire of us all.

3. He that prophesies edifies the church. This is what prophecy does. It makes the secrets of a person's heart manifest and causes them to recognize God as the source of what's being said. This draws hearts closer to God, encouraging them in the love of God toward them by His intimate knowledge of them and their needs.

4. Prophecy is for edification, exhortation, and comfort. This differentiates the gift from speaking in tongues, which, without interpretation, does not edify the hearers.

5. The spirit of the prophets is subject to the prophets. The gift of prophecy is subject to the person who has it. They can and must do things decently and in order, not simply rattle on and say, "the Spirit made me do it." The individual has control over his own voice, and he can cease to speak if directed to do so, so as to not cause confusion in the assembly.

6. Let the prophets speak two or three, and let the other judge. Prophecy in the New Testament church is subject to being judged, as the Amplified Bible states, "So let two or three prophets speak while the rest pay attention and weigh and discern what is said." This is also why, in many churches, before a member is allowed to proclaim a word in prophecy to the congregation, he must first submit that word to an elder or other prophet to be judged. Satan desires to counterfeit everything of God, and such a practice helps to prevent that.

7. "Seek that ye may excel to the edifying of the church." This must be our primary motivation for attending church gatherings. The body of Christ is built up by that which every joint supplies. If our words, attitudes, actions, teaching, words of prophecy or anything else we might offer are not serving that one supreme purpose - edification, we are out of order.

Yeshua came to earth to restore to mankind God's covenant which had been broken at the fall of man in the garden. He came to establish His continuing presence on earth through us, His body, and He desires that we, as that body, contribute to the ministry of edification, establishment, and well-being of all believers through our various giftings and abilities. The gift of prophecy is one important way in which that is accomplished, as is the gift of teaching, and so on. The whole creation is groaning and travailing in pain waiting to see the manifestation of the sons of God. May it therefore be our high purpose to exercise the gift of prophecy and all other spiritual giftings that Yeshua has provided us, and may we do so decently and in order, entirely for His honor and glory.

Amanda Grace: Prophecy Fulfilled, a January of Justice & a Word for 2026

Prophetic Cycles Unfold

Thirty-six years to the day of Noriega's capture in Panama (January 3, 1990), Maduro was captured (January 3, 2026).

About twenty-six years from the time Chavez took over Venezuela as a dictator, Maduro fell and was removed.

These are not accidents. We are watching prophetic cycles unfold within this season in the earth.

[Editor's note: The following three words of the Lord are prophecies fulfilled about Venezuela.]

Areas Marked for Joy

Word of the Lord received on December 12, 2023:

And thus says the Lord, "This JOY shall be written in areas of the earth. There are areas of the earth marked for this JOY, O ISRAEL, O AMERICA, O FRANCE, O ENGLAND, O VENEZUELA, O MEXICO, O ARIZONA, O MICHIGAN, O NEW YORK, O CALIFORNIA, O OREGON, O SOUTH AFRICA, O CHINA! THEY ARE MARKED FOR JOY TO COME…

"January is marked," says the Lord. "January is marked."

Judgment Against Communism

Word of the Lord received on October 25, 2024:

"FOR THERE SHALL BE A RUSH, RUSH IN RUSSIA—A PUSH—UNUSUAL EVENTS, THAT THE GOVERNMENT SHALL TREMBLE. AND I AM DOING," SAYS THE LORD, "I AM DOING IT!

"Your secret meetings, your small summits, shall be exposed—what you have met about. For you are meeting to find a way to subdue Israel; you meet to find a way to interfere in the changing of the guard in America; you meet to see how you can bankrupt Israel, America—how you can further infiltrate Venezuela, how you can destroy El Salvador, how you can move closer into the waters of America and intimidate with your submarines and missiles to strong arm America into submission.

"There is a judgment," says the Lord, "I issued against communism, and on that scroll, there are DECADES of charges that have now come to their fullness. And it shall see a severe weakening of its foundation and sudden overturning of some of these nations who meet, as I the Lord SHALL THROW THEM, MYSELF, OUT OF THEIR SEATS.

"MARXISM HAS A JUDGMENT UPON IT," says the Lord. "AND AS THEY GREEDILY MEET IN THAT AREA OF THE EARTH, POOR COUNSEL SHALL BE PUT IN THE MOUTH OF THEIR ADVISORS IF THEY TRIFLE TOO CLOSE AND INTERFERE IN WHAT I THE LORD AM DOING. They shall receive the poor counsel of Absalom, and a Hushai shall be planted to carry out such. (Photo via Rawpixel)

Judgment on the Leader of Venezuela

Word of the Lord received on October 7, 2025:

"The window is closing on the leader of Venezuela," says the Lord. "Grace has been offered; judgment is coming," says the Lord, "a catastrophic fracture to the infrastructure of Venezuela," says the Lord. "For in this time, there is a shift that is meant to fracture the platforms of leadership within the earth who have trifled in MY business," says the Lord, "who have attempted to snuff out MY Word," says the Lord.

January of Justice

Word of the Lord received on December 20, 2025:

"As they secretly make dark deals to keep their seats, the scandal that coils over shall intensify in order to bring forth a standard of accountability," says the Lord, "against corrupt agents who are tethered to the kingdom of darkness and groups who funnel terror," says the Lord. "You shall watch this unfold with a 'January of Jeers,'" says the Lord. "The enemy may attempt to cause fear to open gates; however, I the Lord shall cause jeers at those who are involved in such acts," says the Lord.

"A 'January of Justice,'" says the Lord, "shall lead to a ferocious February, setting up for a ROAR in March," says the Lord.

"The January of Justice shall cause much shock," says the Lord. "It shall shake the media," says the Lord. "Plots uncovered shall even rattle the Cabinet," says the Lord, "so they re-evaluate their relationships with Me; and some will fully come unto Me, the Lord thy God, from such," says the Lord.

"In January," says the Lord, "a very large, windy turn shall be entered in the United States, Canada, and Mexico. The leadership of Canada is about to be hit with a woe for the shedding of innocent blood," says the Lord, "a woe that will cause an outcry in the nation, a woe that will expose the dark deals made with principalities and the nations they gatekeep for," says the Lord, "selling the lives of their own people for their security," says the Lord. "That deal and its inner workings shall be exposed this coming year," says the Lord.

Word for Iran

Word of the Lord received on July 3, 2025:

And the Spirit of the Lord says this day, "Posture your hearts, MY people. Posture your hearts before Me," says the Lord, "as I, the Lord, am mightily moving within the earth. Posture yourselves with a cloak of reverence and humility," says the Lord, "for My might and power are about to bring the FEAR of the Lord into your nation and the nations of the earth," says the Lord.

"My servant Daniel fasted and prayed and postured himself to receive the message from Gabriel," says the Lord, "as the Prince of Persia and the Prince of Greece both arose to oppose in that time," says the Lord. "Persia has been warned," says the Lord, "to stop the shedding of innocent blood, yet they have postured in defiance before Me," says the Lord, "and dug in their heels and stiffened their necks," says the Lord. "And for such, the neck of Iran shall now be broken," says the Lord, "and their oil, their commodities from within the earth shall now be pinched shut," says the Lord. "For the leader has but a moment left before a great implosion from within.

"For this is the time of the Esther 2 moment within nations," says the Lord, including Iran," says the Lord, "including America," says the Lord, "guards conspiring against their leaders, for evidence shall rise to the surface of such," says the Lord.

Word for Minnesota

Word of the Lord received on July 18, 2025:

"Minnesota shall have a changing of the guard in such scandal; there will be no way for leadership to continue," says the Lord.

Word of the Lord received on October 25, 2024:

Thus says the Lord, "Minnesota will begin to turn on its own," says the Lord, "for that spirit of provocation has gone forth to resurrect the anger of George Floyd, the anger and the defiance and the violence that went into the soil of that state."

Word of the Lord received on September 4, 2025:

"You have a tether to the violence of George Floyd attempting to be resurrected to spill enough blood to make attempts on the lives of leadership in the highest seats."

Word of the Lord Going Into 2026

Word of the Lord received on December 20, 2025:

"I, the Lord, the Alpha and Omega, sit on the highest throne. Come unto Me, petition Me in this hour, for I the Lord am hearkening unto the voice of My people who have been faithful, and their needs bring them before Me," says the Lord. "State your case; the heart of the giver shall be blessed," says the Lord. (Photo via Unsplash)

"Amongst the tumult, I the Lord shall pour incredible blessings upon My faithful ones," says the Lord, "that they [may] overflow and prosper to do the work I have commissioned. Those who speak truth and are willing to say what others remain silent on to keep what they have built—those I shall greatly bless," says the Lord. "Those verdicts and blessings shall come forth, starting [at] the end of what you call 'December,'" says the Lord. "And it shall be a year of outpouring on My people who are willing to stand and speak the truth amongst the tumult," says the Lord.

"I, the Lord, hold the resources; I hold the gold; I hold the silver. The earth is the Lord's and the fullness thereof. I can bless and provide no matter what earthly systems attempt to oppress," says the Lord. "Ask of Me now," says the Lord, "for I seek to bestow special gifts upon the faithful. For you are entering a year of great transition, great change; a repositioning of territory of voices, of physical land," says the Lord, "that My will may go forth, and the plans of the enemy be exposed, thwarted, dismantled; and sophisticated arguments to the highest areas of your nation [may] be refuted and dismantled," says the Lord.

"I am God. There is no other. James 4:7 is a key," says the Lord, "for the coming years, a key that will unlock great doors even for the president—if he so employs this—along with the heads of departments in their daily walk. 'Therefore, SUBMIT TO GOD. RESIST THE DEVIL, AND HE WILL FLEE FROM YOU.' (James 4:7 CSB)

"And flee he shall," says the Lord, "for those who have not watered down the power and authority from on high but are actually operating in it with the Biblical precision that brings forth results. The fervent, effectual prayers of a righteous man do indeed availeth much in an hour of confusion, tumult, turmoil, and darkness that attempts to blanket the people and nations. Fervent, effectual prayer shall tear that covering," says the Lord.

"Time to armor up and engage and understand My legal system," says the Lord, "that far supersedes your earthly courts. Those rulings will come down in great measure." Thus says the Lord, in Jesus' mighty name.

Lana Vawser:

I Heard the Lord Say, "It Will Not Always Be as It Always Has Been"

GREAT CHANGE, TURNAROUND, and NEW CHAPTERS are upon you by MY HAND and by MY Spirit.

Recently, I heard the Lord say, "It will not always be as it has always been."

As the Lord spoke these words, I saw many in the Body of Christ caught in an intense battle of the mind and heart this week. I saw such a battle over 'hope' for many in the Body of Christ, especially leading into 2026.

I could see this battle had intensified in the lives of many believers, and the voice of the enemy was whispering, "It's never going to change, it's going to be as it always has been." I could see these taunting lies of the enemy coming against many in their mind, especially over situations and circumstances they have experienced throughout their lives, where they are yet to see the breakthrough and turnaround by the Spirit of God.

I saw, for some, things had 'flared up' again in these situations and circumstances that they have continued to battle, that have not yet shifted. I could feel the intense anxiety, fear, and pressure coming against these ones as the enemy whispered, "You're about to walk the same road again. It's going to be the same outcome as it has always been."

I then heard the Lord speak again: "It will not always be as it always has been."

As I leaned in and listened to the Lord's heart, I heard:

"My people, do not align with the lies of the enemy, that it is going to be as it has always been. I say unto you, there is great turnaround upon you. I say unto you, do not look back to how it has always been. Do not give your attention to hope deferred. Do not give your attention to disappointment. Do not give your attention to foreboding, despair, and disillusionment. I say, come to Me and look unto Me. Lift your eyes to Me and allow Me to breathe upon your weary heart.

"I say unto you that I am restoring your fight. I say unto you, that I am restoring your strength and by the empowerment of My Spirit, as you choose to stand again, I say unto you, that it will not always be as it has always been. I say unto you, that things are CHANGING. I say unto you, that the pressure has come heavily upon you with the resistance of the enemy because the winds of change have landed upon these places where the enemy is whispering to you, "It is going to be as it always has been.

" I say unto you, come unto Me again and watch Me empower you, strengthen you, and breathe upon your hearts and strengthen your faith again. I say unto you, do not align with the enemy's whispers. But I say unto you, as you draw near to Me and listen to My voice and what I am speaking to your heart, I say unto you, that you are going to see miraculous momentum of My Spirit in your midst that is going to bring supernatural turnaround.

"I say unto you, I am the God of the impossible. I am the God of the turnaround. I am faithful, and I say unto you that I am moving to restore and repair in ways that you have never imagined. I say unto you, that I am the God of restoration and I am the God of the turnaround. I say unto you that I am changing the landscape in these areas. I say unto you, that where, for some, these landscapes have been so barren and have felt dead and decayed; I say unto you that I am filling your mouth with My Word again, I am breathing upon your hearts and upon faith to SPEAK AGAIN that which I have spoken to you.

"I say unto you, arise and prophesy again that which I have spoken. I say unto you, speak not the lies of the enemy. Speak not the foreboding outcomes that the enemy is coming to attempt to lure you into agreement with. I say unto you, I am strengthening you to believe again. I am healing your hearts to arise again. I am strengthening you to speak again. I say unto you, align not with the lies of the enemy that nothing will ever change. I say unto you, fill your mouths with the TRUTH that I am the God of the TURNAROUND.

"I say unto you, search My Scriptures. Search My Word for the promises that I am giving you and have given you: for I am strengthening you in faith, in these days, to stand in faith and to see that which you have never seen before. Reject ANYTHING and EVERYTHING that is not aligning with My Word and that which I have promised you. I say unto you, ARISE in authority in this hour and allow NOT the enemy to gain ground in your hearts, your lives, and your minds.

"I say unto you, GUARD THE GATES of your 2026. I say unto you, guard the crossover into 2026 through the declarations of your mouths. I say unto you, ARISE and PROPHESY that which I AM SPEAKING into your 2026. ARISE and SPEAK that which I am SPEAKING and allow MY WORDS to make way for what I am going to do in your midst in 2026.

"I say unto you, there is miraculous momentum upon you. I say unto you that there are monumental miracles in your midst. I say unto you, REJECT the lies of the enemy – that things will always be as they always have been – and align your faith with what I am speaking. GREAT CHANGE, TURNAROUND, and NEW CHAPTERS are upon you by MY HAND and by MY Spirit.

"The battle is great because the change is great, and the move of My Spirit that is going to manifest, will be momentous, and the mountains that have been before you will be suddenly levelled as MY VOICE goes forth. Seismic shifts are taking place in the spiritual realm, align with My Word and My voice, and watch the monumental move of My Spirit manifest."

Veronika West is with Melanie Cilliers.

”AND SUDDENLY I SAW THE FIRE OF HIS GLORY FALL AND EVERYTHING CHANGED!”

The last six months have been some of the most painful months of my life, and I don’t say that lightly. There was nothing easy and dare I say nothing convenient about this last Season. It tested so deeply, Emotionally, Spiritually, Physically, and Mentally, and all at once. Cancer unexpectedly entered our family dynamics, and suddenly, everything shifted. Priorities radically changed and were greatly challenged. Many conversations were redefined, and the fragility of life was made unmistakably clear!

Ha! Faith was no longer merely theoretical knowledge, but it became Experiential Knowledge; a living, breathing reality that had to be walked out daily, literally, moment by moment keeping my eyes firmly fixed on Jesus alone. There were moments in these last six months when truly the weight of navigating life this side of eternity felt overwhelmingly heavy and even frightening. Doubt and uncertainty tried to creep in again and again and sometimes spoke far louder than hope and truth ever did. At the same time, Ministry came under pressure like never before. New challenges surfaced that threatened to exhaust, distract, and discourage on many levels. Relationships were tried and tested by fire. Prophetic Assignments felt heavier than ever. Even the things I believed were solid and stable were tested and shaken violently.

Life, Ministry, and Relationships were all being pressed at once; truly a time of what had felt like an intense crushing, and I saw a death come to things I thought still had life in them! The warfare intensified in ways I personally had not experienced before, and It became clear that the opposition rising was calculated and strategic. New levels of demonic resistance showed up, and it was obvious the enemy was not only trying to wear me down but also, attacks came which were meticulously designed to silence my voice and cause me to pull back and accept defeat! BUT GOD! God has remained ever faithful, never absent, never distant; only ever unconditionally faithful, even when I was feeling confused, discouraged, and frustrated; even when my midnight cries and desperate prayers felt like they only hit the ceiling; even when answers didn’t come quickly; even when my strength was at its lowest; and even when tears were frequent and private. I knew God's Eye was on me, and His Spirit was sustaining me, His Presence empowering me to take another step forward. And when I didn't know how I would make it through another day, His Voice would whisper, "Beloved, Come Nearer"!

By the Grace of God, this last season did not destroy me, but rather, "IT ONLY PROVED GOD!" Yes! It proved His Power to prevail. It proved His Love NEVER FAILS, and it continues to refine my faith and my understanding of WHO God truly is! The intensity of these trials truly reset my alignments and exposed in my foundations what needed to be reinforced and strengthened, and what needed to be stripped away and what could not go forward into a New Season, Only By His Grace. I am still standing, and certainly Not because the fiery trials were small, but because my GOD IS BIG, and I saw that His hand was on the dial!

As I look toward 2026, in light of these last six months, I do so with a radical and unshakable Hope in a God that IS EVER FAITHFUL AND TRUE TO HIS WORD. My resolve is stronger and deeper, and my Faith and Vision is clearer and more real, and more anchored than ever. My Faith and Expectations are not tied to shifting circumstances, but fully Surrendered and deeply, and securely anchored in God. I know by experience that He has carried me and those I love through in this last Season. And I choose again to trust Him completely with what lies ahead in the coming days,

Yes, the last six months have been brutal and in ways and at times only God has seen and been witness to, but the testing and the trials did not have the final word. My God Did. His Faithfulness Did. His Love Did, And STILL does!!! So, as we move forward into 2026, I am believing with you ALL for even greater Victories, and Incredible Testimonies! Yet, even more than that, I carry what the last six months have taught me, that there is a great cost, but an even greater reward when we remain fully dependent on His Grace and confidently anchored in His Faithfulness to empower us to Overcome and to Win!

I Decree, We will continue to run our Race with resolve, our eyes fixed forward, trusting in His Strength, Grace and Wisdom and not in our own, until Heaven's roll call speaks our Name!

Sara Whitten: Excerpts from, A Time to Ask

Uncomfortable Obedience

There are times of upgrade that actually feel like a stripping away. All that was comfortable and familiar was taken from the Israelites as they set out for the wilderness.

"We remember the fish we ate in Egypt at no cost—also the cucumbers, melons, leeks, onions and garlic." (Numbers 11:5 NIV)

The lack around them began to make them forget what God's purpose was for them.

"You grumbled in your tents and said, 'The Lord hates us; so He brought us out of Egypt to deliver us into the hands of the Amorites to destroy us.'" (Deuteronomy 1:27 NIV)

Thriving in Drought

Elijah found himself in a similar time in 1 Kings 17. The chapter opens with the prophet announcing to King Ahab that a drought would be coming in the wake of Ahab leading the nation further into idol worship. A drought from the Lord for your enemies doesn't sound so bad, but that also meant all around Elijah would be scarcity.

Sometimes we find ourselves in a stripped-down, barren season after being obedient to the Lord, like the Israelites or like Elijah. Like the Israelites, the backdrop of wilderness can cause us to feel like "the Lord hates us" (Deuteronomy 1:27) or to wonder where we went wrong. But both of these stories show a stripping down as a precursor to promise, not a punishment. Also, in both accounts, the Lord always provided for His people amidst scarcity.

For Elijah, the provision began with a word from the Lord that he was to go to an appointed ravine, and there the ravens would bring him meat and bread, and he would drink from the spring. (1 Kings 17:2–6) (Photo via Pexels)

In this specific window of time, obedience for Elijah looked like he was going, and then it looked like being in the place that the Lord told him to stay. Beyond that, it was a simple receiving, like the Israelites with the manna. There was no earning it, no asking for it or chasing it down, just positioning himself according to the Lord's direction and waiting for the promised sustenance to come.

