Humans of JFS

A single dad who's a recovering addict...

A Chai House resident who writes daily quotes to inspire others...

An asylum seeker who hadn't seen her son in 15 years...

A senior who lived through World War II bombings...

A 6-year-old girl who loves the Barbie doll she received from Embrace-A-Family...

A refugee who had her first child at 14 years old...

These are just some of the Humans of JFS – a showcase of people who are part of the JFS family, giving you a glimpse into their lives through their own words and pictures.

According to Allison Zur, JFS' Development Manager who created the program, "Humans of JFS is a way of personalizing the impact and the work of Jewish Family Services. It's the story of people helping people." We interviewed Allison to find out more.

Why Humans of JFS?

This is an agency that works with so many people and I wanted to show everyone in our community what we do through their stories.

What are you enjoying about the "Last month, I saw my husband and my son for the first time in 15 years."

project?

Every single interview inspires me so much and reminds me why I'm here. Hearing how we helped someone and who they are makes me enjoy the work and appreciate everything I do. I get so excited to share their story with others.

Everyone has a story. People open up and say things that you wouldn't expect.

I'm reminded that we can't judge a person based on their so-called title.

You get a totally different side when you sit down and connect. I have great conversations and make so many connections. I interviewed a dad who overdosed on drugs, a refugee from Syria and we bond over what they appreciate now - their values of family, tradition and community. Everyone has a story that makes me want to learn more.

Who are you interviewing?

I've interviewed eight people so far: Holocaust survivors, recently-arrived refugees, isolated seniors, counseling clients, war veterans and more. The most important thing is someone who is open to speaking and who doesn't mind having their story shared.

I would also love to meet with some of our 700 volunteers, Board, staff, and donors to show more faces of JFS.

From Our President

We Were Once Slaves in Egypt

Joseph Isaacson, M.D.

Soon we will be celebrating Passover, a time when family and friends gather around the seder table to recount the time when the Hebrews left Egypt. We eat traditional foods, sing songs we have known since childhood and get tipsy drinking four glasses of wine. I like to remember the seders of my youth. At the table were my immediate family and the families of other Holocaust survivors. Unfortunately, my extended family perished in the war, so the other survivors became my family. We all loved one another and relished our time together.

Were the Hebrews immigrants a people simply choosing to resettle and leave the country of their birth? No, they were forced to leave, they were refugees escaping tyranny. They were slaves without rights, constantly oppressed, forced to flee Egypt.

Bring it to the present day, sitting in our comfortable living rooms. Our world is filled with terrible places, where people are unable to live in their home country for fear for their lives and the lives of their children. We hear of the sacrifices that refugees and asylees make while trying to find a better life.

Imagine how one feels arriving in San Jose from thousands of miles away, having been vetted by the State and other federal Departments no less than 25 times, beset by delays related to our nation's current policies. Exhausted, typically speaking little English, arriving in a place they have heard about their whole lives, probably disoriented, relieved to have made it this far. Strangers in a strange land.

JFS SV is proud to serve our local refugee community. As the sole resettlement agency in Santa Clara County, it is our mission to empower individuals and families facing life's challenges. We welcome new arrivals with open arms as they get a fresh start in America. We teach them vocational English, we provide monetary assistance, food and shelter for three months. Most are able to manage on their own relatively quickly; many continue to receive our case management and assistance for years, as needed, as they settle in. I am honored to be a part of an agency where we give people fresh starts and new beginnings.

When we hear of people trying to come to the U.S. from war torn areas, please keep their plight in mind. Put yourself in their shoes because "we were once slaves in Egypt" - we too were refugees. Become part of our volunteer team and help our new arrivals, people who need our help.

I wish you all of you and your families a very happy Passover and a chag sameach!

Joe

Executive Director's Message

Bringing Our Community Together

Mindy Berkowitz

Dear Friends,

Periodically I'm asked, "Who does Jewish Family Services help?" I typically launch into my explanation that attempts to cover the gamut of services we provide, and the people who benefit from them. Recently our Development Manager Allison Zur, came up with a great idea to make the answer to this question come alive – and thus, Humans of JFS was "born." We soft-launched the project at Good Morning JFS! and now are bringing it here to you, our supporters, to see more of the faces of JFS. Allie and I would love to know what you think of this project – and if you'd like to be part of it.

What a great morning we had at Good Morning JFS! Along with all the lovely compliments our guests bestowed upon us, we discovered that this event is a great way to bring the community together. As one person said, "JFS not only helps people, it sparks friendships." Another told us, "Besides enjoying the event I found and spoke to my boss, an old friend, and a neighbor from 33 years ago! It was like a mini reunion." Read more about Good Morning JFS! on page 8.

We need your help. JFS is now the only agency resettling refugees in Santa Clara County. We need help finding housing for newly arranged refugee individuals as well as families. Please call Azita (408) 357-7425 or turn to page 7 for more information.

Do you need our help? JFS has begun a partnership with Next Door Solutions to Community Violence and is beginning a relationship support group for women who've lived with domestic violence. Please call Sandra (408) 357-7457 or turn to page 6 for more information.

Tour JFS – and learn all about us. Each spring we hold agency tours that we customize to fit your interests. Please call Lori (408) 357-7467 or turn to page 5 for more information.

