

PANDA PACK STORIES

EPISODE 1

8.10.17

Last Thursday, we (Margaret Skulnik and Anita Sherer) were making our rounds through South Graham Elementary School, delivering PANDA Packs to classrooms so that teachers could distribute them to identified students on Friday morning.

As we entered one of the classrooms carrying a PANDA Pack, the teacher greeted us, saying, “Oh, good! Thank you!” She went on to explain that on the previous Friday, a little boy in her class had asked her, “Do I get my food today?” Since school had only been in session a few days, the teacher knew that the program had not yet started. “Oh, he will be so glad to get this!” she said with a bright smile.