A Time to Ask

We have all experienced times where the Lord has had us wait to receive, but some of us get stuck there. We start to think that for the rest of forever we will stay and wait, and whatever the Lord wants us to have will just float down to us. The story of Elijah reminds us that while God does operate that way for some seasons, He also is the God of the "ask."

Elijah stayed in the ravine in obedience, and everything he needed was sent to him. Until, one day, it wasn't. The brook dried up due to the drought (v. 7). What is so incredibly relatable in this account is that the Lord didn't tell Elijah this was coming. Many times, it happens the same way for us. We're going along, pursuing the last word the Lord gave us in obedience. Then a shift happens, and it just runs dry. We're left thinking, "What happened?" or, "Did I miss it?" The answer to those questions for Elijah from our outside perspective was obviously no.

Then God spoke. He spoke a new instruction. He didn't explain why the brook dried up. When our brooks dry up, we often ask, "Why?" We want to understand the process of the Lord. But it is our prompt readiness to move and obey based on a deep-rooted trust that actually helps us pursue the promise —not an explanation.

What God did say was what to do. In 1 Kings 17:9–11, He instructed, "'Go at once to Zarephath in the region of Sidon and stay there. I have directed a widow there to supply you with food.' So he went to Zarephath. When he came to the town gate, a widow was there gathering sticks. He called to her and asked, 'Would you bring me a little water in a jar so I may have a drink?' As she was going to get it, he called, 'And bring me, please, a piece of bread'" (NIV).

Don't Hold Back

In this season, the Lord is highlighting and emphasizing the "hard ask." It is much more comfortable when the Lord tells us to wait and receive, and —like Elijah by the brook—sometimes He does. But other times, for the same breakthrough, we have to ask. For Elijah, it wasn't just an easy ask. He had to ask a starving single mother to give him what the Lord had been effortlessly providing at the ravine. Logically, it could seem like a downgrade for both of them. The ways of the Holy Spirit, however, are rarely logical.

The Lord reminded me through this that there are times when the Holy Spirit will prompt us to ASK. Ask, seek, knock, be persistent, be obnoxious, and all of the things Jesus taught us about prayer in Luke 11:1-13. Those "asks" are rarely comfortable, logical, or easy. Perhaps the Holy Spirit has put a dream on your heart. Something you'd like to begin knocking on doors in the direction of. But it feels too big, too hard, too impractical. Let me encourage you with this. If the Holy Spirit is taking you, like Elijah, from a season of wait and receive to a season of ask and advance, it is because the blessing is for more than just you. God is big enough to work community miracles through individual "asks". Maybe what is on your heart is a supernatural upgrade the Lord has waiting for your entire community. Whatever move of obedience (wait and receive, or ask and advance) that the Lord has for you this season, be expectant. You may be in a time of stripping away all around you, but there is a miracle the Lord is working in the midst of it. Lord, help us shift our focus from grumbling about the stripping away happening around us to trusting in faith in the upgrade you're doing within us.

Ask the Holy Spirit:

1. What is a dream or an "ask" that you've planted in my heart?
2. Would you have me wait and receive or ask, seek, and knock in this season?
3. How would you like me to respond in faith so that my community can be blessed?

Roma Waterman: This Is Your Year of Restoration

As I prayed about this year, the word the Lord gave me personally for 2026 is RESTORE.

I know not everyone receives a word for the year, but this is something I've done with the Lord for the past eight years. It's become a grounding anchor for me—a way of listening, discerning, and allowing God to set the theme for the season ahead.

When the Lord began to speak to me about "restore," I sensed He wanted us to understand something very clearly:

To restore is not to replace. It is not to erase. And it is not to pretend that nothing painful ever happened.

To restore means to bring something back to its original, intended, healthy state after it has been damaged, lost, diminished, or disrupted.

Restoration and Its Three Movements

At its core, restoration carries three intertwined movements:

1. Return: Bringing something back to where it belonged or how it once was. Lost ground reclaimed, not reinvented.

2. Repair: Fixing what's broken so it functions as it should. Restoration isn't a cosmetic touch-up; it's structural faithfulness, repairing at the deepest level so the structure can stand the test of time.

3. Renewal: Reestablishing strength, vitality, and purpose. Not just "back," but back in working order.

The Latin root restaurare literally means to "rebuild," "repair," or "renew."

That matters. Restoration assumes continuity. Something true was there before. In plain language, to restore is to revere what was always meant to be there, without pretending the damage never happened. (Photo via StockCake)

That tension—honoring the original while passing honestly through loss—is why this word carries so much theological, psychological, and poetic weight for me.

Restoration isn't regression. You don't ignore what hurt you, but you are not required to live there forever either. Restoration is redemption with memory intact.

Return

I want to encourage you today. Before pain and disruption entered your story, there was an original dream the Lord had for your life, and He has not forgotten it.

To restore assumes that something true existed before the damage. The promise was not erased.

This year, I sense, is not about reinvention. It is about return.

Scripture holds this promise gently and firmly:

"He restores my soul." (Psalm 23:3) "For I will restore health to you, and your wounds I will heal, declares the LORD." (Jeremiah 30:17 ESV)

God does not restore by pretending pain didn't happen, but He will restore by redeeming you through it.

Friend, your life is worth recovering. You are not going backwards. You are being rebuilt to your original design!

I believe this is your year of restoration. I prophesy that over you today.

Let's walk with confidence together into all the good things the Lord has for us.

Bill Pagaran: 2026 - Year of the Warrior

Word received from the Lord on January 3, 2026:

As I was going about my day, the Lord suddenly dropped this word into my spirit. When I arrived at home and sat at my table, I began shaking. Then I began writing the word down. As I did, Amanda (my wife) asked if I was hungry (because I shake when I am).

I said, "I am hungry! But I'm hungry for the Lord, His word, and how He wants to move through us in this season."

This is the "Year of the Warrior!" It is a season for us to become violent for the Kingdom of God—taking hold of the things of God, pushing aside the former things that would entangle us, and laying aside those worthless and belittling mindsets that are far below God's ways.

"And from the days of John the Baptist until now the Kingdom of Heaven suffers violence, and the violent take it by force." (Matthew 11:12 NKJV)

"Therefore we also, since we are surrounded by so great a cloud of witnesses, let us lay aside every weight, and the sin which so easily ensnares us, and let us run with endurance the race that is set before us." (Hebrews 12:1 NKJV) (Photo via Pexels)

Warring with the Mind of Christ

Warriors in this day will have the mind of Christ. (1 Corinthians 2:16)

"... that you put off, concerning your former conduct, the old man which grows corrupt according to the deceitful lusts, and be renewed in the spirit of your mind, and that you put on the new man which was created according to God, in true righteousness and holiness." (Ephesians 4:22–24 NKJV)

This season, we need to become violent, vigilant, and victorious by not letting go of what God has said is ours. Warriors, true warriors, will not let their minds be taken captive by the enemy. They will take hold of all that God has provided for us to be victorious and give Him glory.

"... casting down arguments and every high thing that exalts itself against the knowledge of God, bringing every thought into captivity to the obedience of Christ." (2 Corinthians 10:5 NKJV)

"Not that I have already obtained all this, or have already arrived at my goal, but I press on to take hold of that for which Christ Jesus took hold of me. Brothers and sisters, I do not consider myself yet to have taken hold of it. But one thing I do: Forgetting what is behind and straining toward what is ahead, I press on toward the goal to win the prize for which God has called me heavenward in Christ Jesus." (Philippians 3:12–14 NIV)

The Invitation from Heaven

The invitation from Heaven is to become warriors like David, those with a pure heart for God. But warriors in this day will be uncompromised and fully surrendered to the love of God.

In the coming days, God will fill those who are submitted to Him with love and the power of God to take down the giants in this land and to destroy the lion and the bear (1 Samuel 17). These are the ones who will finish the job and the tasks that the Lord has given. Nothing will be left undone.

The mark of these warriors will be the fear of the Lord (Judges 7:4–7, Gideon's army selected). They will not fear man no matter what direction the wicked come from.

There is an open Heaven for those who are willing to GO. Go fearlessly to share the GOOD NEWS north, south, east, west, and from Heaven to earth (Ephesians 2).

Who Will Choose This Mission?

God has stored up weapons and spiritual gifts to be released through those who choose this mission. They will have faith to raise the dead, calm the storms, speak to mountains, set captives free, give sight to the blind, and heal those who are sick (1 Corinthians 12). There are spiritual weapons to tear down the lies of the devil that have piled up in our lands, creating a mountain of deception. These mountains must go, and Heaven will be established. God is watching His children and looking for the radical obedience that He requires for "such a time as this" (Esther 4:14). (Photo via Snappy Goat)

The Lord finished by saying we shall not be shaken but stirred by what He is saying. He quickly brought Psalm 45 to my mind.

"To the Chief Musician. Set to 'The Lilies.' A Contemplation of the sons of Korah. A Song of Love."

"My heart is overflowing with a good theme; I recite my composition concerning the King; my tongue is the pen of a ready writer.

"You are fairer than the sons of men; grace is poured upon Your lips; therefore God has blessed You forever. Gird Your sword upon Your thigh, O Mighty One, with Your glory and Your majesty. And in Your majesty ride prosperously because of truth, humility, and righteousness; and Your right hand shall teach You awesome things. Your arrows are sharp in the heart of the King's enemies; the peoples fall under You.

"Your throne, O God, is forever and ever; a scepter of righteousness is the scepter of Your Kingdom. You love righteousness and hate wickedness; therefore God, Your God, has anointed You with the oil of gladness more than Your companions." (Psalm 45:1–7 NKJV)

An Opportunity to Change History

Those who accept this mission will write, or rewrite, history. Be filled with faith that can move mountains and call on Heaven, in every dimension, to invade the earth. Prepare your heart, clear your mind, make room, and take up your arms. This is the day of the Lord. This is a year of the warrior!

"And the Spirit and the Bride say, 'Come!' And let him who hears say, 'Come!' And let him who thirsts come. Whoever desires, let him take the water of life freely." (Revelation 22:17 NKJV)

Nate Johnston: On the Eve of Your Breakthrough

There's a ferocious fight in my spirit today because it feels like all of hell is on a warpath against God's people, leading into 2026, and I'm done seeing people robbed and pillaged.

So if you have been taking EXTRA hits and need some reinforcements - this is for you.

This is for those who right now feel like they're surrounded on all sides, and the enemy is coming at you with everything he can to make you feel hedged in, to make you want to give up, not just because it's Christmas. Not just because it's the end of the year, but because it's not really about that.

It's because you are crossing over into something MONUMENTAL. WE ARE crossing over together.

You're breaking out of the mire of an old hour and into something fresh that God is doing. The war is not on the time of the year. The war is on the Kairos moment that you're in. The war is on the fact that you've battled and warred through a tumultuous year, contending with the promise, and you're at a place where you just want to relax and step over. And the enemy's like, "It's not gonna be that easy," and he's throwing everything at you right now.

And I just kept seeing the picture of the Israelites crossing the Red Sea (Exodus 14), because right now we're in a parallel of that, where the body of Christ is like the Israelites leaving Egypt. It's a moment that we have to cross over, and that's what this battle is over.

And the Red Sea doesn't just represent a physical location, and it doesn't even just represent a crossing over into promise. The Red Sea actually represents crossing over into a spiritual TERRITORY and out of a specific kind of attack and warfare.

Egypt and the Red Sea represent Leviathan. It represents containment. It represents the Jezebelic assignment that's been against your life. It represents the lack that's been coming at you. It represents the war that's been on your marriage, the war that's been on your kids, the war that's been on your voice, the war that's been on your destiny. It represents everything that puts you in a slavery mindset and keeps you contained.

And right now you just want to cross over, and suddenly, Pharaoh changes his mind and doesn't want to let you go (Exodus 14:5–9). You suddenly feel like something's grabbing your foot. Delay is back. All these things begin to just surround you. Suddenly, there's slander. Suddenly, there's backlash. Suddenly, there's just mental warfare and pressure all around you. What is taking place?

It really is this simple. The enemy does not want you to break through. He does not want you to cross over. In fact, he thought he stopped you, but he was wrong!

But let me make this clear - the battle is intense because the BREAKTHROUGH is WEIGHTY!

And also, this is a whole epoch shift, coming out of one Kairos hour and into another, where the Lord is leading you into the new level, the new anointing, the new mantle. That's why this year has been the circumcision, the cutting away of the old, and God getting your heart ready for what is to come.

But just as Moses struck the water and God provided a way (Exodus 14:21–22), there was a moment where the Israelites said, "Why would you lead us this way?" It's a moment of doubt. It's a moment of confusion. It's a moment where you begin to want to backpedal, and the defeat and the weariness of the year tempt you to give up.

And if you're feeling that right now, on top of already feeling lost because you don't know where you're going or what the season God has for you is, then you are not alone.

And I felt this for the last few days. This is what's been swirling again.

It's Christmas. It's the end of the year. You want to step over, but you've never felt more discouraged by the circumstances surrounding you. There are people this year that have been pillaged and plundered, in their health, in their finances, in their relationships, in their voice, in their purpose, and the last few days have been a massive reminder - the enemy is not letting up.

But I want to tell you something. You can rise above it, and you can fight back. And I know you're tired, but this is how you fight back: you get on your face, and you release this battle to the Lord.

It's not a time to cower. It's not a time to give up. NO!

But I felt really strongly the Lord told me to release this word out there for those who are on the eve of their breakthrough, because this is what is about to take place: God is bringing breakthrough for you SUPERNATURALLY. IN WAYS YOU DIDN'T EXPECT OR IMAGINE! SO DON'T GIVE UP NOW!

I keep hearing the scripture, "Many are the afflictions of the righteous, but the Lord delivers you out of every single one." (Psalm 34:19)

I keep hearing the Lord say, "remind them that they are the head and not the tail, above and not beneath." (Deuteronomy 28:13)

"Remind them today of their authority, that they can trample snakes and scorpions, and nothing shall by any means harm them." (Luke 10:19)

"Remind them today that they are the treasured sons and daughters of God that I'm revealing right now on the earth, according to Romans 8:19."

"Remind them today that I'm taking them from glory to glory." (2 Corinthians 3:18)

"Remind them today that they're being anointed for this moment, that I've poured out my Spirit upon them." (Joel 2:28)

"Remind them today they're called to set captives free." (Isaiah 61:1)

"Remind them today that for a moment it looks like the enemy wins, but he does not win. He does not get the upper hand. He does not get the final say."

So in this moment, I want you to rise up. I want you to shake off every single thing that's coming at you. I want you to take communion, whether it's on your own or as a family, and then I want you right now, as a prophetic act, to lift your arms in the air because, as you're reading this, we're praying for you. We're lifting up your arms. We're covering you in prayer.

And I prophesy - you're going to cross over on dry ground.

Let me say that again - you're going to cross over on dry ground.

Don't give the enemy your breakthrough just because it's easier to give up right now. Don't give him this victory just because you feel defeated right now. The battle belongs to the Lord, my friends, and we speak blessing and favor over you in Jesus' name!

LORD, TURN THE TIDE OF THIS BATTLE! We command the winds to die down and the storm to shift!

And we pray right now that all of the weariness of battle would even break off you, even as you're reading this, that you'd feel peace.

Just close your eyes for a moment. Lord, I pray peace over them right now. I pray your deep rest and peace envelop them right now in the mighty name of Jesus.

The spiritual assignment that's been against you this year has not been for the faint of heart. This has been a year where multiple spiritual entities have joined forces to take you down in the ring, and whether you feel like you handled that well or not, you're still here. You're still standing.

And the Lord is now going to show you the fruit of what your continued surrender is going to bring you.

You're coming into a wide-open space. I hear the Lord saying you're coming into a season of stretching forth your tent pegs (Isaiah 54:2). You're coming into a season of fruition of every single promise that God's spoken over your life. You're coming into the manifestation of everything that's been spoken over you.

I hear the Lord saying, "Mighty voices are going to erupt from this on the other side of the Red Sea. Many new voices are going to arise, new prophets, new apostles, new evangelists, new teachers are going to arise from this place, because I am going to reveal a new breed that will emerge from the other side of this battle, who are battle-tested, battle-ready, and ready to step into what I have for them in this new season."

Where are my warriors? Where are the wild ones?

Get up from your bed, arise, and push back!

Dr. Scott Reece: How to Live from a Place of Victory Every Day

Too many Believers live tired, discouraged, and constantly beaten up by the enemy. That is not how God designed us to live. Jesus already won the victory, and He has given us the authority and the tools to walk in that victory every single day. You don't have to live beat up; you were born to live victoriously!

Start with What Is True

The enemy wants you to believe you're in a fight you might win. But here's the truth:

Jesus already won. At the cross and the resurrection, the enemy was disarmed and stripped of his authority (Colossians 2:13–15; 1 John 3:8). You're not fighting for victory; you're enforcing the victory Jesus already secured!

You are in Christ. Your location determines your authority. You're not standing on shaky ground; you are seated with Him in heavenly places (Ephesians 2:6). From that seat, you fight from victory, not toward it.

The Spirit in you is greater. No matter the pressure, fear, or attack, you are never outgunned when you stay aligned with the Spirit. (1 John 4:4)

Stop fighting as if you're losing. Start standing in the truth that the devil is already defeated, and Christ's victory is your position of strength.

Know the Devil's Common Tactics

The devil isn't creative; he just recycles the same tactics. If you know them, you can see them coming and shut them down.

• Accusation: He'll whisper, "You're not good enough. You'll never measure up." His goal is to bury you under shame and guilt, so you stop moving forward, but the cross silenced every accusation. Romans 8:1 declares: "There is now no condemnation for those in Christ Jesus" (CSB). When the devil reminds you of your past, remind him of the blood of Jesus.

• Deception: The enemy is called the father of lies for a reason (John 8:44). He twists Scripture, feeds half-truths, and plants subtle agreements that steer you off course. Eve wasn't tempted by outright rebellion; it was a "Did God really say?" moment (2 Corinthians 11:3). The cure for deception is a steady diet of God's Word. Truth exposes lies.

• Temptation: He comes at your weakest moments, appealing to desire, weariness, or offense. That's how he approached Jesus in the wilderness (Luke 4:1–13). Temptation itself isn't sin; it's an invitation. James 1:13–15 reminds us that sin comes when we agree with our own evil desires. When temptation comes, answer it with the Word and walk away empowered.

• Intimidation: The enemy uses pressure, fear, and threats to wear you down. He roars like a lion (1 Peter 5:8), but remember, he's only roaring because he's toothless at the cross. Don't retreat when you feel the roar; stand firm. Resistance backed by submission to God always makes him flee. (Photo via Pixabay)

• Division: If the enemy can't beat you alone, he'll try to divide your relationships. He sows offense, fuels anger, and makes small issues big ones (Ephesians 4:26–27). Why? Because unity is explosive; it multiplies authority and joy. Guard your heart, forgive quickly, and refuse to give him a foothold. (2 Corinthians 2:10–11)

Once you recognize the tactic, you can stop the attack. The devil is predictable, but you are equipped to win.

Close the Doors That Give Him a Foothold

The enemy only gets access where doors are open. Jesus said the ruler of this world is coming, but "he has no hold on Me" (John 14:30). Our goal is the same; close every door that gives him room.

Repent quickly. Sin left undealt with is like leaving food out for rats. Don't manage it. Don't excuse it. Kill it. 1 John 1:9 says when we confess, He is faithful to forgive and cleanse. Romans 8:13 reminds us that by the Spirit we put sin to death. Repentance is not shame; it's freedom. The faster you repent, the quicker the door closes.

Forgive decisively. Unforgiveness is one of the enemy's favorite entry points. When we hold onto bitterness, we give him a legal foothold (2 Corinthians 2:10–11). Jesus said if you stand praying and remember someone you haven't forgiven, release them (Mark 11:25). Forgiveness doesn't make what they did okay; it makes you free.

Renounce agreements. Sometimes the devil doesn't need to accuse you; you've already agreed with his lie. Words like "I'll never change, I'm cursed, I'm always alone" become inner vows that empower darkness. Proverbs 18:21 says, "Life and death are in the power of the tongue." Renounce the lie, then replace it with truth. 2 Corinthians 10:5 says that we take thoughts captive and make them obey Christ.

Clean your inputs. What you feed will grow. If your media, music, friendships, or secret habits are full of darkness, they become entry points (Ephesians 5:11). In Acts 19:18–20, Believers burned their occult items when they came to Christ. Some doors don't need managing, they need burning. Clean house. Guard your heart. Fill it with light.