And finally, I wish you joy during our springtime holiday that commemorates freedom and reminds us that we were strangers in a strange land – and so we must care for others.

Happy Passover, chag Pesach semeach, a zissen Pesach to you!

B'shalom,
Mindy

JFS SV: Repairing Our World

HUMANS OF JFS

What are you learning?

I need to be very respectful and come with an open ear, no expectations – and no agenda. I let the people I interview steer the conversation. Sometimes it's really hard because there are topics that are too painful to discuss. Some of the refugees we work with can't talk about their past because they're still so scared – and I couldn't go there. I have to know when to hold back.

Since Good Morning JFS! people have been touched by this program and tell me how they're realizing that we do more than help refugees and want to support our work in those areas.

What messages are you hearing from the Humans of JFS?

I'm learning how appreciative our clients are. JFS means family to them – that comes up all the time. Also, our clients feel really empowered by telling their stories.

If someone wants to be interviewed and photographed, what should they do?

Contact me (408.357.7491 or allisonz@jfssv.org) and we'll set up a meeting. I will only post something that the person approves.

Final thoughts?

Sometimes it's hard to tell our story in a quick elevator pitch. This is a very personalized taste of what Jewish Family Services does. Each Human of JFS features one quote – but it's a whole story behind each person. It reminds us that everyone has a story to tell.

JFS Secures Grant for Holocaust Survivors

Through JFS SV's partnership with JPAC – a California coalition of Jewish organizations that advocate for community concerns and broadly shared values – we together helped secure $3.6 million in grants for six Jewish Family Service agencies across California – including ours - to provide support for elderly Holocaust Survivors struggling to live out their days in dignity. Over the next two years, with this additional support, we're going to help local Holocaust survivors even more than we do now.

JFS @ Chai House

Sumi and Merlene enjoy a laugh at Chai House.

The JFS staff team at Chai House is enjoying springtime with the many residents. Our groups - Expressive Arts, Conversation Box, Life Memories, Walking Group, Effective Communications – continue to be highlights.

We also feature workshops such as Communicating with People with Memory Impairment, Applying for Supplemental Food from Second Harvest Food Bank, and Public Safety, that are well-attended and appreciated.

Back by popular demand, later this month, JFS is hosting the Congregation Etz Chaim Mitzvah Singers choir. There will be great snacks and lots of opportunities to sing along.

The JFS office at Chai House is open Monday through Friday and can be reached at (408) 947-7256.

Happy Passover from Lisa, Sumi, Caroline and Lindsey at Chai House!

Relationship Support Group for Women

JFS is starting a new group with Next Door Solutions to Domestic Violence. In this support group, you will learn how to:

- Communicate effectively
- Create and participate in healthy relationships
- Recognize abusive behaviors and the signs of trauma in yourself and your children
- Build self-acceptance and self-confidence.
- Develop a safety plan
- Create a better life for yourself and your family
- Gain value from the experiences of other women who are handling intimate partner issues similar to your own

JFS SV Needs Host Families for Temporary Housing Frequently Asked Questions

We resettle refugees who need temporary (1-2 month) housing. These are people who don't have a U.S. tie. We are hoping that you will open your hearts and homes.

What type of accommodations do they need? They need their own bedroom and bathroom.

Who are these people, and have they been screened? These are recently-arrived refugees from around the world who have gone through rigorous vetting.

Why should I open my home to a stranger? As Jews, we were once strangers in a strange land. The Torah tells us 36 times that we should welcome the stranger.

May I speak with someone who has already hosted? Yes, we will connect you with a current/past host family.

Will I need to do everything for these clients? No, they will be case-managed by JFS SV staff. They will go to JFS for ESL classes and for support to find a job.

Can I be compensated? Yes, we will compensate for your increased utilities.

Do they speak English? In most cases they can communicate with you in English.

What if I have company coming? We will find a place for them to stay temporarily.

Where are they from? All over the world but mostly from Iran and Afghanistan

Will I be trained about what to do? Yes, JFS SV staff will train you.

What will I need to do? Provide a safe place for them to stay upon arrival.

Did you know: JFS SV is the only agency resettling refugees in Santa Clara County.

Are there other ways I can help? Yes, you can become a volunteer driver or mentor, join our housing task force, or contribute toward refugee rent.

If you can help, please contact Azita Eshagh, Refugee Resettlement Coordinator: azitae@jfssv.org, (408) 357-7457

Melina and Mindy Berkowitz prepare to take the stage at Good Morning JFS! JFS resettled 6-year-old Melina's family last year. She didn't know a word of English when she arrived; now she is fluent and thriving in school.

What a Great Morning It Was!

Here's what some of our 375 guests had to say:

"Real people made it real – sign me up to help!"

"We loved having all the kids there."

"The highlighted JFS recipient is always such a meaningful part of the program. JFS helps such a broad spectrum of people"

"I was Impressed by the number of people - and how many I knew."

We're still counting but our initial results make it clear that once again this was truly our best fundraiser ever! A heartfelt thank you to our table hosts, sponsors, speakers, volunteers, staff and – of course – our guests for making it the place to be in the morning.

We're already starting to plan Good Morning JFS! 2020. Contact

Allison (408.357.7491 or allisonz@jfssv.org) if you'd like an invitation, or to become a table host or sponsor.
