

The Torch Run, created by Mayor Judy Jordan Johnson, has featured runners from many Gwinnett high schools carrying the torch through a path of historic sites from the county's history as a reminder that our youth must be acquainted with our historic past in order to run boldly and wisely into our future.

This was the second leg run exclusively by these daring DHS runners. Dalina Tran is the official DHS torch bearer, and she ran the kick-off leg last December, as well as the two DHS legs where she was joined by teammates from the Ladies Cross Country and Track and Field teams. The final portion of this run will take place on December 15, 2018.