Closing doors is not about legalism; it's about freedom. When the door is shut, the devil loses his grip.

Wear Your Armor like a Lifestyle

Read Ephesians 6:10–18. This passage isn't a one-time prayer; this is a lifestyle. Paul calls us to stand in the armor of God daily. Here's how to walk it out.

Belt of truth: Truth holds everything else together. Lies from the enemy or culture want to loosen your footing, but filling your mind with Scripture gives you stability. When a lie comes, "You're not enough," "God has forgotten you," answer it with the Word. Just like Jesus in the wilderness, the truth cuts through the lie.

Breastplate of righteousness: Your heart and soul are covered, not by your own perfection, but by Christ's righteousness. When accusation comes, don't argue with the devil; stand in what Jesus already accomplished. Live clean, keep short accounts with God, and walk in His covering. Righteousness is both your position in Christ and your practice of holiness. (Photo via Pexels)

Gospel shoes: Shoes mean movement. Soldiers didn't fight barefoot; they moved forward with readiness. When you share Jesus, serve others, or simply live on mission, it keeps your faith active and fresh. Stagnation breeds discouragement, but movement with the Gospel brings joy, purpose, and protection. Wherever you go, carry peace and good news.

Shield of faith: The enemy throws darts of fear, doubt, and despair, but faith extinguishes them. Faith is not feelings; it's trust in what God has said. Sometimes you don't feel it, but you still choose it. Lift your shield by declaring, "God said it, and I believe it." That choice disarms the enemy's attack.

Helmet of salvation: Your mind is a battlefield. The helmet guards your thought life with the hope of salvation and the reality of who you are in Christ. Meditate on your identity forgiven, chosen, sealed, beloved. Let your thoughts be shaped by eternity, not anxiety. A renewed mind gives you courage to stand.

Sword of the Spirit: The Word of God is not a decoration; it's a weapon. Speak it aloud. When Jesus faced the enemy, He didn't just know the Word, He declared it. Scripture cuts through lies, fear, and confusion. Don't let your Bible stay closed; open your mouth and wield it.

Praying in the Spirit: Prayer activates all the armor. Paul says, "Pray in the Spirit on all occasions with all kinds of prayers" (Ephesians 6:18 NIV). This includes praying in tongues (Jude v. 20; 1 Corinthians 14:4), interceding for others, and praying with thanksgiving. It keeps you built up, sensitive to the Spirit, and alert to the enemy's schemes.

Wearing the armor is not about repeating a ritual prayer; it's about living each day aware, equipped, and active in Christ.

Exercise Kingdom Authority with Humility

True Kingdom authority doesn't come from titles, personalities, or platforms; it flows from alignment. The Roman centurion in Matthew 8:8–10 understood this when he told Jesus, "I too am a man under authority" (ESV). His authority carried weight because he himself was under authority. In the same way, our authority in Christ is exercised as we remain submitted to Jesus, connected in a healthy, local church, and walking in right relationships with others. When we step outside that covering, our authority weakens; when we stay under it, our prayers carry power.

Bind and Loose

Jesus gave His disciples the keys of the Kingdom in Matthew 16:19 and expanded on it in Matthew 18:18–20. Binding and loosing is not just a "churchy" phrase. It's a heavenly assignment. To bind means to forbid and to declare that something has no right to operate. To loose means to permit and to open the way for God's will to manifest. When you pray in alignment with Heaven, you're not begging, you're legislating. Heaven backs the decree of those who are walking in agreement with Jesus.

Resist and Stand

James 4:7 lays it out clearly: "Submit yourselves therefore to God. Resist the devil, and he will flee from you" (ESV). The order matters. Authority without submission is rebellion, but when you're yielded to God, the devil recognizes that you're not standing in your own strength; you're standing in Christ's authority. First Peter 5:9 says to "resist him, standing firm in the faith" (NIV). You don't chase demons around. You stand your ground in the victory Jesus already won. The promise is sure: the enemy will flee.

Kingdom authority isn't about shouting louder or posturing stronger; it's about humility, alignment, and confidence in the One who has all authority. Stay under the covering of Jesus, use the keys He's given you, and stand firm in His strength.

Battle Plan for Pressure Days

Stop and breathe. The first step is about alignment. Pressure moments often come with panic or mental chaos. Taking a breath and saying "Jesus, I submit to You" shifts your spirit from reaction to surrender. It establishes Jesus as the covering before you take any other step. (Photo via Pexels)

Repent and receive. The enemy thrives on accusation. Repentance closes doors and cleansing restores confidence. Quoting 1 John 1:9 keeps your footing on the promise that forgiveness and cleansing are immediate, not delayed. This step lifts shame and resets intimacy with the Father.

Renounce lies. Spiritual pressure often comes with whispers of fear, abandonment, or weakness. Renouncing lies is refusing agreement with the enemy's narrative. Declaring the truth that you are not alone and that Christ's power is active dismantles the foothold lies can create.

Command with clarity. This is the authority step. Pressure is often more than psychological; it can be spiritual. Using the name of Jesus is not casual; it is a legal, Kingdom-backed decree. Clear, direct commands force spiritual opposition to bow, especially in your mind and home.

Refill. Deliverance without filling that space leaves a vacuum. Inviting the Holy Spirit to fill you and your environment ensures that peace will displace torment. This isn't just relief; it's re-establishing atmosphere. Your home and heart are meant to be places of His tangible presence.

Replace. Once cleansed and filled, you must anchor yourself in truth. Reading and declaring Scripture aloud rewires thought patterns and strengthens faith. Read and declare Psalm 91 for protection, Romans 8 for identity, and Ephesians 1 for authority. Each chapter reinforces covenant promises.

Reach out. Isolation magnifies attack. Reaching out to a trusted leader or intercessor breaks secrecy and invites corporate strength. This cultivates humility and accountability while inviting others to cover you until peace is restored.

Communion, Worship, and the Word

• Communion: More than ritual, Communion is a covenant weapon. It proclaims Christ's victory, applies His blood and body afresh, and exposes darkness. When received in faith, it is both nourishment and declaration.

• Worship: Worship shifts the throne room into your living room. It enthrones God in your atmosphere and disrupts oppression. Like Jehoshaphat's army, praise can turn the battle in your favor before a sword is lifted.

• The Word: Scripture is both shield and sword. It renews your mind daily, cleanses your perspective, and trains you for battle. Declaring it aloud keeps you sharp, alert, and aligned with Heaven's strategies.

The Victory Is Already Ours in Christ

I hope you've been encouraged and strengthened through this. My prayer is that this teaching has given you practical tools and spiritual confidence to stand firm in the days of pressure and to walk daily in the victory Jesus has already secured for you. Remember, you are not powerless, not abandoned, and not without hope. Christ lives in you, and His Spirit empowers you to overcome.

Thank you for walking through this journey with me. Let's keep pressing into the Word, leaning on the Spirit, and building each other up in love. The battle may be real, but the victory is already ours in Christ.

Lorilei Cooley: 2026: Get Ready for Triumphant Change!

Word released on December 6, 2025:

A Coming Forth and a Returning

A few days ago, the Lord gave me this word. He showed me two specific things that will begin to transpire in 2026 and beyond.

First, the remnant is coming forth, and what the enemy intended for harm, the Lord has worked for good, and that good is now coming forth. The Lord is shifting and releasing the remnant, positioning, and mobilizing them into their assignments to occupy the land and territory that He has given them.

Second, there are some leaders in ministry who have lost sight of the true reason for doing ministry. He is bringing them back to their first love—to repent of pride, the works of the flesh, and where ministry has become an idol—realigning and reigniting them with the fire of His love once again.

The Time of Substance and Materialization of His Word

As I sat with the Lord, just to spend time with Him, the first thing that I heard in my spirit was Genesis 50:20. I knew this was for the remnant, the ones whom the Lord has been preparing for many years for such a time as this (Esther 4:14).

Genesis 50:20: "You intended to harm me, but God intended it for good to accomplish what is now being done, the saving of many lives" (NIV).

For the remnant, in 2026, you will begin to see the good come forth from all that you have endured and suffered. What the enemy intended to harm you with your entire life—through the many pains, betrayals, loss, sorrow, suffering, and grief—God has intended it ALL for the good. The good is for the saving of souls!

He is accomplishing that which is now being done in the lives of many—a great emergence and "coming forth." The many things that He has spoken are taking form and shape in 2026. It is time for substance and the materialization of His word, the saving of many lives, and bringing in the greatest harvest we have yet seen, going into 2026 and beyond. (Photo via Wikimedia Commons)

On the Lord's Heart—the Harvest

In this new time we are in, the Lord has been moving in more powerful ways, and He will release and mobilize the remnant in 2026. The face of ministry is changing in the Body of Christ, because what is on the Lord's heart right now is bringing in the harvest. It's not about building a ministry brand, or what speaking event you did with "so and so." Ministry is not for show and entertainment; it is a privilege and honor to carry the anointing. I felt the Lord's heart strongly that He wants to bring a greater unity throughout the Body of Christ more than even before.

Conviction, Repentance, and Restoration

While sitting with the Lord, I felt a tug deep within my spirit like I have never felt before that the Lord is drawing some frontline leaders back to their first love; He is drawing them to lay aside their flesh, repent of pride, and realign their focus on what the Lord has truly called them to do, as many have lost sight of the mandate and have been more caught up in the limelight of ministry than burning for Jesus and getting souls saved.

This conviction that He is bringing forth will draw many of those leaders back to the place of living for an audience of One, reminding them of when they first encountered Jesus, and how He pursued them and rescued them before they even knew what ministry even was. To those leaders, I say, deeper surrender and knowing Him more intimately than you have ever known Him before is required for the days of ahead. Do not run from the tug of Him drawing you in to graciously restore you.

Taking the Gospel to the Streets

I feel the Lord is bringing the Gospel forth as in the days of old, where the fear of the Lord resided and was ever present when the Gospel was preached and signs, wonders, and miracles took place. He is calling us to take the Gospel to the streets more than ever; the highways and the byways; your workplace, the grocery store, and the places that most won't go. Why? Because we are called to set the captives free. A simple reminder: Jesus set you free so that you can set others free.

"The Spirit of the Lord God is upon Me, because the Lord has anointed Me to preach good tidings to the poor; He has sent Me to heal the brokenhearted, to proclaim liberty to the captives, and the opening of the prison to those who are bound." (Isaiah 61:1 NKJV)

As we all know, the Lord has called us ALL in the Body of Christ to preach the Gospel, and I felt the Lord strongly impress on me that this is a time of all hands-on deck, not just the remnant, but EVERYONE in the Body of Christ. The Lord needs us ALL on board to help bring in the harvest. Even if it is just one soul, it is worth it. The Lord reminded me that there are more souls in the earth that need to be saved than laborers currently in the Body of Christ to bring them in. Marinate on that last sentence for a moment.

The Lord showed me that there is a tidal wave of revival that is going to break forth in greater measure in 2026 and beyond, for He is bringing the remnant forth in this hour.

I speak to you, remnant: What you carry is a move of God that is coming forth through you in unprecedented ways, with greater realms and facets of His power being demonstrated that have yet to come forth. You, remnant, are partnering with the Lord to usher in and bring this tidal wave of revival. (Photo via Unsplash)

A Word for 2026 and Beyond

After the Lord spoke these things, I then felt Him hover over me and felt the potency of this word for 2026 and beyond.

I heard the Lord say, "I am going to change the beat and rhythm of My timing in 2026. The pace of My timing will flow differently for many, for not only will you step into kairos but into your destiny. There is a great emergence, a stepping forth into new assignments and occupying the land and territory that I have called you to occupy and reign in.

"In 2026, My justice will reign in the lives of many. I am making your enemies a footstool. I am restoring your fortunes and what was ruined. The many wrongs that you have suffered, I the Lord will begin to make right in 2026 and beyond, as I the Lord will bring forth into fruition the fulfillment and fullness of My word.

"You will see My word manifest like the flicker of a light switch, as I will move swiftly as I did in olden days. When I brought the Israelites out Egypt and parted the Red Sea, so shall I do for the sons and daughters of God in 2026. Where the giants have tormented and shaken you with fear all your life, they will now run in timidity and fear in 2026 and beyond from one word spoken from your mouth as My word comes forth through you with power. My power will flow effortlessly through My remnant vessels as they emerge and step forth in 2026.

"I the Lord am bringing a great shifting and changing of the guard in 2026. I am shifting assignments and positions of leaders, watchmen, and intercessors. I am promoting and demoting. I am bringing many far and wide to gather and come together to pray, fast, and intercede for the seismic shifts that are coming into and throughout the continents for revival and change in 2026 and beyond. I am speeding up time and accelerating My people for the labor and work ahead to bring in the harvest.

"I am moving like never before in greater magnitude in 2026 and beyond. My people, get ready for triumphant change. Even before the close of 2025, I will do only what I the Lord can do, for substance is coming forth; there is a tipping point of life-changing change upon you. Watch how I the Lord bend time, make happen, and close 2025 to catapult you into 2026."

This is the last thing I want to share to close this word. Recently, the Lord gave me this idiom: "This year will end with a bang." Know that you will not end this year the same way it began, and that something notable will take place in your life.

"A NOW WORD for the Body of Christ, 2026 and Beyond; https://www.hiskingdomprophecy.com/a-now-word-for-the ./

"The Weight of Glory, the Danger of Mixture, and a Radical Shift in Warfare from a Place of REST"!

I released a Word this morning over an Apostolic Leader, but as I was releasing the Word, I saw that the Word was also a 'Now Word' to those in the Body of Christ that are called to Carry the Office in these days. I saw upon this Apostolic Leader a Mantle saturated with the Glory of God. At first it appeared to be the Ark of the Covenant, but looking again, it became clear that it was a Mantle, an End-Time Assignment, a Divine Stewardship that was filled with the Presence of God.

This Mantle was heavy, it was fully radiant, and carried the Holy Presence of God
The Glory I could see on it was not merely symbolic, it carried true and a tangible spiritual weight. I watched as the Carrier of this Mantle was moved into position, and as he walked, Idols began to fall - demonic idols, many of which were Ancient Entities that were not being confronted, rebuked, or even targeted. They simply could not remain standing in the presence of the Glory that rested upon the Carrier.

As I watched this unfold in the realm of the Spirit, it was quickened to me by the Holy Spirit the Biblical parallel of the Ark being brought into the temple of Dagon. The Ark did not confront or fight the idol in the Temple; the demonic idol simply collapsed and fell to the ground, because its counterfeit power could not coexist with the weight of the Glory. And Each time the idol was propped back up, it fell again. Eventually, the Idol was completely dismantled as its arms and legs broke off.

The demonic Idol was stripped of its power and Authority; its power was made null and void; no satanic force had the ability to act. The Idol was reduced to a powerless image. I submit, this is speaking prophetically to Systems, structures, and even Ministries that God has already judged, but yet are being artificially sustained by human effort and spiritual control and manipulation.

What God is exposing in greater ways in these days, He is not asking us to repair or try to rebuild. But then, I saw hands reaching up toward the Mantle of Glory that was upon the shoulders of the Carrier, and I saw that while these were not all hands of the enemy, many were the hands of those seeking connection, collaboration, and access to the Carrier and to what was being stewarded. But I saw that the motives behind those reaching were corrupt, and selfish ambition was the driving factor.

And I saw that the moment the hands touched what they were not authorized to touch, they were struck down. I felt a tangible sense of the Spirit of the Fear of the Lord in that moment, a sober warning to the Body of Christ: proximity to Glory does not equal permission to touch the Glory. Desire does not equal authorization, and hunger alone does not grant access. In what I believe to be a High-Glory Season, we are going to begin to see in greater ways that God will never tolerate mixture. The Same Presence that Heals and empowers will also bring divine Exposure and judgement !! Prophetically, we are entering, and in many places have already entered, a Time where God is Restoring the weight of His Glory to the Church. Not to Celebrity Christianity. Not to Self-Appointed Platforms, but a real Tangible and Manifest Weight of the Glory is coming! And wherever true Glory weight is Restored, we will see every false foundation and manmade support collapse and fall; Altars and the Idols that sit upon them will be completely demolished and destroyed!

Heart motives will be tested swiftly and revealed, and before we get it twisted, this is not God being harsh, this is the Weight of a Holy God being made manifest in the midst of the Reformation of Nations. Gone are the Days of Empire Building and Superstar Spiritual Silos, We will not be able to Network our way into the Glory. We will not be able to Collaborate our way into positions of power and Authority. We will not be able to touch and gain access to what God has not Authorized, and purified.

The Spirit of the Fear of the Lord is returning to God's House, the Plumb-line is falling, and the Body of Christ is being Realigned and Restored. What was defiled by mixture is being cleansed and purified.

Those who are Called to carry the great Burden of the Mantles of Glory must guard it fiercely; they must walk in the Spirit of Wisdom and the Spirit of the Fear of the Lord. It's Time to Let dead things fall. It's Time to Stop trying to prop up what God has judged and in the process of destroying and dismantling. Let's be circumspect, staying in our God-Ordained lanes and be careful not to reach for what He has not Authorized, or entrusted to use. Every Mantle carries not just great weight, but grave responsibility and Accountability before God. I see the Glory of God returning with great weight and Power. Only what is Aligned and Purified will remain Standing and be Established!

"Watch! For in 2026, an Upgrade in Authority and the Glory of RESTED Warfare that will Shake and Shift Nations!" I was then shown a dynamic spiritual shift and an upgrade coming to the Five-fold Offices. What has marked previous seasons of warfare and contending will not look the same in the days ahead. The Lord is changing the Five-fold posture, the realm, and the Authority from which His Servant Kings operate. I saw the Power and Authority of the Key of the House of David beginning to manifest in greater measure through those who are Mantled to carry increased levels and weights of the Glory for this hour.

This is not positional Authority that comes through titles, but rather, through delegated Authority released through a Lifestyle of Intimacy and deeper levels of Consecration, through radical obedience, and being in Divine Alignment with heaven. The Lord is bringing His people into a new way of Warring, warring from a place of REST.

This is not inactivity or passivity. It is RESTED Authority of True Sonship.
It is contending from a higher realm and deeper dimension, a place of Greater Ascension, where striving ceases and Divine Command is decreed and established. Those who carry this Greater Glory will not need to shout, strive, or endlessly contend as before. They will simply enter the room and the territory, the region, or even the Nation and it will respond, and Mega-shifts will occur. Spiritual Earthquakes will take place; Foundations of Nations will be violently Shaken and Rearranged.

Long-standing spiritual structures will be displaced and Replaced. What has resisted Prayer and Warfare in past seasons will now yield quickly under this weight of Glory being made manifest.

I saw Great Awakening breaking out, not counterfeit awakening or manufactured Revival, but true God-breathed Awakenings. Blind Eyes will be opened. Hard Hearts will turn back to the heart of the Lord. Holy FIRE Conviction will fall upon the hearts of men, and life changing radical encounters with God's Love and compassion will mark and set ablaze the hardest of hearts.

The Unquenchable fire of God's Glory will be made manifest, and not just in our Gatherings, but in Cities, Towns, Political and Educational Systems, and Cultures. There is a Clarion Call to the Five-fold to Come Up higher. Those who insist on fighting from old realms will grow weary and burn out. Those who allow the Lord to upgrade their Posture and their perspective and their Authority from the Place of greater Intimacy and Surrender will Rule and Reign over Nations with Rest and powerful precision.

I hear the Spirit say, "Watch For the Battle has shifted realms, the Power and Authority of the Key of the House of David shall be made manifest in greater measure. The weight of My Glory has grown in deeper measures and degrees, for this Kairos Hour will be marked by manifest power and greater exploits, not by showmanship and human endeavor; not by striving, but by taking Full Dominion; not by endless contending but by decisive and strategic Movement!"

I Say, Those Mantled for this Season must guard their REST, must deepen their Ascension and must carry the Glory with Holy Awe and Reverence in the Spirit of the Fear of the Lord!

