

ALL THINGS BLOOM PODCAST

Media Kit

ALL THINGS BLOOM

This monthly podcast serves as a beacon of hope, shedding light on the pressing issue of human trafficking and inspiring action towards meaningful change. In addition to real conversations about trafficking, we will share survivor stories, discuss different aspects of the recovery path for trafficking survivors, talk about working and volunteering at Bloom, and so much more. We will also have guest speakers that will join our team to share their expertise with us.

By partnering with us as a podcast sponsor, you'll have the opportunity to align your brand and/or yourself with a cause that truly matters, reaching a dedicated audience eager to support initiatives that make a difference. Your sponsorship not only supports the production of our podcast but also contributes to the fight against modern-day slavery. Together, we can amplify our impact and create a world where exploitation is no longer tolerated. Join us in this crucial mission. Together, let's turn the tide against trafficking.
