

BEST YET 2 LITER SODA all flavors

Are temporarily out of stock due to supplier production issues

We are working closely with our supplier to resolve the situation

We will not be shipping out any ad or trade show product until we are back in stock in all DC's

Please see the communication below from our supplier

5-6-2022

We recently moved the 2 Liter package to a different manufacturing line within our facility. This move was made in an effort to improve long term efficiencies within the company. Having 2 Liter on the different line, with a larger filler, will help with resupply.

Unfortunately, with the move, and subsequent first production cycle, our output was no where near what we expected. We did feel as though we had needs covered, but it appears we have fallen short.

We do not envision a similar situation occurring again, as we are working diligently to rectify the situation, and should have things back to normal in 2-3 weeks.

We apologize for this short term out of stock situation.

Sincerely,

Your Best Yet soda supplier