I had a dream this morning, and in the dream, I was sitting on a swing - resting - singing unto the Lord peacefully, and a bee was flying around my head - beautiful weather- but I was unbothered by it. But people would come near me and swat at the bee, bothered by its presence. I remained peaceful, but the bee became defensive. Then someone I recognized appeared and started swatting at the bee, and the bee became even more defensive and started buzzing around my head, and before long, he was trying to penetrate inside my ear. I could feel it physically in my dream, and as I was attempting to push it away from my ear, I could feel myself becoming physically unable to lift my hand to swat at it. So, I started shaking it out, still remaining calm and peaceful, subbing to the Lord.

Then I could hear the spirit of the Lord begin singing to me. I could hear and sense the music audibly and the words in my Spirit. I could hear Him say, "Don't allow the lies and stinging words to penetrate your ear gates and heart. Rest in my truth and my peace that surpasses understanding will overtake you." He began to minister to me in the Spirit, and I heard, "My love for you will never stop. Never stop, I love you for an eternity. My love goes on and on, eternity long, ages to ages, my love for you will never stop. Never stop." Then I see water flowing; a river flowing from His throne that has no end. As I awoke, in my spirit, I have been declaring his love over my life and generational bloodline, and so I declare the love of God over every nation (His nations) and generational bloodlines, that all people will encounter God's love and be transformed in the mighty name of Jesus. I declare love, peace, hope, salvation, healing, and deliverance. I declare God's love is transforming, broken, hardened hearts. His love is setting the captive free through His truth - you are loved for an eternity.
The truth is, God will never stop loving you. I declare the nations be made whole, turning back to God, serving him in sprit and in truth. Be Free. Beloved, you are LOVED! Be at peace. Rest in his promises - You are loved. Scriptures the Lord led me to meditate upon: Psalm 22:27, Jeremiah 31, John 3, Lamentations 3:22-23, Zephaniah 3:17.

I HEARD THE LORD SAY 'THIS WEEK, LOOK FOR THE SUPERNATURAL SIGNS OF THE REDEEMING OF TIME'

As the Lord spoke these words, I could feel such a strong sense of the heart of the Lord bringing forth restoration, recompense and increase. As I leaned into the Lord and listened, I began to see clouds parting. There was a new day of clarity and a new day of restoration that was rising. There are going to be supernatural signs of the redeeming of time that will come forth this week in the lives of many.

As I leaned into the Lord and listened, I could feel and hear the words thundering in the spirit "FULL CIRCLE FULFILLMENT"

I have heard these words multiple times over the last few days, and as I heard them thundering in the spirit, I could see a deeper level of full circle fulfilment coming forth in many lives. The sense surrounded me so strongly of posture as the Lord spoke. HE is LOOKING for those who are LOOKING. There was such a strong sense in the spirit to cry out to the Lord for eyes to see as He sees and to see the supernatural signs of the redeeming of time, especially this week.

As I leaned into the Lord and listened to His heart, I heard:
'Pay attention, My people! Pay attention! For there is a mighty move of My Spirit in your midst, there is a mighty move of My Spirit where I am redeeming time. I say unto you that I am bringing restoration in your midst. I am bringing deliverance and freedom in your midst. I am bringing you deeper into the place of recompense and restoration (Joel 2:25), and I am bringing you deeper into your inheritance in Me. Lift up your eyes, look to Me - Eyes up and eyes ahead in expectancy for what I am doing and what I will do.

'I say unto you that I am Lord over time. I say unto you, that time bows to Me and is but a resource for Me. I say unto you, that I am outside of time: and where there have been great losses and impossibilities in seasons past, where there has been great theft and brokenness, I say unto you that I am infusing you with hope and strength again to see and believe that I am the God that turns all things for good for those who love Me and are according to My purpose (Rom 8:28).

'I say unto you that there are many living caught in regret and there are many living caught in looking back. But I say unto you, watch My mighty hand move to bring forth a redeeming of time that you have never seen or experienced. For I say unto, you that as you cry out for eyes to see, you will begin to see the signs of the redeeming of time coming forth that are heralding in the budding vines of new life and the change that is in the air. (Song of Songs 2:10-13 TPT)

'I say unto you that I am bringing you forth into a realm of restoration and recompense that you have not yet known. For I HAVE been restoring and bringing forth recompense, but I say unto you, that there is a greater demonstration of My power to restore and redeem time that your eyes have not seen.

'I say unto you, posture your eyes and your hearts, especially this week, to look for the supernatural signs of My hand redeeming time. For there are many who have been living in lack in their hearts and a loss of hope from many seasons gone by; but I say unto you that I am infusing you with hope. I am infusing you with supernatural strength and divine insight as you cry out to SEE the supernatural signs of the redeeming of time. The enemy is attempting to keep many of your eyes distracted and upon past seasons and the natural realm, but I say unto you, that I am bringing forth mighty miracles in your midst.

'I say unto you, as you lean into Me, you shall see a divine convergence of spoils of past seasons be given unto you in greater ways than you have seen and received. For I say unto you, posture your hearts in expectancy to LOOK and to SEE the miraculous manifestation of the redeeming of time in your midst. What your mind cannot comprehend, I am going to do. Eye has not seen, ear has not heard, and what NO mind has conceived, the things that I have prepared for those who love Me. (1 Corinthians 2:9)

'I say unto you, there is a mighty reclaiming that is and will take place in the redeeming of time. By My mighty hand, you will recover, reclaim and apprehend all that I have for you in the mighty redeeming of time. I am bringing forth a mighty acceleration of the redeeming of time, and I say unto you that where you have gone out sowing seeds in tears, you are coming back reaping a harvest with great joy.

'I say unto you, PSALM 126 for 2026! Psalm 126 for 2026! Watch and see how there shall be mighty demonstrations of Psalm 126 for 2026 in many of your lives. Oh, the mighty demonstration of the redemption of time and restoration that is increasing in your midst. I say unto you, that I am beginning an even greater move of My Spirit than you have seen – to bring forth a mighty redeeming of the time and mighty demonstrations of My restoration by the power of My hand that you have never seen.

'Oh, the mighty convergence that is coming forth in greater and deeper ways than you have seen as I bring forth a mighty redeeming of time. I say unto you that I am bringing hearts back to life. I am refreshing your hearts afresh: and watch and see as you cry out to Me, the clarity and the wisdom that I am releasing to you, the mighty divine insight and direction that shall flow forth into your lives as you see My mighty hand bring forth a redeeming of time. I am strengthening you and setting you free to move into the new things that I have for you.

'I say unto you that I am resurrecting dreams in this hour. I am bringing forth a resurrection of laid down dreams and I am causing the wind of My Spirit to fiercely breathe upon hearts and upon lives to move into a new day of fulfilment. Full circle fullness is coming forth in the redeeming of time in a deeper and greater way than you have seen.'

'It was like a dream come true when you freed us from our bondage and brought us back to Zion! We laughed and laughed and overflowed with gladness. We were left shouting for joy and singing your praise. All the nations saw it and joined in, saying, "The Lord has done great miracles for them!" Yes, he did mighty miracles and we are overjoyed! Now, Lord, do it again! Restore us to our former glory! May streams of your refreshing flow over us until our dry hearts are drenched again. Those who sow their tears as seeds will reap a harvest with joyful shouts of glee. They may weep as they go out carrying their seed to sow, but they will return with joyful laughter and shouting with gladness as they bring back armloads of blessing and a harvest overflowing!' (Psalm 126 (TPT))

'He has made everything beautiful in its time. He has also set eternity in the human heart; yet no one can fathom what God has done from beginning to end.' (Ecclesiastes 3:11 (ESV))

Dutch Sheets

Eagles and Arrows

Our friend, Gina Gholston, recently sent the following word to me. I find it very interesting that it references past dreams regarding the Lord merging the fruit of several revivals in history, including the Welsh revival. When sending the word, Gina had no idea I was going to Wales, and I did not know what she had written in this post until I returned. Gina shares:

The Lord has been reminding me of two dreams I had a few years ago. Dutch has talked about these dreams before, so they are not new to those who have followed the GH15 posts through the years. But I am feeling that there is a prophetic revelation God wants us to receive through them now. Although we find ourselves in a time of necessary governmental shifting in our nation, we, as the Ekklesia, must not forget that the one thing that will save our nation is an awakening to an awareness of God! We have now begun to witness that awakening!

In 2020, I had a dream that took place on the grounds of the Red River Meeting House near Russellville, Kentucky. A mighty revival occurred there in 1800. In the dream, I saw a geyser burst forth, releasing waters of revival, and I heard the Lord say, "It's time!" He was revealing that wells of revival would be opened once again.

I then saw 100 bald eagles being sent out from that place, drenched in the waters of that opened well. Each was carrying three arrows and a rolled-up piece of paper in their talons.

In the dream, I also saw lines being drawn on a map of the United States. Those lines connected the Red River Meeting House, Cane Ridge (1801 revival), and Azusa Street (revival in1906), forming what appeared to be a spearhead. Then another line came from the nation of Wales (revival of 1903-1904), forming what looked like the shaft of the spear. Each of these is a location that experienced major moves of God in past years that brought spiritual transformation. Seeing this formation in the dream, the Lord said to me, "I am going to spearhead another greater move of My Spirit in your time, and it's time."

Then, in 2021, I had another dream in which I was standing with someone on a deck-like structure in the heavens. From this place, we were looking down, observing the United States of America. I did not know who the man was standing next to me, but I could feel a strong anointing from him, and his presence was causing me to have an indescribable hope for America!

As we looked down, we saw what first appeared to be warplanes flying over the U.S. The man next to me nonchalantly said, "Oh my, I wonder what is happening in America? And what do all of these warplanes mean?" He said this, not with concern, but almost as though he wanted me to see something that wasn't obvious. He looked at me as if I should know the right answer to his questions.

I said, "Those are not warplanes. Those are eagles! I have seen them before in a dream. There are one hundred of them, and they are carrying water from the well of revival that has been unlocked and is now gushing forth into the nation."

I noticed that each eagle was still drenched with water from the opened revival well of Red River Meeting House, and in their talons were the 300 arrows and the rolled-up pieces of paper.

As the eagles flew across America, they suddenly began to dive simultaneously toward the land. It appeared that they would hit the ground, but instead, they leveled off and began to drop their 300 arrows. [Intercessors did a prophetic act regarding this in 2023, burying 300 arrowheads throughout the nation.] When each arrow hit the ground, it ignited as though it had hit a gas pocket. Up from that spot would come a spiraling column of fire. Then the water the eagles were releasing began to be ignited by the fire until it seemed that all of America was ablaze.

In the dream, I fell to my knees as I became very aware of the power and presence of God! The gentleman next to me then began to speak under a heavy anointing.

"You have seen correctly! This is how America will be saved! Do not doubt it! A sweeping move of the Spirit of God is coming, igniting the land with the fire of His presence, bringing a swift and undeniable awakening. What appears to be one thing is about to be revealed as another thing. Some are in fear because of how things appear, but others SEE with holy awe and expectation! The eagles are on assignment. They carry 'Fire Power.' They carry glory, and at the precise moment, their arrows will be released, and they will hit their targets, and the move of God will ignite and spread very quickly!" He then said again, "DO NOT DOUBT IT!"

I then instinctively knew that this man was Duncan Campbell. That was the end of the dream.

Duncan Campbell represents a major move of God that took place in the Hebrides Islands from 1949-1952. The revival fires that burned in those islands were so powerful and transforming that multitudes were born again as the glory of God filled their land. It is of great significance that God put this man in the dream. It declares to us that the same transforming power of God that saved the Hebrides Islands will manifest in our time to save our nation!

As I have pondered these dreams, I feel that Yahweh is revealing we have now entered the time of fulfillment. The dropping of the fiery arrows, pictured by the prophetic acts of planting 300 arrowheads in 2023, is igniting fires of awakening in America and around the world. Strategic pockets of revival history and prophetic promises for now are merging. We are seeing it happen! Though it may have seemed that America was destined for imminent destruction, God is saying, "Look again! See things from My perspective." He has a plan! He has declared His verdict: America shall be saved! That salvation will come by way of another great move of His Spirit! This is a prophetic promise that has been "set to the rhythm of Heaven's time clock," and now God says, "It's time!"

Two very significant aspects of releasing an arrow:

1. Arrows are piercing. They leave an undeniable mark on whatever they hit, and,

2. The releasing of an arrow is well-timed and intentional. If an arrow hits a target, it's because it was specifically aimed at that target.

God knows the location of the fire pockets. He has determined this moment to strike the land with the demonstration of His power, which will ignite and spearhead this next great awakening! Watch for this. Stay focused and filled with expectation. The fire may seem small at first, but a spark can quickly become a blazing fire, demonstrating the reality of our all-powerful, all-consuming God. Do not doubt this!

Pray with me:

Yahweh, saturate us with the waters of Your prophetic promises and purposes that You have determined for our times. Light the flames! May we witness an undeniable move of Your Spirit ignited by the release of the piercing arrows of Your glory! Cause the church to change her perspective, Lord, no longer judging things by what we see through the lens of our natural understanding. Cause us to look with holy awe and expectation. We will now witness the supernatural awakening as You spearhead another greater move of Your Spirit.

And Father, we refuse to grow complacent in praying for the governmental changes needed in America. For decades now, the left has used activist liberals in the courts to further their radical agendas. We appeal to You to expose their corrupt efforts and thwart what they are currently doing. Rein in and restore integrity to our judicial system, from the top down, we ask. In Jesus' name, amen.

Our decree:

We decree that the arrows from God's glory are hitting their targets, and the fire of Holy Spirit is igniting the land with awakening.

Nate Johnston: The Arrows Against You Are Being Fashioned Into Your Weapons of Breakthrough

Word released on December 19, 2025:

Recently, in a dream, I saw a storm of words and arrows filling the skies that then descended upon people and pinned them down under its weight; but then I saw the Lord take the storm and He began to stir it in His hands.

At first, I didn't understand what was happening. Then I saw that He was molding, pressing, and fashioning it into a weapon of His own, and He took it and threw it violently back in the direction it had come. When I woke up, I heard this passage from Isaiah 54:15–17:

"'Indeed they shall surely assemble, but not because of Me. Whoever assembles against you shall fall for your sake.

"'Behold, I have created the blacksmith who blows the coals in the fire, who brings forth an instrument for his work; and I have created the spoiler to destroy. No weapon formed against you shall prosper, and every tongue which rises against you in judgment you shall condemn. This is the heritage of the servants of the LORD, and their righteousness is from Me,' says the LORD." (NKJV)

I'm convinced that what I saw was the sovereign vindication of God over His children to bring justice to the judgment the enemy has sent against them and the confusion it has caused.

The storm of words and chatter has not only come directly from the enemy, but the enemy has brought mass division by recruiting other Believers to hurl arrows and words at each other. What a perversion of purpose! But God is dealing with this right now, exposing the enemy's plans to divide, and FASHIONING and

FORGING what has come against you into a weapon that works FOR you!

So, let me simply prophesy what I believe is happening in your life and in the Body of Christ as this assignment comes to a bitter end.

Unmuzzling Your Mouth and Uncapping Wells of Revelation

You are about to feel suddenly unmuzzled; your time of silence and feeling stifled is over. Many won't even realize that they had been silenced until they feel the fresh wind of the Spirit blow through them, and they feel the power and force of what is released. It will be an uncapping of wells of revelation and insight that many have felt unable to tap into in the way they used to. (Photo via Pxhere)

Your silence is over, and it's time to prophesy with potency.

Fresh Stirring of Intimacy and Desire for the Secret Place

You are about to feel a new stirring for the secret place that has been warred against for many months now. The war of words has caused such fatigue against your mind that you have struggled to enter into worship on your own like you used to. It will feel like you suddenly have the ability to dive deep again and crave His presence and voice.

As I write this, I'm seeing people coming into a fresh consecration to the throne room and feeling the cleansing work of the Holy Spirit removing every distraction and desire outside of His presence.

Activating Dreams and Visions Again

The presence of God is going to ignite and activate dreams and visions again for those who have felt like they've lost the ability to hear God in that way.

Encounter dreams have turned to warfare dreams and torment, and this has brought upon a deep discouragement, even condemnation that you aren't doing something right. But dreams are going to come again, and you will get back the personal communication with God you had in your nights. (Photo via Pexels)

Unblocking the Path and Opening Up Closed Doors

Words against you can create technical blockages where it feels like things just don't connect or eventuate. It's like being in a holding pattern when you were certain it was meant to be a time of movement and release. Witchcraft has caused delay upon delay this year and the closing of some doors you didn't expect, but God is serving justice upon this attack by clearing the road and opening up the RIGHT doors for you.

Releasing Held Up Decisions, Outcomes, and Directions

What has been held up and stuck in a forever cycle of indecision will suddenly be released from its track. Where you have been asking God for specific direction to make the right choices, the ability to make plans to move forward will suddenly be released from backorder. This kind of waiting was NOT the Lord, and God is bringing the answers to you so you can move on.

Emotional and Mental Refreshing and Wholeness

You are being healed and refreshed right now from the emotional and mental toll the war of words has had on your mind and heart. God has been teaching you to protect your heart, so you don't demonize those who were used by the enemy to attack you, and He has also been showing you how to align your thoughts with the Word on your worst days of onslaught. Watch as torment breaks off your mind and you suddenly feel a refreshing mentality and a new capacity to open your heart after self-protecting for so long.

Physical Healing from Lethargy, Adrenal Fatigue, Heart Issues, Stomach Issues, and Mystery Illnesses

I've seen this for years, but when the assignment of words breaks off people's lives, it often brings healing to physical issues. Many who have had mystery illnesses will suddenly realize they aren't feeling pain where they did or are experiencing discomfort in the way they did months before. In particular, those who have adrenal/hormonal issues, as well as heart and stomach issues, are being healed in the wake of this.

Delayed and Diverted Financial Provision

These words have been like a barrier to prayers and things you have been asking God for. In particular, they've been a barrier to those of you who have needed financial provision to be able to move forward in areas of new ventures, projects, business, family, and ministry. You will begin to see a flood come to you, as well as release of held up favor, and gifts God has planned for you.

Provision is a major sign of breakthrough. Just like Elijah—who went into hiding after experiencing witchcraft against him—suddenly received provision, you too are going to experience God bring you what you need. It won't just be monetary, but God will bring you the missing pieces/resources that will enable you to move forward.

So now PROPHESY, SPEAK, and release fresh WORDS of faith and power into your season. Look behind you and forgive who you need to, untangle yourself from the last remaining words that tried to hold you ransom, and become the Father's mouthpiece and clarion call ringing in a new day, because the season of chatter is over. Now the era of the decree is upon us!

Give Him Fifteen: An Appeal to Heaven
Dutch Sheets

Introduction

Today's post is from my brother, Tim Sheets. As always, it is incredibly insightful and prophetically encouraging. His title is:

Increasing Degrees of Glory

Holy Spirit has been emphasizing a passage that is prophetically speaking into 2026. This is a promise that applies to all the heirs of God and to all true Kingdom Ekklesias. It concerns the remarkable amplification of God's glory in the earth, which is visible, experiential, and transformational.

2 Corinthians 3:7 (NLT): "The old way, with laws etched in stone, led to death. Though it began with such glory that the people of Israel could not bear to look at Moses' face. For his face shone with the glory of God, even though the brightness was already fading away."

In this text, Apostle Paul reminds us that even the ministry characterized by letters carved into stone tablets came with a dazzling measure of glory. So much so that the Israelites could not endure the radiance on Moses' face. Yet that glory was temporary; it was destined to fade. If that covenant carried such glory, how much more glorious is the ministry of the Spirit?

The new covenant is not merely an improvement, it is a divine, life-giving escalation. The ministry of Holy Spirit, our Empowered Teacher, Guide, and Mentor, is marked by a far greater and enduring glory. Should we not expect far more under the new way, through which the Spirit gives life?

2 Corinthians 3:18 (NIV): "And we all, who with unveiled faces contemplate the Lord's glory, are being transformed into His image with ever-increasing glory, which comes from the Lord, who is the Spirit."

Paul, one of the most brilliant minds in church history, writes this under the direct inspiration of the Holy Spirit. He explains the difference between the old covenant, which he calls a covenant of death, and the new covenant, which he describes as a covenant of life. But this passage is far more than theological contrast, it carries a prophetic promise that spans generations, for the church corporately and individually. Paul is unveiling a living word, activated by Heaven and stewarded by Holy Spirit through the centuries. This word has been growing, intensifying, and accelerating across seasons, generations, and outpourings. Winds and rains of revival have converged again and again, multiplying the promise and expanding its reach. What Paul describes has never diminished; it has only advanced.

