HOW IT WORKS

- The program is staffed 24/7 to keep a safe environment and community
- Your living space is shared with a roommate, and you are both responsible for the cleanliness and upkeep
- Every program participant must be working towards gaining employment or continuing education
- Furniture and meals are provided at no cost
- To help you learn to budget your income and save, there is a program fee once employment is secured - decided based on your income level
- We work with you to transition out of the program on time, into stable housing and sustainable employment
- You will work one-on-one with a case manager who will offer resources for drug and alcohol recovery, domestic violence counseling, or healing from traumatic experiences – based on need
