

Sacred RECKONINGS

"The Sacred Reckonings training created a community of trust within which to explore the [Sacred Reckonings Guide] and prepare to do the work has provided a much-needed foundation to begin. I highly recommend Sacred Reckonings to all who wish to move from education to sustainable action for racial repair.

Joan Howe-Pullis

Director of Justice Ministries, Pax Christi Catholic Community
Eden Prairie, MN

A process for predominantly and historically White churches to engage in healing and repair work with Black and Indigenous communities

WHAT IS THE TRAINING?

The Sacred Reckonings training offers practical organizing tools and exercises with real-time feedback in the context of an interconnected reparations framework. You will build a community of practice and accountability within the cohort to support your work long-term.

WHY?

Christian churches are called to reckon with histories of colonization and White supremacy that traumatized and have broken lives, bodies, relationships, and Earth.

Sacred Reckonings is a holistic process teaching that reparation is more than just dollars. It includes truth-telling, spiritual practice, relationship, political solidarity, alongside wealth return

It is both heavy and joyful to begin to heal and repair these harms and we are called to do it in community.

NEXT STEPS

Register for an upcoming cohort

Host an introductory workshop in your community

sacred-reckonings-staff@googlegroups.com

Schedule a 1:1 with a Sacred Reckonings Organizer