We are now entering a time when this promise is manifesting in ways never seen before. The glory of God is and will continue to increase on the earth in accelerated measure, until it reaches its full intended expression. This movement cannot be stopped because it is sustained by the Spirit, and fueled by a prevailing anointing continually poured out. I believe we are now closer to the fullness of this promise than at any time in history. The potential of this era, particularly the potential of 2026, is extraordinary. The capacity of the heirs of God on the earth has never been greater. All previous anointings, revivals, outpourings, and movements of Holy Spirit are now converging into our time.

This is a promise Holy Spirit is activating. We are becoming a glorious church, just as Scripture promised. A true, radiant Ekklesia is rising to meet its moment. Yes, it is a remnant, but with Holy Spirit and the hosts of Heaven, it is more than enough. Paul's revelation points us to what Holy Spirit is saying and doing now. Part of this includes the end-time outpouring prophesied by Joel; a revival touching all flesh, young and old. This move of God is accelerated and sustained by a greater weight of glory than has ever been released in the earth.

We are entering a season of increased divine presence. The presence of King Jesus, manifested through Holy Spirit, will be experienced in deeper and more tangible ways. God's glory will be reflected throughout the earth. The Ekklesia will carry it. The heirs of God will steward it. The river of glory is rising and is reaching flood stage. Scripture never describes God's glory in us as diminishing, but rather as increasing. Paul tells us we are taken from glory to glory by Holy Spirit. The Amplified Bible captures it powerfully: "We are constantly being transfigured into ever-increasing splendor—from one degree of glory to another."

A "degree" signifies progression, an increase in intensity, capacity, and effect. The Greek word for glory, doxa, refers to splendor, radiance, honor, and the manifested presence of God. In this context, it contrasts the lesser glory of the law with the surpassing glory of the new covenant in Christ. It is movement from one measurable expression of glory to a greater one.

A degree is also a point of promotion. In academic terms, it signifies advancement into a higher level of understanding and function. Temperature is measured in degrees as well, rising from warm to hot to blazing. Paul is telling us that God's glory increases in measurable, experiential ways.

God Himself is as glorious as He will ever be. That never changes. But He can, and does, manifest more of His glory in the earth as He chooses. Holy Spirit is the One who takes us from one degree of glory to another, from one level to another level, from one point to a higher point. The spiritual temperature of the Kingdom has been rising steadily, and now we are being graduated into a new intensity of glory fire.

Scripture affirms this trajectory. Habakkuk 2:14 declares that the earth will be filled with the knowledge of the glory of the Lord as the waters cover the sea. That is a degree of glory the world has never seen, and yet it is promised.

This progression is also vividly illustrated in Ezekiel 47, where the prophet sees a river flowing from the house of God. At first it is ankle-deep, then knee-deep, then waist-deep, until it becomes waters to swim in, a river too powerful to cross. Wherever the river flows, everything lives. This is the glory river. It swells, advances, and overflows, releasing life everywhere it goes. That is the promise Holy Spirit is fulfilling in our time. The Hebrew word for glory, kabowd, literally means weight. It speaks of substance, importance, honor, and the tangible presence of God. Kabowd appears more than 200 times in Scripture, consistently pointing to the measurable heaviness of God's presence. The greater the weight, the greater the impact.

We are entering a time when Holy Spirit is releasing fresh revelation for strategic action and faith engagement. God's presence is increasing in weight, intensity, and reach. His glory will leave an undeniable mark on the earth - on territories, regions, and nations. The true Ekklesia will operate in this weightiness, accomplishing its assignment with greater authority and effect.

I believe in 2026 there is an impartation, a mantle being placed upon the Ekklesia to function at a higher level. There is a healing anointing flowing to see great healings and miracles. A gift of faith is coming upon us to believe for signs, wonders and miracles, which will help gather the harvest. The glory of the latter house will be greater than the former. The river of God is coming to flood stage, and the weight of His glory in us is increasing.

May 2026 be a year where the corporate Ekklesia prepares an atmosphere that is welcoming to the Lord, inviting His glory to hover over us. Let's invite Him to do whatever He wants, however He wants, whenever He wants.

Pray with me:
Lord, we thank You for all You are, and for all You're doing across this land. We believe You have brought us to a time of acceleration and increasing degrees of Your glory. Fulfill Your promise that the earth will be filled with the knowledge of Your glory, as the waters cover the sea. Let Your presence impact regions, cities, and nations. Let Your glory leave its mark on culture, government, families, and hearts.

Lord, we ask that You increase the weight of Your glory upon us and that Your presence would be made visible, tangible, and undeniable in the earth. We pray and decree these things in the mighty name of Jesus, Amen.

Our decree:
We declare that the weight of God's glory is increasing in and through His Ekklesia to impact the earth in ever increasing ways.

Lana Vawser: I HEARD THE LORD SAY 'I AM BRINGING PEACE TO THE PLACES WHERE THERE HAS BEEN NO PEACE'

Recently I heard the Lord say, 'I am bringing peace to the places where there has been no peace.'

As the Lord spoke these words, John 14:27 surrounded me loudly:

'Peace I leave with you; My [perfect] peace I give to you; not as the world gives do I give to you. Do not let your heart be troubled, nor let it be afraid. [Let My perfect peace calm you in every circumstance and give you courage and strength for every challenge.]' (AMP)

'I leave the gift of peace with you—my peace. Not the kind of fragile peace given by the world, but my perfect peace. Don't yield to fear or be troubled in your hearts—instead, be courageous!' (TPT)

As I heard the Word surrounding me, suddenly I could hear the sound of what sounded like waves crashing and I leaned into the Lord's heart and I heard:

'The waves of My Spirit are crashing over you, My people, and I am awakening you to My peace that is your inheritance in Me. For I say unto you, that I am bringing you into deeper understanding of what it means and looks like to walk in My perfect peace. For I say unto you, that I have seen many hearts have been troubled and burdened. I say unto you, cast your cares upon Me for I care for you (1 Peter 5:7). I have seen many who have been troubled over worries and concerns that have weighed them down for so long; and I say unto you, do not worry about tomorrow, for tomorrow has enough worries of its own (Matthew 6:34) trust in Me. I am bringing you deeper into the revelation of My goodness, My faithfulness, My protection and My care for you.

'I say unto you, that I am leading you into the paths of peace. My peace. I am leading you deeper into the peace that surpasses all understanding (Philippians 4:7). I say unto you, that as you seek Me in this hour I am releasing My divine wisdom, strategy and leading into your hearts and lives to see you walk in the peace that is your inheritance in Me. For I say unto you, that I am shining my light upon your lives, upon your hearts, upon your minds and upon the things that have been robbing your peace. I am shining My light upon the areas that have compromised peace. I am shining My light on areas that need to be realigned with My ways, My Word and My purpose for your lives. I am working deeply in this hour to uproot and expose these areas and bring you deeper into My peace.

'I say unto you, I am dealing with roots of anxiety and fear within many. I am dealing with areas of the heart where there has been deep anxiety that has stolen perfect peace and I am bringing you deeper into the revelation of My Word and hearing My voice with greater clarity and insight that will bring you perfect peace. I say unto you that I am bringing you deeper into trust and dependence upon Me; and truly you are coming into a time of the supernatural renewal of your mind in ways you have not known. I say unto you, that I am bringing you deeper into the revelation and manifestation of My thoughts and the way I think.

'I am causing you to come up higher in your thinking and align yourselves with My Word – walking by faith and not by sight (2 Corinthians 5:7) in greater ways – that is going to bring you deeper into the manifestation of My peace in and through your lives. I say unto you, that I am increasing conviction upon what you think and what you meditate upon. For I am bringing conviction to what you are pondering, and I am delivering you from unholy thinking as you seek Me. I am bringing you deeper into aligning with My Word and My thoughts that is going to bring you deeper into the manifestation of My perfect peace.

'For I say unto you, that I am bringing perfect peace into bodies in this hour. I say unto you, that I am dealing with the spirit of trauma and I am delivering many from the spirit of trauma that has been upon their bodies that has caused great ailments and suffering for many of My people. I say unto you that I am speaking peace to bodies in this hour. I am delivering many from the torment that they have faced within their physical bodies. I say unto you come deeper into the revelation of Isaiah 53:5 "By My stripes you were healed." I say unto you, that I am bringing calm and perfect peace into anxious and tormented bodies in this hour.

'I say unto you, speak to your bodies. I say unto you, use your mouths to speak My Word over your bodies. I say unto you, that I am healing nervous systems. I am bringing a deep realignment to nervous systems. I say unto you that I am causing your bodies to remember no more the trauma that it endured; and I say unto you that greater is MY WORD to break the chains of what has assailed you. I say unto you, make room for My peace to come and manifest within your bodies in this hour as you stand and speak to your bodies to come into alignment with My Word.

'I say unto you, entertain not the thoughts, "It will never change. It will always be as it has been." I say unto you, come up higher in your thinking and feast upon My Word and My truth. I say unto you that I am breathing hope into your weary hearts and by My Spirit I am strengthening you in this hour. I say to those of you with tormented sleep; I say unto you, that I am the God that gives My beloved sleep (Psalm 127:2). I say unto you, watch in this hour as I bring peace to your night hours. Watch as I bring peace to the night hours and restore your sleep. I say unto you, where there has been a lack of peace in night hours, I say unto you, I am restoring peace in the night hours.

'There are many who have been lamenting over circumstances and the weight of circumstances and trials that they have been walking, and many have lost their peace. I say to those of you who have lost your peace, arise and look at Me and My Word, feast upon My promises and My nature. For not only will peace be restored as you look to Me and meditate upon Me and My Word, but I also say unto you, that I am going to calm the most troubled waters. I am going to calm the most violent of storms in your lives in this hour as you look to Me.

'I say unto you, that I am training you to rehearse My Rhema and speak to the storms that surround you. Do not sit silent in the storms. Arise and speak, for I am bringing you into deeper places of peace even IN the storms, as I am with You. I am teaching you what it looks like in greater ways to have peace in the most intense of storms and not be shaken. I am also teaching you to speak that which I am speaking and WATCH the storms be stilled. I say unto you, that many have tolerated storms in their lives in this hour by remaining silent; and I say unto you, look into My eyes, keep your eyes on Me in the storm and be filled with peace and hope and strength even as the wind ferociously blows.

'Watch how I will strengthen you in the place of peace. I will awaken you to greater revelation of your authority in Me to speak to these storms and watch them be stilled. Many storms that many of you have been carrying on the inside are being stilled as you look to Me in this hour, and you are arising as one walking in greater revelation of your authority in Me to speak to the storms and watch them be stilled.'

Francis Frangipane: 2026 - The Year of Release

In spite of increasing tensions around the world, the Holy Spirit says that, for many, this new year will be a year of release. While we must absolutely intercede for our nations, we also must refuse to become fearful or restrained by the pressures of the world around us. The constrictions experienced by this age are not death throes but birth pangs; they are not part of what restricts us, but what releases us.

The Lord says, "Do not focus on the fearful things around you, the threats of terrorism, or the portent of economic collapse; focus steadfastly upon your transformation!"

God is doing a quick and deep work, and this world is the perfect setting in which to manifest Christlikeness. Darkness provides the perfect contrast to the rising glory of the Lord within us.

"So, look for My release," says the Lord. "For this year it shall come powerfully and suddenly."

The Year of Release

Beloved, the Father's heart is impassioned for our release! Even now, the Holy Spirit is focused upon bringing new freedom to our lives. Whether that release manifests in greater purity, more confident power, or deeper intimacy with Christ, a spiritual release is coming.

Yes, Christ enters our lives as Lord and King, but He never stops being our Healer, Comforter, and Deliverer. Even when He must confront and rebuke us, it is so He ultimately can release us.

Remember, Jesus began His ministry with an amazing announcement, a proclamation which would define His eternal relationship with the Church. He said, "The Spirit of the Lord is upon Me, because He anointed Me to preach the Gospel to the poor. He has sent Me to proclaim release to the captives, and recovery of sight to the blind, to set free those who are downtrodden, to proclaim the favorable year of the Lord" (Luke 4:18–19 NASB 1977). (Photo via Creative Commons)

Jesus was anointed (that is, He was prepared and empowered by God) to proclaim, "release to the captives." He didn't come to condemn captives but to free them. He is not angry that we are "blind"; He comes to give us vision. He's not disappointed that we are "downtrodden"; He comes to lift us up.

If you have received the anointing of Jesus Christ upon your life, then there is a constant updraft of divine energy working in your spirit to bring release from sin, recovery from wounding, and freedom from the limitations of the flesh. The instant you look to God, you know His power is working; the moment you turn to prayer, resurrection power kicks into gear.

Jesus came proclaiming "the year of the Lord's favor" (Luke 4:19). The Amplified Classic Edition adds, "[the day when salvation and the free favors of God profusely abound]." Regardless of what you feel like, look like, or have recently been acting like, right at this very moment, the Spirit of God is extending His favor toward you, assuring you a release is on its way!

What This Means

In practical terms, this means that if you've been incarcerated by sin or the devil, this year you will triumph over your enemies. If you have loved ones trapped in bondage, they too, as you intercede, shall know the Lord's freedom. It also means if you have been treading water spiritually and going nowhere, a release is coming to you as well. This year shall mark a season of measurable spiritual fulfillment for all who desire to live like Christ.

Remember, though fearsome things may occur around us, something more awesome still is occurring within us. Christ's Church is with child. This year shall be the year of great release!

Veronika West: The Day of the Great Candlestick Removal Has Begun!
From: February 7, 2025

"Remember therefore from where you have fallen; repent and do the first works, or else I will come to you quickly and remove your lampstand from its place — unless you repent." (Revelation 2:5)

"The 11th Hour Prophets rising has come — and the day of the great Candlestick Removal has surely begun!" says God.

Warriors, the past few weeks have brought unprecedented revelation and impartation for many.

God has shown me that He is preparing to do something within the Prophetic Movement unlike anything we have ever seen before.

I will share more about what I've received from The LORD, but for now, let me offer just a glimpse.

Today, as I listened to Him, The Spirit of Revelation began to Unravel this Scroll.

I was overwhelmed by The Spirit of The Fear of The LORD, and what I saw and heard shook me to my very core!

I heard Him say, "Watch for what I AM about to do! Many won't believe it — even if I told them.

I say, Watch! — as My 11th Hour Prophets begin to rise!"

Then I heard the Spirit of The LORD say, "Many of My 11th Hour Prophets will be known as My Divine Inspectors and Double Troublemakers — and they shall be Mantled and Mandated to examine and inspect the Roots and the Fruits.

I Say — My 11th Hour Prophets will know Me as King and as the skillful Surgeon, wielding like an Axe, the Sword of The LORD in their hands.

For I tell you, My 11th Hour Prophets will either Bless the Tree, or Curse the Tree — and they will be Consecrated unto Me — and they will Bless what is of and from Me — and they will Curse what arises from the enemy!

My 11th Hour Prophets will walk in Holy and Righteous Indignation — and they will Bless what I Bless, Curse what I Curse, Love what I Love and Hate what I Hate!

Again I tell you — Watch!

For My 11th Hour Prophets will be entrusted with the Sword of the Peacemaker — and they shall walk in Purity, Humility, and Holiness, and possess the capacity to Carry and Impart the Mantle of My Seven Spirits with Power and Authority!

I say, Look! See! For this is the reason for the Great Separation and Purification!

Yes! For this is why I AM purifying the Prophetic Movement and shaking all that can be shaken — so that My 11th Hour Prophets can be birthed onto the earth, and be entrusted to Carry and Wield the weight of My Glory.

Watch and pray! Listen! Pay attention and get ready!

For I tell you — The Day of My 11th Hour Prophets rising has come — and the great Candlestick Removal has surely begun!" says God.

After hearing those Words, I heard The Spirit speak again.

"Beloved — watch!

For those Marked Places and Marked People — who will begin to rise and to bring forth the greater Manifestations of My Glory!

And this will be a Sign that they have been entrusted with new levels and dimensions of My invading Glory — and that their Covenant Foundations are being restored — and that The Lamps of My Seven Spirits have being fully lit!

Yes! And that the eyes of My Seven Spirits are now bringing forth Supernatural Illumination for Divine Transformation!"

Revelation 2:5 says,

"If you don't repent, I will come and remove your lampstand from its place among the churches." NLT

"Remember therefore from whence thou art fallen, and repent, and do the first works; or else I will come unto thee quickly, and will remove thy candlestick out of his place, except thou repent!" KJV.

Crystal G.H. Lowery: There Are No "Ifs" In Faith

Heaven Isn't Offended at the "If"

There are moments in Scripture where one sentence becomes a doorway—an opening into the heartbeat of God.

Mark 9:22–23 is one of them. A father stood before Jesus, broken and exhausted. His son had been tormented for years by a spirit no one could cast out, not even by the disciples who had walked in power. His plea was raw, human, and painfully relatable: "If You're able to do something, anything—have compassion on us and help us!" (Mark 9:22 TPT).

And Jesus responded with a holy interruption: "What do you mean, 'if'?" (Mark 9:23 TPT).

Heaven wasn't offended. Jesus wasn't scolding. The tone was piercing but tender, like the gentle correction of a Father calling His child into maturity. But in the original Greek, Jesus wasn't merely repeating the man's wording. The form of the word "if" Jesus used is the most emphatic form possible (see The Passion Translation footnotes for Mark 9:23)—a deliberate, forceful emphasis meant to spotlight the word and strip it of its authority. It's as if Jesus was saying, "This kind of 'if'—this doubt, this hesitation—has no place in faith."

He was revealing something: Faith cannot coexist with conditional thinking. Faith has no room for "ifs."

The Clash Between Human Experience and Kingdom Reality

The father said "if" because of what he had just watched. The disciples tried and failed. His history preached louder than his hope.

We've all been there. We pray for breakthrough but remember the last time we didn't see it. We proclaim healing but recall the moment healing didn't come. We speak promises but hear the mocking voice of delay. Our human experience whispers "if," but Kingdom reality rebukes it. (Photos via Pexels)

When Jesus said, "What do you mean, 'if'?" with that strong emphasis, He was confronting the agreement the father had made with disappointment—an agreement many of us still carry without realizing it.

Jesus was not merely casting out a demon that day. He was casting out doubt that had become familiar. He was delivering a father from the theology of *maybe.

A Prophetic Picture for This Hour

I hear the Spirit saying, "I want My people to remove the 'ifs' from their faith." There is a fresh wind blowing on weary faith, a resurrection breath on prayers long buried. Where the enemy has seeded uncertainty, Heaven is planting clarity. The Lord is raising up a remnant that doesn't negotiate with doubt.

This is a season where deferred hope is being healed, disappointment is losing its authority, past failures are no longer permitted to prophesy, and unbelief is being shattered by a new revelation of Jesus' ability. The shaking you've walked through wasn't punishment; it was God exposing the hidden "ifs" that have diluted your faith.

For many, the Lord is saying, "I cannot answer your prayers because of the doubt commingled with faith. Remove the "ifs" and watch Me move!"

The Turning Point: "Help My Unbelief!"

The father's response is as prophetic as Jesus' question: "I do believe, Lord; help my little faith!" (Mark 9:24 TPT).

This was not a confession of failure. This was a declaration of surrender. It was the moment when the man's faith broke agreement with the "if" and aligned itself fully with Christ. Something in the spirit realm shifted right there—not when the demon left the boy, but when the father renounced conditional faith and embraced complete and fully yielded trust.

Some breakthroughs come only after this shift. Some mountains move only when you intentionally and willingly lay the "ifs" to surrender and die at the feet of Jesus.

Faith Without "If" Is Not Arrogance—It's Alignment

God is not asking you to pretend. He is not asking you to hype yourself into a miracle. He is not asking for emotional theatrics. He is asking for alignment— not the alignment of feelings but the alignment of agreement and pure trust in ONLY HIM. Trusting both in Jesus and in doubt doesn't work.

God is not asking you to pretend. He is not asking you to hype yourself into a miracle. He is not asking for emotional theatrics. He is asking for alignment— not the alignment of feelings but the alignment of agreement and pure trust in ONLY HIM. Trusting both in Jesus and in doubt doesn't work.

