Looking for a way to support your SaddleBrooke neighbors? Join Senior Village's 400 volunteers who live the motto "neighbors helping neighbors." We promote independence and well-being among our 2,000 members through various programs and services. Immediate volunteer opportunities are available in the areas of data entry, dispatch, event coordination, forms/documents, drivers, home technology, photographers, SaddleBag Notes newspaper delivery coordination and writers. Ideal volunteers have computer skills, regular availability, and empathy for older adults. To begin the application process, visit www.seniorvillage.org/volunteer. For more info, contact Volunteer Coordinator Mary Toth at mary.toth@seniorvillage.org or (520) 314-1042, press 4.

Special Deliveries!

SENIOR VILLAGE
Neighbors Helping Neighbors in SaddleBrooke

If the volunteers delivering Saddlebag Notes look like your neighbors, you're not imagining things. Despite busy schedules, more than 100 dedicated volunteers trek across SaddleBrooke on the last Friday of each month to deliver Saddlebag Notes on behalf of Senior Village.

Be sure to wave hello next time you see them hard at work!

David has fifty years of experience playing the guitar and singing a variety of musical styles.

Susie comes to SaddleBrooke with three decades of experience singing for the Anchorage Concert Chorus. She is classically trained and has been singing for over forty years.

Together, David and Susie enjoy performing Folk, Pop, Jazz and Blues standards, and they really appreciate the SaddleBrooke audiences!
