

RASMUSSEN
UNIVERSITY

ChildCareEd Students:

Make a Greater Difference with an Affordable Degree

Qualified teachers could earn an ECE Associate's degree for around $10,800!¹

With Rasmussen University, qualified ChildCareEd students could earn their ECE Associate's degree for around $10,800:¹

- Earn up to 30 credits by successfully completing up to eight self-directed assessments to prove you don't need to take a particular course
- Obtain a course waiver for up to 12 credits for already having your CDA[™] credential

Finish in as few as 18 months, or as few as 15 months if you have your CDA.² Save up to 35% on your ECE Bachelor's degree, or up to 20% on all other qualifying programs.³

If you're ready to make an even greater difference in the lives of children, Rasmussen University is ready to help you, every step of the way.

Plan for Your Next Step

Rasmussen University will help you get started and keep going, with transfer credit options, student support, and faculty who want to see you succeed. Online courses provide essential knowledge in child development and valuable skills for the workplace, as well as a streamlined path toward your ECE Bachelor's degree.⁴

Learn more at rasmussen.edu/ChildCareEd or text ChildCareEd to 96194*

CDA and Child Development Associate are registered trademarks of the Council for Professional Recognition.

¹ Tuition for the ECE Associate's degree program is $218 per credit for qualified students. A student who withdraws and re-enrolls will be required to pay the tuition price offered at the time of their re-enrollment. Students who receive the tuition price of $218 per credit cannot use any additional Rasmussen University discounts, grants and/or scholarships. If a student needs to retake one or more courses in the degree program, the total cost of the program will exceed $20,115. Tuition and fees and estimated time to completion assume successful completion of up to eight self-directed assessments and the 12-credit CDA waiver, totaling up to 42 credits taken off the original 90 credits, bringing the total credits to 48 and total estimated cost to $10,674. Breakdown: $10,464 in tuition (48 credits) + $210 in book fees = $10,674 in estimated tuition and fees. Program availability varies by campus and state; please see the Rasmussen University Catalog for details.

² Completion time is dependent on transfer credits accepted and the number of courses completed each term.

³ For full terms and conditions for the Corporate Alliance Grant, please visit <https://www.rasmussen.edu/tuition/>. In order to qualify for the grant, all admission requirements must be completed, and enrolling students must provide proof of eligibility by submitting proof of employment. Students cannot receive both corporate and military grants. For additional details visit: rasmussen.edu/tuition/.

⁴ Graduates of Early Childhood Education programs at Rasmussen University are not eligible for licensure as a teacher in an elementary or secondary school. A Bachelor's degree and a state teaching license are typically required to work as a teacher in a public school and some private school settings. States, municipalities, districts or individual schools may have more stringent licensing requirements. Students must determine the licensure requirements in the state and school in which they intend to work. Childcare facilities and the states in which they are located establish qualifications for staff who work with children and often implement guidelines regarding age, education, experience and professional development. Students must determine the licensure requirements for the state and facilities in which they work. This program has not been approved by any state professional licensing body, and this program is not intended to lead to any state-issued professional license. For further information on professional licensing requirements, please contact the appropriate board or agency in your state of residence.

*Text messaging Terms and Conditions apply. Visit corporate.rasmussen.edu/sms for full details.