When Jesus said, "All things are possible to the one who believes," He was revealing Heaven's legal system: Faith is not wishful thinking. Faith is agreement with God's reality—TRUTH. And in God's reality, there are no "ifs."

A Prophetic Charge for Today

I declare over you: This is the season where God is calling you to remove the "ifs" from your heart and prayers, where He breaks the power of past disappointments, where He calls you into a faith that does not tremble at impossibility, where He anoints your voice to speak not with uncertainty but with Kingdom authority.

You are stepping into an era where you will experience the following:

• You won't pray "Father, if You can," but "I know You've already done it."

• You won't wonder if God wants to move but discern how God is moving.

• You won't question if breakthrough is coming, but declare, "Breakthrough is here."

The Father is raising up a people who pray like Jesus prayed—without hesitation, without negotiation, without "ifs."

Beloved, Heaven is still asking the same question Jesus asked that day: What do you mean, "if"?

This is not to shame you but to awaken you, not to expose your weakness but to reveal His strength, not to rebuke your humanity but to call you into His divinity.

Today, step out of conditional faith and into confident trust. Let every "if" bow to the name of Jesus. And watch mountains move, because they must obey the One who has no "ifs" in Him.

Veronika West

A POWERFUL DREAM: THE FOUR WINDS OF THE FOUR FACES AND THE COMING SEPARATION OF GOATS AND SHEEP NATIONS

Last night, I had a powerful dream 12/20/2025: 20/12/2025 that I want to share for the purpose of serious Prayer,

In this dream, I was taken above a very large field, which I immediately understood by the Spirit of Revelation, was speaking to the UK, THE UNITED KINGDOM!

As I looked at the field, I saw that it was surrounded by clearly defined Ancient Stone Walls that distinctly marked the Nation's boundaries. At the four corners of the large field stood four distinct Ancient looking Gates. I clearly saw that Within these boundaries there were smaller fields, each also clearly marked by its own Ancient Stone walls, and I knew, again by Revelation, that these smaller fields were the four Nations of the UK. Every one of four fields also had Ancient Gates that connected to the other fields, allowing free passage between them. As I looked more closely at the fields in the dream and their ancient Gates and Walls, I saw that in many places the Stone Walls were completely dilapidated; they were in serious disrepair and lay in ruins. The Ancient gates both within the fields and at the outer boundaries of the Nation were wide open and unguarded.

As I was drawn closer in the dream to the four fields within the larger field, I saw that the once-fertile soil in the fields had become hard, and the lush green grass that once covered all four fields was beginning to change color from a beautiful green to yellow and brown. I knew by revelation that the Nation was undergoing great and accelerated Change; the Nation/s were becoming hardened. Yet, I saw there were many sheep that still appeared to be grazing and moving freely between the fields, unaware of the gravity of what was taking place right under their noses!

But then as I came even nearer in the dream, I noticed that there were Shepherds present in the different fields. However, I saw that some had fallen asleep at the Gateways, others were taking shelter from the cold winds by hiding beneath large stones scattered among the ruins of the broken-down Walls. I saw that some Shepherds were wandering aimlessly around the fields, paying little or no attention to the sheep entrusted to them.

But then I saw other Shepherds who were desperately trying to rebuild the Ancient walls that lay in ruins, even attempting to awaken and rally the other Shepherds to help restore the Walls and secure the Gateways. The atmosphere of the dream was intensely desperate and filled with a sense of greater, impending danger that was about to come upon the fields. The shepherds who were striving to rebuild the Walls and secure the Gates were urgently laboring and seemed starkly aware that time was running out and that the Sheep needed protection and that the boundaries of the Nation/s needed to be secured again. Suddenly, the dream shifted, and I heard a strange sound rising on the horizon - a sound difficult to describe, but a Sound that carried the force of a Battle cry, yet at the same time sounded like an Announcement of arrival. Now As I turned and looked toward the sound, I saw what first appeared to be a horde of crawling locusts advancing toward the fields.

But as they drew closer, I realized they were Goats, female goats and large male rams being driven hard by numerous herdsmen. The herdsmen looked rugged and unrefined, as though they had come from desert places. I watched as the goats were driven through the open Ancient Gates and through the breaches where the Ancient Walls had collapsed.

Then I saw the large male rams with great horns begin to attack the sheep. Many of the Rams sought to assert dominance by mounting the female sheep, while others violently struck and wounded them. Some of the sheep were badly injured, and some were fatally attacked. I watched in near horror in the dream, as the sheep were scattered across the fields, desperately searching for cover. Meanwhile, I watched as the other Goats climbed onto the Walls causing even more damage to the already ruined Ancient Stone Walls. Then I saw the Shepherds who had been sleeping at the Gateways suddenly awaken, stirred by the unfolding chaos, but it was too late.

The goats and the Herdsmen had already infiltrated the fields. The Goats began to consume everything, not only the grass but also the shrubs and even the small trees within the fields. Like swarming, crawling locusts, the Goats began to overtake the fields, all while the sheep were driven apart and scattered across the four fields.

Then the dream shifted once more, and I saw the Shepherds beginning to come together. The Shepherds took their place upon the Walls and at the Gateways, and they raised their Horns/Shofars.

In one accord, the Shepherds began to release a powerful blast of the Horns/Shofars. Blast after blast, the Shofars were blown over the Fields and into the Atmosphere. And suddenly, I heard a sound - a sound I will never forget until the Good Shepherd calls me Home. I heard the Sound of a Mighty LION'S ROAR rise and go forth on the horizon. THE SOUND OF THE MIGHTY ROAR OF THE LION OF JUDAH ROSE INTO THE ATMOSPHERE IN RESPONSE TO THE SOUND OF THE SHOFARS.

Suddenly, I was lifted high above the Four Fields, and I saw THE FOUR FACES OF GOD APPEAR OVER THE UNITED KINGDOM: THE FACE OF THE LION, THE FACE OF THE EAGLE, THE FACE OF THE MAN, AND THEN THE FACE OF THE OX. I watched as THE FOUR WINDS OF THE FOUR FACES OF GOD began to blow from the North, South, East, and West, and I heard these words:

"WATCH, FOR AT THE SOUND OF THE MIGHTY LION'S ROAR THE GREAT EAGLES WILL SOAR!"

As I heard those words, I saw the Mighty Lion of Judah begin to run the length and breadth of the boundary lines of the Nation. Then I saw a Great and Mighty Eagle rise on the Four Winds of the Four Faces of God, and I watched as a Divine Convergence began to take place over the Nation. I watched as the Shepherds began to Rise and take back the Gates, and as they moved in One Accord to Rebuild and Restore the broken-down Walls, and I watched as THE FOUR WINDS OF THE FOUR FACES OF GOD blew forth upon the Four Fields. I watched as the Mighty Four Winds of the Four Faces of God blew upon the Nation/s (Four Faces speaks prophetically to the Power and Authority of Five-Fold Coming together in Word and Spirit). And I watched as the Mighty Four Winds scattered the Goats and their Herdsmen and Gathered up the Sheep that had been scattered abroad! I Woke Up.

A PROPHETIC INTERPRETATION

I will now endeavor to share a few aspects of Prophetic Interpretation of this Dream, as it is full of powerful prophetic revelation that demands a Prayerful Response! I submit, this timely Dream is a National and Governmental Prophetic Warning to the United Kingdom. The large field, as I said, was shown to me as the UK. I was shown it as One Spiritual Territory, containing Four Nations. The Ancient Stone Walls and Gates speaks to God-ordained Identity and Spiritual boundaries and Authority structures.

THE OPEN GATES SPEAKS TO LEADERSHIP FAILURE

The Ruin and neglect of the Walls reveals prolonged leadership failure, compromise, and abandonment of watchfulness, and the Onus and Accountability for this Ruin is on the Church, not on Earthly Governments! The Silent, Compromising and Divided Church has ALLOWED THIS TO HAPPEN. Open and unguarded Gates show that Authority was yielded, not stolen from the Nations!

Gates are always about Authority and Governance, and the Ancient Gates being wide open and unguarded points directly to Apostolic, Pastoral, and Prophetic negligence: watchmen and Leaders asleep, distracted, compromised, or self-serving and preserving, and a refusal to contend for Truth and Righteousness at the cost of comfort, ease and popularity! This is not accidental vulnerability, but it has been a willing abdication of Spiritual Accountability and Responsibility.

SEE LINK; A Word I gave on; "ADAM WHERE ARE YOU?" ;
https://www.hiskingdomprophecy.com/adam-where-are-you-2/

In the dream, I see clearly that the once fertile soil is now hardened ground, and the dying grass reveals a Nation in Transition undergoing accelerated great change and spiritual hardening, a turning away of Righteousness and Truth!

Many of the sheep in the dream simply continued to move freely, totally unaware of the seriousness or the Urgency of the Moment, mistaking freedom for safety; and While the Watchmen slept, Satan came to sow tares among the wheat (Goats among the Sheep!)

The shepherds represent divided Leadership across the Church - some asleep or hiding in fear, and some wandering without assuming responsibility.

BUT THERE IS A FAITHFUL REMNANT RISING!

It is a Radical Reformation Remnant that is Discerning of the Times, and they are Rallying and Urgently Rebuilding the Walls, Restoring the Broken-down Altars and Securing the Ancient Gates! In the dream, the crisis was escalated when goats driven by the desert Herdsmen entered through broken Walls and Open Gates. We know that we wrestle not against flesh and Blood. The Goats Speak prophetically to False and Counterfeit Religions Rising and Illegitimate Authorities infiltrating systems and structures that seek to Control, Dominate, exploit, and devour.

The Large Rams speak to demonic Agenda and power that is powerfully Abusive and that is designed to wound, kill and scatter the sheep. THE GOATS AND HERDSMEN SPEAK POWERFULLY TO SPIRITUAL INFILTRATION AND ILLEGAL INVASION OF A SOVEREIGN NATION. The Goats in this dream are not neutral outsiders. Biblically and prophetically, Goats represent those without Covenant alignment, a False Religious and Satanic Authority, Rebellion, Strong Self-willed and dominating demonic Spirits. The large male Rams in this dream speak also to Abusive Authority, Sexual perversion and predators, Spiritual and Positional domination working through political and religious institutions - leaders who will exploit rather than protect and preserve Sovereignty and Justice! The Herdsmen from desert places speak prophetically to Systems, Demonic Ideologies, Religions and powers that are not rooted in God's Covenant; coming from barren, dry, and lawless places - survival-based Authority and Voices shaped in wilderness without submission to the True God and Creator.

Their behavior in the dream was speaking powerfully of how they enter in through broken and neglected Walls. They infiltrate through open and unguarded Gates, and their Agenda is to devour and kill everything, not just to eat the grass!

This Dream is a powerful Warning of a total Nation takeover through demonic domination! We see how their coming upon the Field gave birth to great devastation and widespread scattering and destruction!

But Suddeny!

The TURNING POINT came when the Shepherds united in One Accord and took their positions at the Gates and on the Walls and began to blow their Shofars. When One Sound, One Voice was Released, Heaven responded, and the Mighty Winds of the Four Faces of God were Activated.

"THE SOUND OF THE MIGHTY ROAR OF THE LION OF JUDAH ROSE INTO THE ATMOSPHERE IN RESPONSE TO THE SOUND OF THE SHOFARS!"

THEN THE FOUR FACES OF GOD, THE LION, THE EAGLE, THE MAN, AND THE OX APPEARED OVER THE UNITED KINGDOM, Releasing THE FOUR WINDS FROM THE NORTH, SOUTH, EAST, AND WEST!

HERE, the Four Faces Speak powerfully to Full Divine Government, Kingly Power and Authority, Prophetic Vision, Redemptive Wisdom, and Apostolic Strength being released and coming together - A Divine Convergence!

The Four Winds of the Four Faces, when Moving in Divine Alignment and full Collaboration, brought forth Divine Separation and Restoration. The Goats and their Herdsmen were scattered, while the Sheep were Gathered and restored.
THE FOUR WINDS OF THE FOUR FACES OF GOD will bring a Scattering of Goats and false Authority, a Swift Removal of demonic infiltrators. A gathering up of the True Sheep, and a Restoration of the Nation/s boundaries will take place. There is a powerful prophetic parallel here to Matthew 25 in motion, and Ezekiel 37 meets Ezekiel 34.

This is a Simultaneous Move of God, One of Divine Judgment AND Mercy at the same time.

"WATCH FOR AT THE SOUND OF THE MIGHTY LION'S ROAR THE GREAT EAGLES WILL SOAR"

This reveals that as Christ asserts His Authority through the Four Faces, the True Apostolic and Prophetic Voices will rise, and a Divine Alignment will drive out the Spirit of the Counterfeit, will destroy and Uproot Demonic Altars and Teardown Thrones of Darkness, and the Spirit of Confusion and Deception will have no room to move as a Divine Convergence takes place. This Timely dream, I submit, is a Clarion Call to Rebuild the Walls and Altars of Elijah through Prayer, True Repentance Unity, and decisive and Righteous Action; a Clarion Call to Take Back and Reclaim the Ancient Gates the Broken-down Altars. Walls must be rebuilt and Restored, the Boundary lines must be Secured and Preserved, the Shepherds and Watchmen must take their place and Sound the Sound of War on the Walls!

KEEP IN MIND, Prophesy is Conditional: "IF MY PEOPLE." God reveals His Redemptive Heart for Nations through Prophetic Words. Let us Take Heed of this Warning and Become Rightly Aligned with the Instruction of the Lord for this Hour!

Will Meier: Creation Groans - Earth's Blessing Released

How can the earth bless us? Yet Scripture is full of this language—the earth is yielding its increase, the ground bringing forth fruit, creation groaning for redemption. The earth is not passive; it responds to the voice of the Lord, to righteousness, and to covenant alignment.

I struggled with this word because I had no established framework for it. And, I have admittedly been resisting sending out, but I kept seeing a gushing forth of many waters. As I researched this idea, the Scriptures began to paint an undeniable picture that the earth can indeed release a blessing in concert with Heaven.

What Has Been Capped, Resisted, and Withheld Is About to Burst Forth!

Can the earth bring forth a blessing? Don't all blessings flow from Heaven downward? Yet we often disconnect from this idea because we are no longer an agrarian people. We live in an industrialized, technical, digitized age. Cities, machines, and code have replaced fields, vineyards, and harvests. But for the Biblical writers, the land itself was a living participant in God's covenant story. They understood that obedience or rebellion was not just personal; it touched the ground beneath their feet, the rain from Heaven, and the fruit of their labors. What they sowed in righteousness, the land itself echoed back in blessing.

Paul tells us in Romans that "the whole creation has been groaning together in the pains of childbirth until now" (Romans 8:22 ESV). The earth is pregnant with blessing, but it will only bring it forth when the sons and daughters of God rise into their place of authority and righteousness (Romans 8:19). Creation itself is waiting for the unveiling of God's people, because their alignment with Heaven triggers the earth's release.

The Lord just started speaking to me about how the earth is going to bring forth a massive blessing. There will be a gushing forth like never seen before. It will be on the magnitude of the flood in Noah's time—an issuing forth of the springs and the wells of salvation being released, not unto destruction but into life. The yoke and tyranny of unrighteousness have been broken, and righteousness will come forth.

This won't' be a trickle. This won't be a drop here or there. What is coming will be a flood of blessing—a rushing torrent of life, glory, and restoration. What has been capped, resisted, and withheld is about to burst forth. The earth itself is heaving in travail, ready to deliver what Heaven has decreed. And the Lord is declaring, "Now is the time for release."

How the Earth Yields Forth Blessings

From Genesis to Revelation, creation is never silent; it is a witness and a partner in God's covenant purposes. The earth was cursed because of Adam's sin (Genesis 3:17–18), but it also responds to righteousness and obedience. When God's people align with Him, the ground yields its increase; when they rebel, it withholds. (Haggai 1:10–11)

This is exactly what Malachi prophesied: "Bring the whole tithe into the storehouse. Test Me in this,' says the Lord Almighty, 'and see if I will not throw open the floodgates of Heaven and pour out so much blessing that there will not be room enough to store it. I will prevent pests from devouring your crops, and the vines in your fields will not drop their fruit before it is ripe,' says the Lord Almighty. 'Then all the nations will call you blessed, for yours will be a delightful land,' says the Lord Almighty" (Malachi 3:10–12 NIV).

Malachi ties Heaven's outpouring directly to the earth's response. Heaven opens, the earth yields, nations take notice. This covenant rhythm—obedience unlocking blessing and creation echoing back God's goodness—is a consistent thread from the law to the prophets to Christ Himself.

Jeremiah declared with urgency: "O earth, earth, earth, hear the word of the LORD" (Jeremiah 22:29 NKJV). Why did he say "earth" three times? In Hebrew thought, repetition establishes certainty. Jeremiah's triple cry is a summons to every layer of creation—land, nations, and people—to respond to God's word. The earth itself is commanded to obey.

This is why the psalmist could say, "The earth has yielded its increase; God, our God, shall bless us" (Psalm 67:6 ESV). It is also why Isaiah prophesied, "Let the earth open, that salvation and righteousness may bear fruit" (Isaiah 45:8 ESV). Paul took it further: "For the creation waits with eager longing for the revealing of the sons of God in hope that the creation itself will be set free from its bondage to corruption and obtain the freedom of the glory of the children of God." (Romans 8:19–21 ESV

Creation longs for freedom. Dragged into the curse through Adam's fall, it will also share in the liberation of God's people through Christ's redemption. The imagery Paul uses is childbirth—heaving, travailing, straining toward delivery. The earth is pregnant with blessing, but it will only bring it forth when the sons and daughters of God rise into their authority and righteousness.

And what is the greatest blessing the earth will release? The wells of salvation.

The Wells of Salvation

When the Heavens open and the earth responds, salvation springs up like fruit from the soil.

"Shower, O heavens, from above, and let the clouds rain down righteousness; let the earth open, that salvation and righteousness may bear fruit." (Isaiah 45:8 ESV)

"The earth has yielded its increase; God, our God, shall bless us. God shall bless us; let all the ends of the earth fear Him!" (Psalm 67:6–7 ESV)

This salvation is not limited to souls entering the Kingdom, though that is central; it also includes deliverance, healing, restoration, and justice. This salvation is families reconciled, prodigals returning, communities transformed, and nations turning back to the Lord. This is the endgame of blessing—not just abundance but the revelation of Jesus Christ filling the earth. The earth itself becomes a stage for His glory, testifying that the curse is broken and that righteousness has taken root.

God Desires to Heal the Land

But salvation is not only personal; it touches cities, nations, and the land itself. From Genesis onward, the land has always been directly affected by covenant faithfulness or disobedience. Sin causes the land to mourn, but righteousness brings restoration.

"If My people, who are called by My name, will humble themselves and pray and seek My face and turn from their wicked ways, then I will hear from Heaven, and I will forgive their sin and will heal their land." (2 Chronicles 7:14 NIV)

God doesn't only heal people; He heals places. The land itself is tied to covenant and responds to repentance, righteousness, and worship.

"You crown the year with Your bounty; Your wagon tracks overflow with abundance. The pastures of the wilderness overflow, the hills gird themselves with joy." (Psalm 65:11–12 ESV)

"The desert and the parched land will be glad; the wilderness will rejoice and blossom. Like the crocus, it will burst into bloom; it will rejoice greatly and shout for joy." (Isaiah 35:1–2 NIV)

The earth itself rejoices under God's blessing. What once was barren blossoms. What once mourned breaks forth into fruitfulness. This means the gushing forth of blessing isn't only about provision or revival in people; it is also about nations, cities, and lands being restored. Pollution, corruption, bloodshed, and injustice defile the land (Numbers 35:33–34; Hosea 4:1–3), but when God's people repent and align with Him, He heals, renews, and releases abundance again.

The Earth Also Protects the Bride

The blessing of creation is not only about fruitfulness; it is also about protection. Revelation gives us a stunning picture of this truth: "Then from his mouth the serpent spewed water like a river, to overtake the woman and sweep her away with the torrent. But the earth helped the woman by opening its mouth and swallowing the river that the dragon had spewed out of his mouth." (Revelation 12:15–16 NIV)

The woman here is the Bride—the covenant people of God. The serpent spews out a flood of destruction, but the earth itself rises up to defend her. Creation does not stand neutral; it actively partners with Heaven's purposes. When the enemy tries to overwhelm, God can command even the ground beneath our feet to intervene.

