PCA wins “Political Partner of the Year” Award from Operation: Cigars for Warriors

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Ocala, FL – Operation: Cigars For Warriors announced today that 2024’s “Political Partner of the Year” award was awarded to the Premium Cigar Association \(PCA\) for their efforts in collaborating with CFW and other industry organizations to address the challenging regulatory and political environment facing the industry. The award was presented live on stage at the PCA Trade Show in New Orleans, LA (pictured right: PCA’s Joshua Habursky and Scott Regina with CFW’s Trey Boring)

“2024 has seen a dramatic evolution in our relationship with PCA, which has been a force multiplier for our joint progress towards establishing a constructive dialogue with lawmakers and regulators in Washington DC,” said Storm Boen, Chairman and CEO of Operation: Cigars for Warriors. “We are extremely proud to partner with PCA and other organizations to benefit our common interests, and the interests of American cigar enthusiasts, especially those serving our country overseas.”

Joshua Habursky, Executive Director of PCA said: “The PCA is humbled and honored to receive an award from Cigars for Warriors. CFW is a premier charity in the cigar industry and to receive this recognition helps further our mission. We look forward to working with CFW for many years to come in future collaborations.”

Operation: Cigars for Warriors is a registered 501(c)3 charity operating nationwide whose mission is to provide premium cigars and cigar accessories to US troops serving in active combat zones.
