Message from the CEO & Board Chair

To all who share in this mission,

Dear Friends,

This past year has been transformative for World Pediatrics, with the incredible milestone of providing specialized care to 25,000 children in our 25-year history. These services represent more than $250 million in care. Despite shifts in philanthropy this past year, we met or surpassed our goals. We now look ahead to serving more children in less time and with even greater impact.

World Pediatrics will celebrate its 25th anniversary during fiscal '26, formally launching on September 25, 2025, at a special United Nations General Assembly side event with the Prime Minister of St. Vincent and the Grenadines.

These 25 years represent more than clinical care. They symbolize the trust of families, the dedication of medical volunteers, and the generosity of those who believe every child deserves access to life-saving and life-changing healthcare.

As you see in our annual report, the impact of this past fiscal year tells its own story. More than 3,400 children received specialized care across 23 countries, with over 1,300 surgeries and 6,600 medical services delivered. We mobilized 88 traveling teams, extending specialty care to children who might otherwise have gone without. Nearly 2,600 medical professionals were trained, completing over 31,000 hours of instruction. Health systems were strengthened through hospital partnerships to increase capacity and ensure knowledge takes root where it is needed most.

We also invested in building a stronger future by expanding local and regional capacity. This allows us to reallocate resources and teams to new areas of need. Fundraising is also growing at the regional level through community engagement and agreements with government agencies. This approach deepens local ownership and expands opportunities for growth.

We are creating stronger foundations for sustainable pediatric health systems. In the U.S., we are expanding momentum in Atlanta, GA and the Triangle, NC. Guatemala and Honduras continue to grow their reach, while in the Eastern Caribbean, partnerships with the Organization of Eastern Caribbean States and new institutional collaborations strengthen our presence.

Our financial health reflects the same commitment to strength and trust. With $31.7 million in total revenue, including gifts in kind, and 88% directed to program services, we continue to steward every gift with care. This is especially meaningful given the expenses related to the complexity of our work. Our financial resilience allows us to expand boldly while ensuring sustainability.

The start of fiscal '26 marks both our 25th anniversary and an inflection point. This is a moment to recognize and honor those who brought us here, celebrate the children and families we have served, and chart the future.

Our goal remains to serve more children in less time and with greater impact. Guided by our values—Kids First, Equitable Access, Shoulder-to-Shoulder Partnership, Innovation, and Rooted in Community—we prepare for a new era of scale and impact, holding fast to the belief that to heal a child is to change the world.

The needs before us are immense, but the opportunities greater still. With the unity of our staff, partners, volunteers, and supporters, we will carry World Pediatrics into its next quarter century with determination, compassion, and unwavering focus on the children at the center of it all.

With deepest gratitude,

Vafa Akhavan
CEO, World Pediatrics

Dr. Brown
Chair, Board of Directors, World Pediatrics

Our Mission

Our mission is to heal more children, in less time, by transforming access to advanced pediatric healthcare.

We strive to provide every child, regardless of their location, with the care they need to thrive.

Our core values guide everything we do:

A Legacy of Impact

As we approach our 25th year of service, we reflect on the incredible journey of World Pediatrics. From our founding to our recent name change in 2024, we've remained committed to transforming pediatric healthcare. This milestone year marks not only the success we've achieved but the bright future ahead.

Together with our partners, volunteers, and donors, we're creating a future where every child has access to life-changing care.

Strategic Direction

In FY25, we advanced our strategic focus on delivering timely care, empowering local medical communities, and transforming pediatric healthcare systems.

Deliver:

We reached more children than ever, expanding access to surgical and specialty care while maintaining high-quality outcomes. Even amid complex cases and global logistics, this increase reflects the strength of our network.

Empower:

Our training and education efforts grew significantly. By focusing not only on the number of providers trained but also on depth, we introduced new reporting measures that reflect the scale and effectiveness of knowledge-sharing. This shift helps us assess how training translates into long-term impact.

Transform:

Aligned with our long-term strategy, we reduced international referrals and traveling teams while increasing the number of children served. This reflects our commitment to stronger in-country and regional healthcare capacity. These changes signal that true transformation is underway.

FY25 marked measurable progress and change. Each step brings us closer to a future where advanced pediatric care is not a privilege, but a guarantee.

*For the purposes of this report, FY25 refers to the period from July 1, 2024 through June 30, 2025.

Meet Kahmya

At just two and a half, Kahmya from St. Vincent & the Grenadines is already showing remarkable determination. Born with spina bifida, she has faced mobility challenges since birth, yet her journey is defined by resilience and steady progress.

This year, Kahmya underwent heel cord lengthening surgery with Dr. J. Eric Gordon and was reunited with our visiting physical therapy team, who fitted her with a new wheelchair and stander. These tools are expanding her independence and giving her greater opportunities to move, explore, and grow stronger each day.

Meet Dominique

Dominique is a bright, joyful child on the autism spectrum whose smile lights up every room. During a recent occupational therapy session, he engaged enthusiastically while his mother received practical strategies to support his development at home.

A meaningful moment came when speech and language pathologist Wendi McMillan gave him noise-cancelling headphones—a simple gift helping him navigate daily life with greater comfort and confidence.

Meet Eduardo

For Eduardo, a 10-year-old from Honduras, severe aortic insufficiency defined much of his childhood. Diagnosed as an infant, he underwent his first catheterization at just two months old and for years depended on medication and regular visits to Hospital María's Pediatric Specialties unit.

After a two-year wait, Eduardo finally received the complex cardiac surgery he needed—transforming his future. Today, he looks forward to life without constant limitations. His mother, Mileni, shared: “For five years, we’ve traveled for his appointments. Now, we trust he won’t need medication anymore.”

Meet Stanly

Stanly, from Huehuetenango, Guatemala, was born with frontal encephalocele, a rare condition where brain tissue protrudes through the skull. In a country without a public pediatric hospital, children with serious conditions often face years-long waits for surgery.

Through World Pediatrics and a partnership with the World Craniofacial Foundation, Stanly received complex surgery in Bogotá, Colombia. Today, he’s home recovering—surrounded by his parents and little brother, ready to grow, play, and thrive.

United States Region

In the U.S. Region, World Pediatrics provides specialized surgical care for children whose complex conditions cannot be treated at home. Through a network of partner hospitals and surgeons, patients are connected to care and supported throughout their journey.

Meet Malik

Twelve-year-old Malik from St. Lucia was struck by a trailer tire after jumping from a moving vehicle, leaving him with a fractured pelvis, broken femur, and ruptured bladder.

After initial surgery at home, he traveled to St. Louis Children's Hospital, where Dr. Douglas Coplen performed a complex procedure to reconnect his bladder and urethra.

Remarkably, just days before surgery, he competed in his school's track and field event—earning gold and silver medals. His resilience and determination embody the strength and hope that inspire us every day.

Meet Elisabet

Elisabet, a 12-year-old from Honduras, was born with brittle bone disease, a rare condition that has caused 64 fractures. Despite this, she faces each challenge with resilience and creativity.

During treatment in Philadelphia, the Ronald McDonald House became a haven where she could laugh, play, and simply be a kid.

Featured on our podcast, she shared her love of art, dream of becoming a graphic designer, and how support from her family and World Pediatrics gives her strength.

Elisabet's mom, Fanny, is one of World Pediatrics Honduras' reps and she uses her own inspiration to help other children.