This prophetic picture reminds us that the earth is not merely the stage of redemption; it is a participant in it. Just as the land yields increase and the heavens pour out blessing, so also the earth can shield, absorb, and protect the people of God from the assaults of the enemy. (Photo via Pexels)

In Noah's day, the deep burst forth in judgment. In Revelation, the earth swallows the flood of destruction. And in our day, the earth is groaning to release a flood of blessing, salvation, and protection for the Bride.

Springs Breaking Open

"I will open rivers on the bare heights, and fountains in the midst of the valleys. I will make the wilderness a pool of water, and the dry land springs of water." (Isaiah 41:18 ESV)

Springs speak of personal breakthrough—the dry places of your life suddenly gushing with new life. They are wells of salvation being uncapped, long-contended promises surfacing, and hidden treasures of revelation pouring out. Think of Isaac in Genesis 26, who was digging again the wells of his father and finding fresh springs of living water. Where the enemy tried to stop the flow, God opened it again. What has been resisted will be released. Springs are the first signs of the flood of blessing. They are the initial breakthroughs that become streams and rivers.

Rivers of Life and Abundance

"Wherever the river goes, every living creature that swarms will live, and there will be very many fish. For this water goes there, that the waters of the sea may become fresh; so everything will live where the river goes." (Ezekiel 47:9 ESV)

"Whoever believes in Me, as the Scripture has said, 'Out of his heart will flow rivers of living water.'" (John 7:38 ESV)

Rivers symbolize habitation and abundance. They sustain cities, irrigate farmlands, and carve valleys. The river from God's throne in Ezekiel 47 and Revelation 22 is not a seasonal stream; it is the unending flow of His life and glory.

This is what God is releasing—not momentary revivals but a river that reshapes regions and nations. "Let justice roll down like waters, and righteousness like an ever-flowing stream." (Amos 5:24 ESV)

Entire cultures will be transformed as His river sweeps through. And these rivers ultimately flow from Christ Himself—the Fountain of Living Waters, the Lamb who is the Temple, and the River of Life in the New Jerusalem. Every spring and river points back to Him.

From a Flood of Judgment to a Flood of Blessing

In Noah's time, the deep burst open in judgment. The fountains of the great deep were released, and waters covered the whole earth. In our time, the deep will burst open in blessing.

The earth is not resisting; it is groaning, heaving, and birthing (Romans 8:22). What Noah saw in water unto judgment, we will see in water unto redemption: springs of salvation breaking open, rivers of righteousness flowing, and the earth yielding her increase.

The tyranny of unrighteousness has been shattered. The gavel of Heaven has come down. Now the floodgates of righteousness, justice, and glory are being released—not in one region only, but across nations—until the earth is "filled with the knowledge of the glory of the LORD, as the waters cover the sea" (Habakkuk 2:14 ESV). And at the center of it all stands Christ, the Fountain of Living Waters, the River of Life, and the Ark of Salvation. What was once judgment through water is now redemption through Him, and creation itself will testify of His reign.

Declaration: Lord, we welcome the bursting forth of the earth's blessing. We decree that the springs hidden in dry places are breaking open, the rivers of living water are flowing without hindrance, and the wells of salvation are being uncapped and released.

Let righteousness flood the land like a mighty torrent. Let justice roll down like thunderous waters, silencing every voice of accusation and overturning every altar of unrighteousness. Let the Bride be shielded, even as the earth itself rises to protect and defend her from the flood of the serpent.

We call forth abundance from the ground, fruitfulness from the fields, and restoration in every city and nation. We command the land to rejoice, to yield its increase, and to testify to the victory of Christ Jesus, the Fountain of Living Waters, the River of Life, and the Ark of Salvation.

Now, O Lord, let Heaven and earth agree, and let the glory of Your name cover the earth as the waters cover the sea.

Earth, Earth, Earth, Bring Forth Your Blessing!

The Word of the Lord is clear: the earth is not silent, nor is it passive. "For the creation waits with eager longing for the revealing of the sons of God, the whole creation has been groaning together in the pains of childbirth until now" (Romans 8:19–22 ESV). The earth is pregnant with blessing, straining to deliver what God has decreed. (Photo via Pexels)

In Noah's day, the deep burst open in judgment. In our day, the deep will burst open in blessing. Springs will break forth, rivers will flow, and the wells of salvation will overflow until the knowledge of the glory of the Lord covers the earth as the waters cover the sea.

This is the hour when groaning becomes birthing. What has been withheld will be released. What has been capped will be uncapped. The tyranny of unrighteousness has been broken, and righteousness will rise from the ground like a flood.

So lift up your eyes, position your heart, and align with His covenant. Heaven is pouring out righteousness, and the earth is ready to respond. Together they will release salvation, deliverance, restoration, and glory in measures the world has never seen. The earth will gush forth a blessing, and it will testify to the victory of Christ, the Fountain of Living Waters, the reign of righteousness, and the unveiling of the sons and daughters of God.

Activation: How to Partner with the Earth's Release

1. Pray: Call forth the blessing of the earth with your voice. Decree Isaiah 45:8 and Psalm 67 over your life, family, and land.

2. Consecrate: Remove unrighteousness from your life and your home. Align with holiness so the ground under your feet is free to respond.

3. Build altars of worship: Lift up thanksgiving and praise in your home, church, and region. Worship breaks open the earth's springs.

4. Act justly: Let your life reflect righteousness. The earth responds when justice rolls and mercy is lived out.

5. Expect the flood: Position your heart in faith. What has been withheld will be released, not in trickles but in torrents.

A Flood of Blessing and a Testimony of Glory

From Genesis to Revelation, the message is clear: the earth is not silent, nor is it neutral. It responds to covenant, it partners with righteousness, it shields the Bride, and it yearns for redemption. What was once a place of a curse is becoming a stage of glory.

In Noah's day, the deep broke open in judgment. In Revelation, the earth rises up to protect the Bride. And now, in our generation, creation groans for the unveiling of the sons and daughters of God so it can release a flood of blessing.

This is the moment to align with Heaven's decree. The land beneath your feet is waiting for your voice. The springs are ready to break open, the rivers are ready to flow, and the nations are ready to see a testimony of glory that only Christ can bring.

So let us rise as sons and daughters. Let us consecrate, decree, worship, and live justly. For when Heaven and earth agree, salvation springs forth, righteousness flows like a river, and the earth yields her increase. And all will know that the Lord reigns, His Bride is secure, and His glory will cover the earth as the waters cover the sea.

Pat Francis: Preparation For A New Season

"Joshua told the people "Consecrate yourselves, for tomorrow the LORD will do amazing things among you." (Joshua 3:5)

Preparation for a new season is very important and should be intentional with specific goals in mind. A new season comes with expectancy and requires new actions for new results. After living in the wilderness for forty years, Joshua encouraged the people on how to prepare for a new and glorious season.

1) Consecrate yourself. Set yourself apart to seek God for a new season of manifested Glory. Cleanse your heart before Him and worship Him as your Most High God with whom all things are possible. Pray, praise, fast and listen to God for encouragement, instruction and inspiration.
2) Create new expectations. Expectation creates the atmosphere for miracles. Anticipation prepares your womb for birthing. Stop limiting God in your realm of limitation and begin to expect great things from our awesome God.
3) Shed and shift. Shed your previous boundaries and shift into God's realm for 'amazing' possibilities. Shift and gear up your mind for sudden surprises, great wonders and miraculous provision.
4) Get your praise ready. Practice your praise and your testimony. From your victories, you will experience glory to glorify God.

Kingdom Declaration:
The Glory of the LORD Jesus Christ is rising upon me to bring Him great glory on earth.

Wade Butler: What have we missed? The full Bible!

One of the key fundamental books you have heard me talk about is the Book of Enoch. It was one of the first books removed from the Bible due to fear from the Pope and Elite of the general populace understanding the WORD of God through someone who had been with GOD, explaining who mankind actually are, that being Sons and Daughters of God. We were created, not in the likeness of God, but in the essence of GOD, fully able to grasp the concept of a loving Father who gifts us with the ability to be like God, able to heal the sick, raise the dead and cast out demons.

That knowledge would not allow men and women to be controlled. It meant we could be free…

The Ethiopian Bible has 88 books, and if you get the full version, it contains over 6,000 digital files, including Enoch, the Book of Jubilees, the Apocrypha, the Apocalypse of Thomas and so much more. I recommend the full size, comfort print version.

I won't lie to you; it is not an easy read because it is a size 10 type and there are not the breaks we are accustomed to. So, plan on long sessions and detailed word to enable you to receive the fullness of God's Creative Word.

Author unknown

My wife caught me crying in my study at 2 AM, and I had to explain that I finally understood what Jude was talking about after forty years of reading the Bible. That moment changed everything for me.

I have been a deacon for eighteen years, taught confirmation classes, and led mission trips to Guatemala three times. My grandfather was a pastor. My uncle was a pastor. Faith is not something I came to later in life. It is who I am at the deepest level. But there was always something that nagged at me.

Small things did not add up. Genesis 6 mentions the Nephilim and the sons of God taking human wives, and then the narrative just continues as if the reader already knows what that means. I did not know what that meant. No one I asked seemed to know either.

I remember bringing it up at a men's retreat about ten years ago. The group leader smiled and said something about it being a figure of speech, metaphorical language. He said we should focus on the salvation message rather than getting lost in the weeds. But those verses did not feel like weeds to me. They felt like a door that everyone kept walking past.

Then there was Jude chapter 1, verse 14. Enoch, the seventh from Adam, prophesied. This was a direct quote from a man who supposedly walked with God and was taken up without dying, a prophecy about the Lord coming with ten thousands of his saints to execute judgment.

I went looking for this prophecy in my Bible. It was not there. I asked my pastor where I could find the rest of Enoch's words. He told me the Book of Enoch was not considered inspired. That it was interesting for historical purposes but not something I needed to worry about, that the Holy Spirit had guided the canon process, and I should trust that what we have is what God intended. I tried to accept that answer. For years I tried.

But the question kept resurfacing. If the book was not inspired, why did Jude treat it as prophecy? If the early church rejected it, why does the oldest continuous Christian tradition on earth still use it? Who made the decision to leave it out, and when, and why?

These questions were like splinters in my mind, impossible to ignore once I became aware of them. About five years ago, I started researching on my own, reading articles, watching documentaries, going down rabbit holes at night after everyone else had gone to bed. That is when I discovered that the Ethiopian Orthodox Church has been using an 81-book Bible for over 1,600 years, not as some fringe addition, but as their foundational text. Included are books like Enoch, Jubilees, and something called Meqabyan that sounded completely foreign to me.

I had to find these books. My first attempt was a disaster. I found a listing online for a Complete Ethiopian Bible with 81 Books. The description sounded perfect. The reviews were mostly positive. I ordered it without hesitation. What arrived was a disappointment I still have not fully processed. The font was so small that reading more than a few minutes gave me a headache. The binding felt cheap, like it would fall apart within months. But the worst part was the content.

I went straight to the table of contents looking for Meqabyan. Instead I found Maccabees - First Maccabees. Second Maccabees. The exact same books that are in the Catholic Bible, the ones about the Maccabean revolt against the Seleucid Empire. That is not the same thing at all.

The Ethiopian Meqabyan are completely different texts: different stories, different characters, different time periods. Anyone who has actually studied the Ethiopian canon knows this immediately. But whoever compiled this book apparently did not know or did not care about the difference.

I felt like someone had sold me a replica and called it an antique. I tried again - different publisher, different listing, same result: microscopic text, wrong books, substituted chapters that ended mid-thought as if the manuscript had been corrupted and no one bothered to fix it.

I tried a third time. This one was in some kind of Rastafarian dialect. Words I had never seen before. Phrases that required a decoder ring to understand. I am all for honoring different traditions, but I needed something I could actually read and study without a translation guide.

By this point I had spent over a hundred dollars and had nothing to show for it except frustration. I started to wonder if this was the universe telling me to stop looking. Maybe there was a reason these books were not widely available. Maybe I was supposed to stay within the boundaries that had been set for me. That thought depressed me more than I expected.

Then about six months ago, a brother from my prayer group mentioned something he had found. He called it the Complete Ethiopian Bible, but he said it was different from the garbage flooding the market. He said it actually contained what it claimed to contain. I was skeptical. I had been burned too many times. But he brought it to our next meeting and let me examine it.

The first thing I noticed was the print - normal size, clear, readable without squinting or holding the book at arm's length. Such a simple thing, but after my previous experiences it felt revolutionary. The second thing I noticed was the table of contents. Meqabyan was there: First, Second, and Third, not Maccabees; the actual Ethiopian texts about the Benjamite resistance against oppression; the books that exist nowhere else in the Western tradition. I checked for Enoch – Present, Jubilees - present. I flipped through the pages looking for the obvious signs of sloppy production: the typos, the formatting errors, the verses that are cut off randomly. I did not find them.

I ordered my copy that same week. I want to be clear about something: reading these books did not instantly resolve every question I had ever wrestled with. Scripture is deep; it requires reflection and prayer and time. Anyone who tells you they have everything figured out is either lying or has not read carefully enough.

But for the first time, I had access to the material I needed to do that reflection. Going back to Genesis 6 after reading the Book of Enoch was like watching a movie after someone finally explains the backstory. The Watchers. The forbidden knowledge. The corruption that made the flood necessary. Suddenly, verses that had confused me for decades had a framework. Not because I invented one, but because I could read what the Biblical authors themselves appeared to be referencing.

My wife has noticed the change. She says I read with more intensity now. More purpose. She says I talk about scripture differently, like I am discovering it again for the first time. She is right. My son, who is fifteen and at that age where questioning everything is practically a requirement, has started joining me some evenings. We read together. We discuss. We argue sometimes, in the good way that sharpens iron. Instead of faith being something handed down and accepted without examination, it has become something we can explore together.

I still attend my church and still serve as deacon. I still love my community and the traditions that shaped me. But I no longer accept that someone else gets to decide what parts of the story I am allowed to read. I am sharing this because I know I am not the only person who has felt this frustration, the sense that something was being withheld; the disappointment of buying product after product that failed to deliver what it promised; the temptation to give up and accept the boundaries others have drawn. You do not have to give up.

The answers are available. Not on every bookshelf, and not from every seller. The market is still filled with people who do not understand the difference between Ethiopian and Roman Catholic texts, and do not care as long as you pay them, but there are legitimate options - books that deliver the full 81-book canon; translations that are readable and accurate; products that treat these ancient texts with the respect they deserve.

The Complete Ethiopian Bible was that option for me. After years of searching and spending money on counterfeits, it was the one that finally came through. Your path may be different. Your reasons for searching may be different. But if you have ever felt that persistent tug, that sense that there is more to the story than what you have been given access to, I want you to know that feeling is not unfounded. The books exist. The tradition exists. The history exists. And now, finally, a readable version in English exists too.

Steve Backlund: 2026 - You Are a Burning Bush

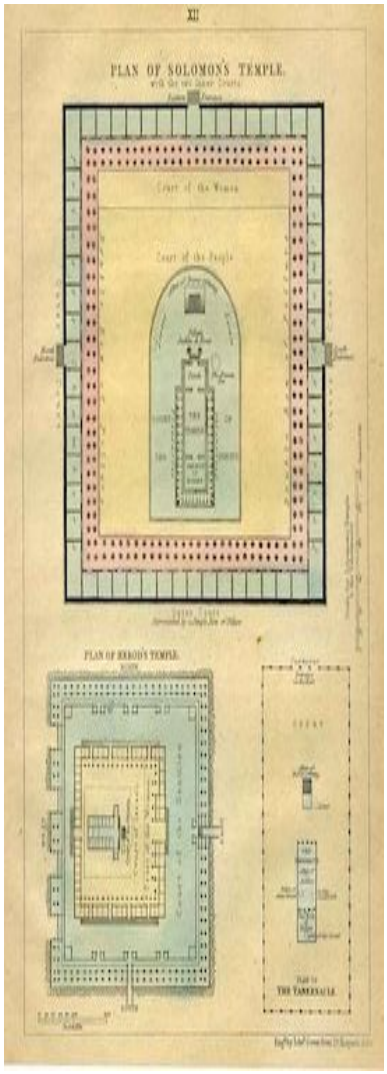

"Now Moses was tending the flock of Jethro his father-in-law, the priest of Midian. And he led the flock to the back of the desert, and came to Horeb, the mountain of God. And the Angel of the Lord appeared to him in a flame of fire from the midst of a bush." (Exodus 3:1–2 NKJV)

This unexpected encounter (after forty years of believing he had missed his opportunity) launched Moses into a history-impacting purpose.

As I pray about 2026, I am hearing it is the year that those who have become discouraged (and stopped building) will encounter us as their burning bush and get back into the game to fulfill their assignment.

Zerubbabel was another leader who needed a burning bush experience. His calling (along with the Jewish elders) to rebuild the temple had stopped for sixteen years because of opposition. He then met two "burning bush" prophets that God used to empower him to build again.

"Then the prophet Haggai and Zechariah the son of Iddo, prophets, prophesied to the Jews... So Zerubbabel the son of Shealtiel and Jeshua the son of Jozadak rose up and began to build the house of God which is in Jerusalem; and the prophets of God were with them, helping them." (Ezra 5:1–2 NKJV)

"So the elders of the Jews built, and they prospered through the prophesying of Haggai the prophet and Zechariah the son of Iddo. And they built and finished it." (Ezra 6:14 NKJV)

We not only believe in burning-bush experiences for ourselves, but this is the year where we become Haggais and Zechariahs for Zerubbabels who have important God assignments but have stopped building. (Photo via Picryl)

Key Words and Verses for 2026

I believe Ezra chapters five and six prophesy to you in the following ways for 2026:

• You will have key partnerships in being a burning bush to Zerubbabels (Haggai AND Zechariah).

• Your prophetic encouragement is going to another level this year. It will grow in quantity and quality.

• Your continued prophetic encouragement will cause influencers to prosper in what they do.

• God is partnering the practical prophetic teaching (Haggai) with the mystical prophetic teaching (Zechariah) to have people experience burning bushes of truth and power.

The books Haggai and Zechariah have key verses for 2026. Here are four of them:

1. Haggai speaks to priorities.

"'You looked for much, but indeed it came to little; and when you brought it home, I blew it away. Why?' says the Lord of hosts. 'Because of My house that is in ruins, while every one of you runs to his own house.'" (Haggai 1:9 NKJV)

2. Haggai also speaks about greater things to come.

"The glory of this latter temple shall be greater than the former." (Haggai 2:9 NKJV)

3. Zechariah gives us a great declaration to proclaim to Zerubbabels.

"This is the word of the Lord to Zerubbabel: 'Not by might nor by power, but by My Spirit,' says the Lord of hosts." (Zechariah 4:6 NKJV)

4. Zechariah tells us more about what the Lord will do by His grace.

"Who are you, O great mountain? Before Zerubbabel you shall become a plain! And he shall bring forth the capstone with shouts of 'Grace, grace to it!'" (Zechariah 4:7 NKJV) (Photo via Wikipedia)

How Can I Be a Burning-Bush Encounter?

How can we position ourselves to be a burning-bush encounter for modern-day Zerubbabels?

1. Believe.

Declare this: I am a walking burning bush who will infuse important influencers with courage to complete their history-making assignments.

2. Identify who you are to partner with.

It may be one person, a whole church, a particular ministry, or a group of friends.

3. Go on an encouragement rampage.

Tell people regularly what you like about them. Overflow with thanksgiving for what people are doing.

4. Give God a lot to work with.

Write, create resources, invade social media, do podcasts, etc.

5. Encounter God's love and power.

Put yourself in situations where God can touch you in great ways.

6. Live in wonder and enthusiasm in every situation.

We never know who will ignite with hope. It might be a modern-day David teenager who saves a nation.

You are a burning bush that will break discouragement off of people and propel them into their calling. As you move forward in this, the words of Zechariah will cause you to keep believing in even seemingly insignificant situations. Despise not the day of small beginnings (see Zechariah 4:10). As we attach great faith to those we connect with, then great things will happen through them.

Lana Vawser: I Heard the Lord Say "It Will Not Always Be as It Always Has Been"

GREAT CHANGE, TURNAROUND, and NEW CHAPTERS are upon you by MY HAND and by MY Spirit.

Posted on January 2nd, 2026, by Lana Vawser

Recently, I heard the Lord say, "It will not always be as it has always been."

As the Lord spoke these words, I saw many in the Body of Christ caught in an intense battle of the mind and heart this week. I saw such a battle over 'hope' for many in the Body of Christ, especially leading into 2026.

I could see this battle had intensified in the lives of many believers, and the voice of the enemy was whispering, 'It's never going to change, it's going to be as it always has been.' I could see these taunting lies of the enemy coming against many in their mind, especially over situations and circumstances they have experienced throughout their lives, where they are yet to see the breakthrough and turnaround by the Spirit of God.

I saw, for some, things had 'flared up' again in these situations and circumstances that they have continued to battle, that have not yet shifted. I could feel the intense anxiety, fear, and pressure coming against these ones as the enemy whispered, 'You're about to walk the same road again." It's going to be the same outcome as it has always been."

I then heard the Lord speak again:

"It will not always be as it always has been."

As I leaned in and listened to the Lord's heart, I heard:

"My people, do not align with the lies of the enemy, that it is going to be as it has always been. I say unto you, there is great turnaround upon you. I say unto you, do not look back to how it has always been. Do not give your attention to hope deferred. Do not give your attention to disappointment. Do not give your attention to foreboding, despair, and disillusionment. I say, come to Me and look unto Me. Lift your eyes to Me and allow Me to breathe upon your weary heart.

"I say unto you that I am restoring your fight. I say unto you, that I am restoring your strength and by the empowerment of My Spirit, as you choose to stand again, I say unto you: that it will not always be as it has always been. I say unto you, that things are CHANGING. I say unto you, that the pressure has come heavily upon you with the resistance of the enemy because the winds of change have landed upon these places where the enemy is whispering to you, "It is going to be as it always has been."

"I say unto you, come unto Me again and watch Me empower you, strengthen you, and breathe upon your hearts and strengthen your faith again. I say unto you, do not align with the enemy's whispers. But I say unto you, as you draw near to Me and listen to My voice and what I am speaking to your heart, I say unto you, that you are going to see miraculous momentum of My Spirit in your midst that is going to bring supernatural turnaround.

"I say unto you, I am the God of the impossible. I am the God of the turnaround. I am faithful, and I say unto you that I am moving to restore and repair in ways that you have never imagined. I say unto you, that I am the God of restoration and I am the God of the turnaround. I say unto you that I am changing the landscape in these areas. I say unto you, that where, for some, these landscapes have been so barren and have felt dead and decayed; I say unto you that I am filling your mouth with My Word again, I am breathing upon your hearts and upon faith to SPEAK AGAIN that which I have spoken to you.

"I say unto you, arise and prophesy again that which I have spoken. I say unto you, speak not the lies of the enemy. Speak not the foreboding outcomes that the enemy is coming to attempt to lure you into agreement with. I say unto you, I am strengthening you to believe again. I am healing your hearts to arise again. I am strengthening you to speak again. I say unto you, aligning not with the lies of the enemy that nothing will ever change. I say unto you, fill your mouths with the TRUTH that I am the God of the TURNAROUND.

"I say unto you, search My Scriptures. Search My Word for the promises that I am giving you and have given you: for I am strengthening you in faith, in these days, to stand in faith and to see that which you have never seen before. Reject ANYTHING and EVERYTHING that is not aligning with My Word and that which I have promised you. I say unto you, ARISE in authority in this hour and allow NOT the enemy to gain ground in your hearts, your lives, and your minds.

"I say unto you, GUARD THE GATES of your 2026. I say unto you, guard the crossover into 2026 through the declarations of your mouths. I say unto you, ARISE and PROPHESY that which I AM SPEAKING into your 2026. ARISE and SPEAK that which I am SPEAKING and allow MY WORDS to make way for what I am going to do in your midst in 2026.

"I say unto you, there is miraculous momentum upon you. I say unto you that there are monumental miracles in your midst. I say unto you, REJECT the lies of the enemy – that things will always be as they always have been – and align your faith with what I am speaking. GREAT CHANGE, TURNAROUND, and NEW CHAPTERS are upon you by MY HAND and by MY Spirit.

"The battle is great, because the change is great, and the move of My Spirit that is going to manifest will be momentous, and the mountains that have been before you will be suddenly levelled as MY VOICE goes forth. Seismic shifts are taking place in the spiritual realm. Align with My Word and My voice and watch the monumental move of My Spirit manifest."

Terry Freisen: The Father's Will

2026 is going to be an amazing year. I can feel the Father's "will" readying itself to be expressed in a more obvious and overt way than we have probably experienced in our lifetime. Like shifting deep tectonic plates, He is going to express what is in His will, in hidden places, foundational places, and all that is seen will have no choice but to respond to the greater.

This fall, the Lord has brought me again and again to Isaiah 60, "Arise, shine; for your light has come, and the glory of the Lord has risen upon you." (NASB) As we neared the end of Dec, He simply asked, "what comes before Isaiah 60?" Isaiah 59 of course.

Isaiah 59 looks much like the world right now; I encourage you to read it.

Holy Spirit highlighted to me Isaiah 59:15-16 "Truth is lacking and no one who turns aside from evil makes himself a prey. Now the Lord saw, and it was displeasing to His sight that there was no justice. And He saw that there was no one to intercede; Then His own arm brought salvation to Him, and His righteousness upheld Him." (NASB) We know this is a prophetic reference to Jesus entering the earth and overcoming evil. This expression today would be the extension of that work until it is fully completed in the Father's plan.

This year we will see; through the finished work of Christ, the will of the Father be expressed, seeing there is no other to bring justice to the streets. He will move sovereignly on the earth, and He will move through His body, the body of Christ in the earth. More clearly His will is going to be expressed and flow through His Son, King Jesus, and His Kingdom, of which we are a part.

This morning when I awoke, I could feel the life of the Father both inside me and around me moving in a direction. It was obvious, but it wasn't overpowering. It was like I had choice. I could feel and observe its movement and the impact it was having as it ushered me in a specific direction, but I could also resist it if I chose to do so.

At the same time, I could feel this life of the Father coming through me in a way that felt highly disconnected, but I knew it was the Father. It was a strange sensation.

In praying about the disconnect, and why it felt so contrary inside of me, Holy Spirit simply said: "It feels this way because it's contrary to YOUR will."

Crazy thought. I want the will of God in my life and to flow through me, but even though this is my intention, it is plausible that I have preferences in my soul, and within my will that do not agree with my intention. I think if we are honest with ourselves, we've experienced times when we wrestle with our will to do what we know we should do.

My relational choice is to say "Yes" to my Lord and the Father's will, knowing I still operate out of some degree of imperfection. So, what do I do? Do I yield to my will or to His will in whatever form it comes? He is either Lord or He is not; not just Lord over the aspects of my soul where it aligns with my preferences, but every part.

We have to settle this choice, or we won't know what to do when our soul responds differently than what we expect. Do we trust Him and His leading and moving in our lives, to the point we will side with Him over ourselves? This is crucial, because how we hear and how we discern, is predicated upon our willingness to take this posture.

If we don't settle this matter, we can misinterpret even the voice of the Lord and the moving of His Spirit through us – through the veil of our preferences.

It's not that our desires and opinions are invalid or unimportant. But unless they are subject to Christ's Lordship, our hearts can lead us astray.

Do we trust the Father that even when His direction goes against our preferences, we know He is leading us in a way that not only fulfills His will, but it will ultimately result in the culmination of our call, destiny, and best design?

This appears easier when we hear His voice through our minds and then we can make a choice. We often prefer when His leading runs through our logical framework and it makes sense to us, and we have choice based on our logic.

I would suggest His full work in us cannot be accomplished when we limit Him to this one avenue of action.

We often see in scripture where Jesus was moved with compassion. The motivation came first from His spirit through His heart, His emotions, then through the other functions of his soul. It didn't originate in His logical center.

Again, do we want to limit His work to what we can cognitively define, or are we willing to say "yes" before we understand? This means He could lead us, flow through us, in a variety of ways of His choosing, before our minds catch up. This is how He led His disciples, understanding came later or sometimes not at all.

Our spirit man can become enriched in Christ; fortified, strengthened, stretched, challenged, empowered, mantled, anointed, all before we know in our soul what is going on. Then what is deposited in our spirit, from Holy Spirit, starts to work itself out and expresses itself through our soul.

We are spirit first, then flesh. Our soul connects both realities, but one side or the other must lead. What leads you? What has the most influence over your soul? We may say, my soul is in charge, but this isn't really the way it's supposed to work. If our soul is in charge, it sounds a lot like the tree of the knowledge of good and evil where we get to decide what is right or wrong. If we desire to walk according to the Spirit of God, we will need to give preference to His leading, and the life in the spirit, our spirit (in union with Him), over our flesh.

One of the kingdom objectives of our journey is that we increasingly choose spirit over flesh and that our soul learns how to do this. Our mind, will, and emotions can learn and can be taught to draw from the spirit over the flesh. This is part of the process we walk through as Christ leads us into maturity in Himself. Even Jesus said, "I do nothing except what I see my Father do," showing us, His earthly walk was subject to direction from a source other than Himself. He learned to take this posture as He matured in the Father so that when He entered His earthly ministry He was in perfect alignment with the Father. After John baptized Him and He entered the wilderness for 40 days, His response to satan's temptation bears this out.

To be sure, this is also not something we can do ourselves, it is a gift of grace, the Word made flesh in us, but we must still choose.

To be a bit more transparent, the Father is moving me in a direction, and I don't feel prepared in the way I'd "prefer." My preference is to understand, have my assets (internal and external) in place, then move on a clear path that I see before me that also resonates with what I sense within me.

But this isn't the way it's happening. The Lord also isn't using words to say, "Move in this direction." He is literally moving me in a direction, and at first, I don't even know what direction that is. Once I am on the road to a new location, slowly I start to comprehend the direction He is taking me, and my mind simply has to "get over it" and yield. My emotions will need to also give way to the Spirit of God and learn to trust. My will is going to have to realize it doesn't rule the roost and that it operates in proper alignment when it responds to the life of God, not dictates to the life of God.

All of the above goes for the big blocks of life; His will in my life, but it also goes for the most subtle "ways" of God, the "ways" of the Spirit.

You see, I have choice. We have choices. We pray and we worship, and we ask for more of God, more of His leading, but this is how it comes, in ways we don't expect.

The Lord chooses His best "will" and His best "way" in our lives to help us become all we've been created to be, which also happens to integrate perfectly with His divine plan.

Let's choose to give Him more space this year, to lead us in ways that are beyond the box of our preference. Trust me, this will lead to the greatest acceleration of your spiritual walk that you could experience.

It's like taking the training wheels off your spiritual life and learning to walk by faith, in ways that you may have never known were a part of the journey. One where we truly give Him control over the journey that gets us there.

The Father wants to connect you to a reality that exists only in Him; one that is unshakable, that is overflowing with rest, milk, and honey; letting Him lead, especially in ways we don't understand, as He starts to unwind the training we've received from this world and aligns us with a reality that only He can administrate.

Note: Sometimes, we prefer the exciting words that speak of what God is doing - the world events, the wealth transfer, healings, notable names, miracles on the way. I enjoy these words as well, but God loves us more than we realize. He doesn't just want to scratch our itch for the headlines that prove His Kingdom is advancing or life is getting easier. He wants us to keep step with what He is doing and become a part of His advancing Kingdom. He wants His friends by His side, not cheering from a distance. The invitation is to embrace continuous transformation, if we are going to go beyond armchair Christianity and become a vital part of what He is doing today and in the years ahead. He is going to accelerate, and we want to accelerate with Him, so this will require the transformation of our nature into aspects of His nature: the ongoing formation of Christ. Much of what is coming is beyond our current understanding; the mysteries in Christ yet to be revealed.

COEUR D'ALENE—A REGION OF LIGHT
BARRY WUNSCH, RED DEER, ALBERTA

Word received on November 28, 2025:

Recently, as I was preparing for a trip to come to America, I was taken into the spirit, and I was shown a couple of things.

What I saw was like a bolt of lightning that came out of the heavenly realm, and it was like the glory of God. Now, a lightning bolt is usually just a short flash of energy that quickly comes and quickly goes, but that's not what I saw. What I saw was this bolt of lightning that when it struck the region, it remained with the most powerful flow of energy you have ever seen! Now, for full disclosure, the region that I saw being hit was the Coeur D'Alene, Idaho region.

What I saw next was extremely interesting! As this glory of God hit the region, I watched it as if it went through a prism. And just as a prism takes that light and breaks it down into the full-frequency spectrum of light, I watched these colorful beams come out of the region and literally impact the world for the glory of God.

I don't say this lightly: What I see being released from hidden places in this region will be released in the season ahead for freedom and Kingdom ways and purposes to God's people, not only in America the beautiful, but throughout the world. The Father has had His hand on this region, and it is somewhat hidden and off the radar, and that is what makes it so beautiful. For He will get the glory. It will be done by His power and might and by His divine hand upon those He has called to steward what is coming. What I saw was beyond physical healing and deliverance; this, in fact, was going to bring healing and deliverance to the nations!

I will go as far as to say, this region will be used greatly to even rebuild the seven mountains throughout the nations for the glory of God! Along with this, I will also add that God is preparing His people and bringing a shift within them, and there is a movement that He is pouring out to bring His kids into full, loving union with Him. Many are feeling like they are in a spin, not sure of what they believe anymore, as much of what they have done has not worked out as they had hoped or expected. So, the Lord is going through great lengths to strip away false belief systems from us and getting us, once again, on the foundation that is based on Him and Him alone. And that is His union message.

It is not about our works and performance; it is not going to come with our kicking and spurring. It comes as we surrender to Him and His love. It comes as we rest and obey Him. It doesn't come by being with the "who's who." It comes through intimacy with Him.

I can tell you GOOD THINGS are coming! I can tell you that THINGS ARE OPERATIONAL! I believe we are being prepared to steward what is coming in a new way. The wealth transfer is coming, but who among you is ready for it? Who among you has the purity of heart and spirit to steward it?

Let us be a people that closes every door in our heart and life that the enemy has in us. The enemy uses our pride and our ego. Often the enemy will use our orphan mindset (not orphan spirit) to take us out—our need for approval, our need for attention. These things will drive our bus out of an unhealthy position or posture, and the enemy will tip us over.

The Lord came and showed us a great way to lead. And that is in humility. He tied a towel around His waist and washed the feet of His disciples. That is how to lead. We are being called higher, and that comes with some responsibilities. At military boot camp, the alarm goes at 6 A.M. For the generals, the alarm goes at five or earlier. There is much more required from them.

We should not be surprised that there will be more required from us. So let us lead by example. Let us press into the Lord and follow Him and His ways!

IN CONCLUSION

I encourage everyone to go to the Elijah List website as well as each author to see a complete list of the works of each contributor. The Prayer Guide is just that, a daily devotional consisting of the WORD OF GOD as well as prophetic insight from multiple contributors reposted for HIS Glory. The Republic and Pastor Wade Butler do not make or receive any compensation for this publication, as this work is just passing on the great insight of so many contributors.

Again, I want to give special thanks to all who contributed to this devotional prayer guide: The Amplified, King James, and Passion versions of the WORD of GOD were used in this study. Words of Prophecy from Inspiration Ministries, Judaism 101, The Elijah List, Wikipedia, Bible Gateway, Rabbi Tziporeh Heller, Rabbi Dov Ber Pinson, Sefer Yetzirah, Menachem Posner, Bob & Remy Koch, Nate & Christy Johnston, Amanda Grace, Veronika West, Lana Vawser, Bruce and Linda Dietler, Sara Whitten, Roma Waterman, Bill Pagaran, Dr. Scott Reece, John & Janet Rockwell, Wade & Frances Butler, Tim Sheets, Tanya White. Dutch Sheets, Francis Frangipane, Julie Green, Crystal G.H. Lowery, Terry Friesen, Will Meier, Pat Francis, Steve Backlund, Barry Wunsch, Lorilei Cooley.

Blessings and enjoy, Dr. Wade K. Butler

I want to encourage everyone to read the WORD of GOD daily and set a goal to read through the Bible every year, again, "Study to show yourself approved."

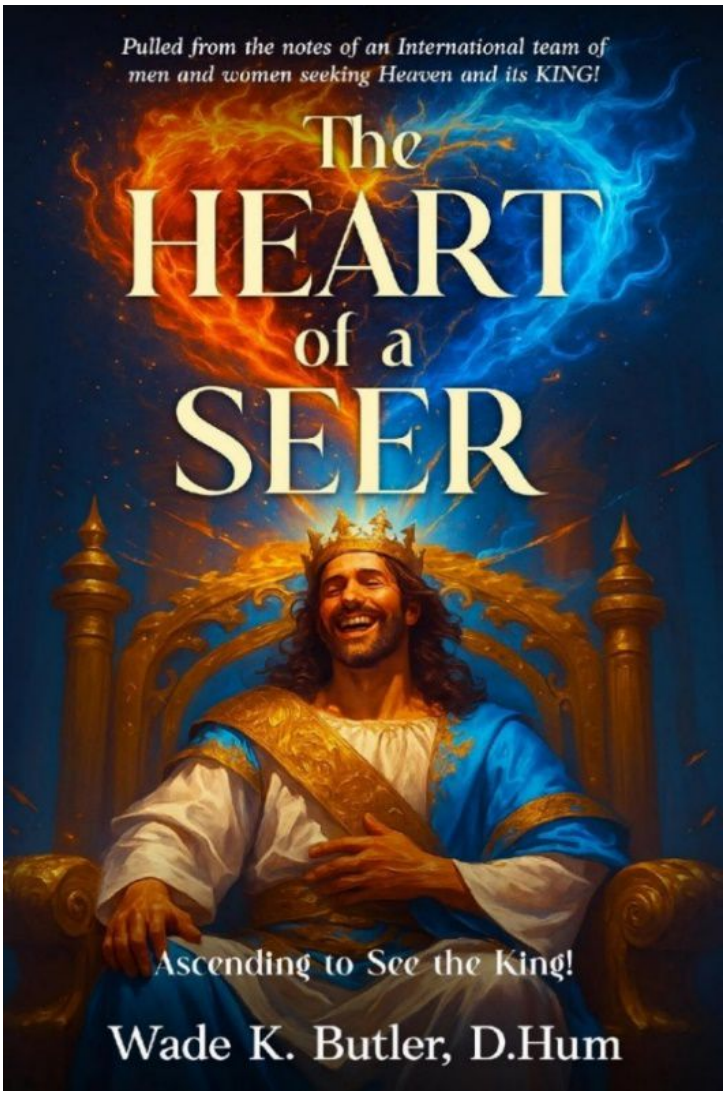

"The Heart of a Seer: Ascending to meet the King."

This is a book of Visions, Words of Knowledge and Testimonies derived from the journals of an international team of intercessors consisting of Apostles, Prophets, Pastors, Teachers, Seers and intercessors. It highlights just a sampling of the many hundreds of visitations, words, and prayers we have experienced over the past several years as related by me, Wade Butler, a Pastor, Chaplain, and Seer, a Revelator.

Most importantly, we are all intercessors; called to the front lines to help plow the way of victory for the sons and daughters of Christ. This is not just about my journey, but includes highlights of leaders from the four corners of the earth. There are so many stories to tell. This publication only begins to share that which we have seen and experienced. I now understand when John said in John 21:25 And there are also many other things which Jesus did. If they should all be recorded one by one [in detail], I suppose that even the world itself could not contain (have room for) the books that would be written. There are not enough adequate words to describe the beauty, the GLORY, or the LOVE that will permeate your very being when you enter the presence of the King. I pray you will enjoy our journey.

Several of the comments from readers:

- Wade Butler's book is truly anointed. I could barely get through it without crying on every page, it resonated with me in such a way, it made a nig impact on me. I think Abba for connecting me to Wade's book. It's written with such visual detail, you feel like you're right there with him in Heaven. This book has blessed me. I am sure it will bless you too. Love and prayers to all who are led to read this book, in Yeshua's mighty name, Amen. AR
